points;
First, Incontestible after two years.
Second. Non-forfeitable after three years.
Third. Freedom of residence and occupation after one year.
Fourth Psysable from date of issue.
Fifth. Secures Tontine profits after a fixed time. Sixth. Choice of six most favorable settlements.

The Equitable has done more to simplify life insurance than any other company, hence the confidence imposed in it by the people. They know that should they die their insurance will be paid to their family immediately. To this fact more than any other is due the immense new business written each year by the Equitable. It has the confidence of the people, because it has always lived up to its premises.

THE SAME OLD STORY-TAILORING! Fine custom tailoring can be done at a low price—if enough be done to afford it, and I am doing enough to afford it. Yet I depend more upon fine work than upon low prices. The man who once has a suit or pair of trousers made for him by a tailor who understands his business will never again wear ready-made clothes. I have made a good many converts of this kind this season.

GOVERNMENT RECEIPTS TODAY .- Internal revenue, $866,821; customs, $973.957.

GEN. NETTLETON, assistant secretary of the Treasury, has returned to Washington from a visit to Minneapolis. REVENUE APPOINTMENTS .- The Secretary of the Treasury has made the following appointments in the internal revenue service: John J. Allen, Hopkinsville, Ky., and Martin V. Tyndall, Kansas City, Mo., to be United States storekeepers and gaugers.

MOVEMENT OF SILVER .- The issue of standard silver dollars from the mints during the week ended October 25 was $1,027,995. The issue during the corresponding period of last year was $998,203. The shipments of fractional silver coin since the 1st instant amount to

$1.320.529. COMING REMOVALS IN THE CENSUS OFFICE .-The announcement that there would soon be removals from the census office was the cause of numerous tremors and not a little apprehension this morning. Everybody was willing to believe that he or she would be one of the first victims, and Superintendent Porter must not be surprised if he is the recipient of an ava-lanche of telegrams and letters from Congress-men within a day or two men within a day or two.

CHIEF CLERE CHILDS' VACATION .- Now that superintendent Porter has returned Chief Clerk Childs, who has wrestled with New York in all its fury and who is somewhat on top in the struggle, thinks he ought to take a rest. He will leave on Monday evening for New Mexico, where he has important mining interests. Some of the new machinery on his property will start up about that time, so he proposes to go down and see how it works. He will be absent about three weeks.

The fifth district, however, is what was simed at and where by far the greatest number of names have been struck off. In the district I should say 2,600 or 2,700 names have been stricken from the registration list. DEMOCRATIC LOSSES.

"I have no doubt that the democratic party had an idea that they were going to strike the republicans of the fifth district a death blow by their law, but when the names which have been cut off from the lists are counted up it will be found that the losses by this means will be just about equally divided be-tween the two parties. In the counties in the fifth directly bordering on Washington more democrats have been stricken off than republicans while in the lower counties the opposite is found. When the judges ruled that those holding federal office, those whose parents resided in the district and those who had left their famlies in the district should not be feut off from voting it resulted in a gain for the republicans. Likewise nearly all the appeals which were being heard before the circuit court were from republicans, and on account of these appeals a number of names have been put back on the lists. If the appeals are decided in a fair manner I think the new registration law will have the effect of adding 300 to the republican vote in the fifth district.

THE REST OF THE STATE. "No, the rest of the state did not suffer in now represented by Mr. Stockbridge was ger-rymandered in such a way as to leave very little hope for a republican, but rest assured I am going to be elected in the fifth." TALK ABOUT THE CENSUS. A "Star" Reporter's Chat With Super-

THE CENSUS OFFICE CAN TAKE NO ACTION IN THE NEW YORK CASE UNTIL MAYOR GRANT SENDS IN HIS TESTIMONY-THE CENSUS PORCE TO BE REDUCED.

If there is a human being in this city who could conscientiously sit for a picture of health that individual is Robert P. Porter, superintendent of the eleventh census. He was down at his office this morning in good season, revived by his trip to England, and met with a welcome that would have been fatiguing to any man not in the best physical condition. Everybody said they were glad to see him and everybody looked or seemed to look as though they were truthful up to the average. Then there were floral greetings. The division of manufactures contributed a magnificent willow vase-shaped something, which was painted white and gold and filled with roses and maiden hair fern. From the eleventh divi-sion—that which wrestles with statistical information as to tarms, homes and mortgagescame a basket of fruit; pears and grapes and apples and bananas and oranges. Individuals had also contributed to the beautiful products, which scented an atmosphere that but a few days ago was heavily laden with New York profanity of a peculiarly lurid variety, one pri-vately presented basket being noticeably lovely.

"The work of the census is moving along quite smoothly," said he to a STAR reporter who called. "Everything is progressing satisfactorily." THE NEW YORK CITY CENSUS. "What about the New York census?" queried the reporter.

"That is entirely out of my hands," replied Mr. Porter. "I have nothing whatever to do with it. The office requested Mayor Grant to produce testimony in support of his claims, but make an announcement of that fact, then get mad with the judge because testimony was demanded of him and finally say: 'I won't make my case plain; I will appeal to a higher court.'
The New York case is not a matter with which

COMING REMOVALS. "When will reductions of the census force commence? Maybe about the 1st of November, perhaps not until the 15th. The removals will be gradual and will only take place as the work lessens in quantity. I did not expect to make discharges so soon, but there was great pres-sure for place and the force has been larger than I had originally intended it should be. By the end of December there will probably be less employes by 500 than there now are At present the pay roll has 2,300 names on it." CLOSING UP THE CAMPAIGN

Confidence at Republican Headquarters-Talk of Using Money Lavishly.

