WON ON RANK ERRORS. The Senators Take a Fall Out of the Spiders

It was a tight squeeze, but, thanks to a huge slice of luck-which means bad luck for the other side—the Washingtons took a game from the Cleveland "Spiders" yesterday and left behind them the fatal thirteen hole in which they had been resting since last Saturday. It seemed a long time since they had taken a game. The people were beginning to think that they had forgotten how to win and the men themselves seemed bowed down and lifeless. They were under the spell of the fatal thirteen. Now they have thrown it off and will again go buoyantly forward. Nothing less than another game from the Spiders will satisfy them. They are going to wipe out the memory of those three defeats by Anson.

going to wipe out the memory of those three defeats by Anson.

To a stranger coming upon the scene of conflict yesterday it seemed as if Anson's men had missed the train and had stayed over to get some more games and fatten their batting averages. The impression was dispelled, however, when the visitors were seen at work. True they wore the gray uniforms and black stockings of the Colts, but they were as an ass in a lion's hide. Their playing lacked the accuracy and cleanness of the fielding of the Chicagos. The exhibition they made of throwing and muffing made one wonder how in the world they had attained their standing in the league race.

For the most part it was a dull game. The visitors took the lead at the start and kept it up to the ninth. Then with several timely hits, a appointed a committee to have charge of the defeats by Anson.

Elected B. H. Walled to complete the erection of the Evarts lecture hall.

Several changes were made in the faculty. Charles C. Cook of Cornell University was elected to the professorship of rhetoric and English history, to succeed Prof. Tunnell, who has resigned. Prof. Kelly Miller was made permanent professor of mathematics. Mr. Lightfoot was transferred to the preparatory department. Miss Hannah Whitcomb of Worcester, Mass., was chosen matron in place of Mrs. Kendall, who has resigned. Miss Fannie department. Miss Nettie Howe was appointed teacher of mechanical drawing, in place of Miss McCormick; resigned. Prof. Cummings, Cook and Whitcomb were appointed a committee to have charge of the

to the ninth. Then with several timely hits, a base on balls and an error the home club scored five runs, took the lead and kept it. The ninth inning was exciting. It was the only exciting period of the game, though the seventh approached it, when it looked as though Washington would tie the game.

By judicious sacrificing and timely hits the visitors brought two men across the plate in the first inning.

The Senators let three innings drift away and The Senetors let three innings drift away and in the fourth started in to make things interesting. After Donovan had gone out on a hit to Davis Duffee sent a hot liner out to right. It was good for a base, but O'Conner allowed it to get away from him and it rolled up toward the corner of the lot and Duffee made strides for the plate, which he reached in safety. Then Jack Milligan followed with a hit that cut the clover tops also out toward O'Conner Rich.

A Long Fly of Homing Pigeons.

Tomorrow there will be countermarked and clover tops also out toward O'Conner. Rich ardson hit sharply to McKean, who threw badly to first, and both runners moved ahead. With two men on base and one out it looked as though some more tallies were about due, but Killen was struck out by Pitcher Young and Dowd some more fallies were about due, but Killen was struck out by Pitcher Young and Dowd kneekeds in the the visitors' half they drew ahead a triffer more. Richardson failed to handle McKean's hit, but Radford made a sensational one-hand cath of McKean's liner, which caused great cheering. Then Zimmer hit high over Hoy's head and McKean's cored. Young and Childs, however, were retired in order.

Both sides got a man to third in the fifth, but couldn't score him.

