MORE ABOUT THOSE BONDS.

The Twenty-year Endowment Bonds issued by

The Twenty-year Endowment Bonds issued by the Equitable Life Assurance Society are equally as safe as United States government bonds and much more profitable. These endowment bonds are not to be compared with real estate investments, wildcat schemes and other fluctuating stocks and securities, because the fluctuating stocks and securities, because the bonds are without any element of risk, while the others are profitable or unprofitable or a dead loss, as circumstances may direct. A man should certainly desire to feel sure about his life insurance policy, and yet how many companies flud flaws in the policies; questions answered wrongly and perhaps unintentionally, yet they selve upon the slightest pretext to context the policies or compromise them with a small cash payment. Have none of them, Take out a policy in the Equitable—the soundest and most profitable in the world—compatible with absolute surety.

THE INDIAN CRAZE.

The Exciting Situation Believed to Be Greatly Exaggerated.

INSPECTOR WRIGHT-WHAT THE RED MEN EX-PECT OF THE MESSIAH-DISAPPOINTMENT MAY, HOWEVER, MAKE THEM TROUBLESOME.

The situation of affairs among the Sioux Indians, due to the prevailing religious craze, is believed at the Indian office to be greatly exaggerated. Mr. Belt, the acting commissioner of Indian affairs, does not believe that the Indians entertain hostile designs against the whites, "Their belief in the coming of the alleged Messiah," he said to a STAR reporter this morning, "is an evidence of that It has been claimed by their medicine men that the Messiah when he comes will restore to them their former power in this country. But the Messiah is to do this, not the Indians. THE INDIANS TO REMAIN QUIET. "All that they are counseled to do is to remain quiet. Under the influence of the Messiah powder will no longer have the power to carry a builet when directed against the Indians. A great wave is going to sweep over the country, according to these predictions, burying the whites and carrying the Indians along and preserving them from harm. So you see the essential feature of this delusion rather discourages the Indians from indulging in any outbreak. There is no necessity for them to take any action of this kind, as the messiah is to do everything. It is true that ago to participate in the ghost dances. tions already adopted in sending the military to the reservations would be ample to prevent any serious outbreak. WHAT INSPECTOR WRIGHT THINKS. Mr. Wright, the Indian agent at the Rosebud agency, which is one of the centers of the present excitement, is in the city, but leaves this evening for the reservation. In his opinion, if a few of the ringleaders were locked up, the excitement would be apt to die out. He does not attribute the present trouble entirely to the religious craze, GOVERNMENT RECEIPTS TODAY.—Internal revenue, $488,804; customs, $564,308.

HOW THE RELIGIOUS CRAZE ORIGINATED. thinks contributes to the present condition of affairs, and that is the bad crops of the past year. The Indians, he says, have not raised very much grain and they are now hungry. This makes them feel ugly and desperate. He thinks that if the leaders are gotten out of the way that possibly the Indians may be quieted down and all disturbances prevented.

FROM THE MILITARY STANDPOINT. The Indian scare, as viewed from the War Department end of the line, took on a more interesting aspect this morning when the following telegram was received at the War Department from Gen. Miles at Chicago: "Reliable information has been received that the Yanktons and Gros Ventres on Upper Missouri, also those near old Fort Belknap, have unanimously adopted the Messiah craze. The latter quite ugly; that Sitting Bull has sent emissaries to these tribes and to the forty-eight lodges of Siouxs north of the British line exciting them to get arms and ammunition and join the other warriors near Black Hills in the spring. Every effort is being made to allow and restrain the turbulent. but the violent overt act of any small part of the desperate ones may cause a general uprising. The latest reports from the Northern Cheyennes is that they have abandoned the delusion. There should be no delay, however, in putting other troops than those in these two departments in proper equipment for the field."