News was not an article of the most extravagant abundance at the republican headquarters today. What was to be found was of a very general character. The committee are especially busy just now in closing up the campaign, mailing the final documents and putting things generally in ship-shape order for the 4th proximo. THE ALLEGED LIBELOUS ARTICLE. In the three papers mentioned there was published on Saturday morning an article which charged that Gov. Pattison had been bribed by the Vanderbilts to sign what were known as the South Penn bills of 1883, and that the governor sought out and retained ex-Judge Jeremiah S. Black to write a veto message, and having received it with the understanding that it was to be sent to the legislature, he changed his mind by the next morning, and with out notice to Judge Black, approved the bills, and that Judge Black denounced Gov. Patri-son for this alleged deception and severed all amicable relations with him. The article also charged that $30,000 in stock had been paid to Gov. Pattison and Attorney General Lewis S. Cassiday for the signing of a bill chartering a Pittsburg natural gas corporation.

LONDON'S LATEST TRAGEDY. der of Mrs. Hobbs.

LONDON, Oct. 27 .- Nellie P. Piercey, the fully mutilated in a remote part of South this respect anything like this district. The witness admitted that his visits to his mistress had been privileges as to commerce with those granted the prisoner.

A TERRIBLE FIGHT. Evidence given by the police and others, who visited the residence of the woman Piercey, showed that a terrible fight must have taken place in the kitchen between the infuriated women. The windows were smashed, the furniture splashed with blood and the weapons used in the awful struggie were found with clots of blood and locks of gory hair adhering to them. It was also shown that after the commission of the crime an attempt had been made to remove the blood stains. Parafine had been employed in destroying the traces of the

this city, who has forged notes amounting to upward of $100,000, is being reviewed today by nearly every business man who had transactions with him. It is known that Robinson | the unknown villain made good his escape, went to Boston Friday afternoon, since which time his doings and whereabouts are unknown. Another fact came to light today which shows that he has pursued a criminal course for some months if not for years. In conversation with Mr. S. H. Howard, his partner, Robinson ad-mitted that within six months he had placed nearly $30,000 forged paper and had taken care of it, and if his partner would only keep quiet for a few days he would provide for the forged paper now out.

Considerable fault is found with the parties produce testimony in support of his claims, but this he has failed to do. Without such testimony the census office could take the lookout for more such transactions, but no action, and yet Mr. Grant has appealed to the Secretary of the Interior. His action in the matter would be very much like that of a lawyer who would appear in court, misdeed. Messrs. Howard and Goldthwaite admit that notes held by the Home National Bank amounting to nearly $30,000 bear their indorsements and will be met, yet the names of the makers of these said notes are forged. It is stated that the Brockton National Bank holds I have anything to do; there is nothing in it about $14,000 with Howard and Goldthwaite signatures which are forgeries. Mr. Gold-thwaite admits losing about $35,000 by these transactions and Mr. Howard has lost fully as large an amount. Several who have been quit intimate with the absconder think that losses will amount to more than $150,000.

Mr. Robinson, as clerk of the police court of this city, has not rendered an account for several months. It is thought that several crooked transactions will be unearthed. Mayor Doug-las held a consultation with Rebinson with re-gard to this matter about ten days ago, and the latter agreed to furnish a statement last Satur-day, but no account has yet been filed. Among Robinson's papers was found a carefully drawn Robinson's papers was found a carefully drawn sheet, showing some notes that are believed to be out, but where they are placed is a mystery, as opposite each entry are characters that can only be read by him. These notes amount to several thousand dollars, and some are thought to be held in Taunton and Abington. It is expected that a more definite statement will be made public today, as certain parties are expected here who will throw some light upon the deeds that Robinson has committed.

GOING BACK TO COAL Too Many Consumers of Natural Gas for the Supply.

PITTERURG, Pa., Oct. 27 .- All the iron works affected by the last order of the Philadelphia Company, shutting off natural gas from the puddling furnaces, are busy preparing for the change back to coal. Many will be ready today, but a few will have to shut down for a day or

Mr. Lindsay of the firm of Lindsay & Mc-Cutcheon says that coal is about as cheap as gas, when the frequent stoppage for lack of gas is considered and that the iron and steel made with coal are just as good as that made with gas. The Pittsburg Forge and Iron Company is changing all its puddling and scrap furnaces and will be using coal by the middle of the week. Oliver Brothers & Phillips will have their Woods Run furnaces set for coal at once. The old furnaces in this, as in other mills which were originally constructed for coal, can be transformed for coal in a short time.

It is stated that the reason for the order is not that natural gas is giving out, but that the consumption has increased more than the supply. Most of the houses in this vicinity burn this gas now. The gas companies make much more profit from them than they do from the mills, and they have not enough gas to supply sumers must go.

THE PETERS FAILURE.

Germany is not prepared for this, as her manufacturers: crippled by the loss of American trade, would speedily be crushed by the competition of the more skillful French. These negotiations must therefore necessarily fail.

Germany has also another difficulty of a commercial nature on hand with England. The English are maintaining a virtual embargo against cattle from Schlosswig-Holstein, al-though the province is notoriously free from disease. Cattle from the Danish Islands and Jutland are freely imported into England, while the chief export of the Prussian prov-ince is rigidly excluded. The motive for this is hard to understand, unless it is a remnant of the old Hanoverian dislike for Prussia. VERY NEAR DEATH. Frances Duchalk Rescued From the

The area will include many suburban villages and summer resorts. The affairs of the capital are to be administered by a town council of 129 mem-bers. The act will come into force on January 1, 1892. Vienna will then be about three times the size of Berlin in area. Some change is needed to bring back life to Vienna.