Both sight Washington made another spurt to close the gap. Duffee dropped an artistic little-bunk between pitcher and third and reached first. Young picked up the bail and notwith standing Duffee was clearly safe, banged away at Burket and the bail wand to the built and built between pitcher and third and reached ers and Duffee was serie on second. Milligan lifted affy to left that was caught, but Duffee close, there is a considerable interest manifested in the birds, it being one of the longest roce ever the birds, it being one of the longest ro

The "lucky seventh" opened with the top man on the list at bat. The combination was a good one and Hoy took first on balls. Then

And Donovan many with the crowd yelling and waving their has and Foreman on the coaching lines, urging him on. It was too much to attempt, however, and it. A copy of a letter written by Wm. Dickson, who proposes to contest the seat of Mr. Norris in the national convention, addressed to Messrs. Norris and Davis, and suggesting a conference
t of the leaders of the two factions, was read. It was stated that in reply to this letter Mr. Norris had refused to make any concessions whatever. The committee adjourned until next growled. The bleachers are great at hind-sight criticism. Our nine would never lose a game if they knew as much before a play as the bleachers do after it. That ended our opportunity. The pext two men flew out.

The visitors thought they would take a little of the "lucky seventh" in "theirn." It's a way they have in the forest city. Burchell lifted a sharp one out to Donovan. The sun just then shifted from behind a cloud and winked his other eye at Patry and of course.

winked his other eye at Patsy and of cours the ball got away from him and Burchell scored. Then the sun went back to its bench and the next two men died at first, O'Connor on a hit past Killen, which was neatly picked up by Danny on a run and hurled to Larkin.

The Senators took the eighth to recover their hereth. But in the night came the hitting and breath. But in the ninth came the hitting and the errors that landed Washington a winner. Dowd bunted toward third and took first on Davis' fumble. Radford sent him along by a safe hit past McKean. Hoy was given first on balls. The visitors made a great kick at this, claiming that only three balls had been called, and Umpire Emslie had to appeal to the official scorer to sustain himself. Whereat the now looking at that lugubrious consolation board out by the fence. There was no need to. Dono-van now hit to McKean, forcing Hoy, but Dowd scored. Then Larkin produced one of those 18-karat beauties which he dispenses occasionally. It was in the shape of a drive to the right field fence and Radford and Donovan scored. Duffee planted his hit over McKean's head and all moved up a base. Zimmer fancied that Larkin was taking liberties with third base and hurled the ball down there to check it. It was a low throw and it glanced off over toward the left field bleachers and Larkin and Duffee And Washington had scored five runs an gained a lead of three.

This lead the visitors started to cut down their half in a very enterprising way. Childs hit to right for a base and Burket lifted the sheepskin out behind Duffee and both came home. The next three men, however, sent the ball in the air and the game was over. A tight squeeze, was it not—8 to 7? Other championship games played yesterday resulted as follows: At Philadelphia—Philadelphia, 12; Chicago, 3.

At Boston—Boston, 5; St. Louis, 1.
At Baltimore—Cincinnati, 6; Baltimore, 4.
At New Fork—Pittsburg, 7; New York, 4.
At Brooklyn—Brooklyn, 12; Louisville, 4.

Donovan is not the only fielder troubled by the sun. Today's Philadelphia Press says of vesterday's game in that city: "Dungan lost several balls at right yesterday on account of the sun."

Auson's defeat yesterday caused him to lose

Clean your Straw Hat with Pearline.

Directions. First brush out all the dirt possible. Then, with a sponge, wash the hat with the ordinary Pearline solution (in the proportion of a tablespoonful to a pail of water.) Steam it well over the nozzle of a kettle; rinse well with sponge and warm water; press into shape, and dry.

You can do all this at home at a cost of less than one penny. It's simple enough, if you have Pearline-but, with Pearline, every kind of washing and cleaning is simple.

Directions for the easiest way, on every package.

Peddlers and some unscru-Beware pulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled; if your grocer sends you an imitation, do the honest thing—send it back. 341 JAMES PYLE, New York.

CROWN AND BRIDGE WORK OR TEETH WITEOUT PLATES.

Teeth that have decayed and broken away may be operated upon by this system; crowns engrafted upon the roots given a new lease of life and made as good and serviceable in every way as natural ones. To be a success an artificial crown must be so constructed that it shall permanently arrest decay at the broken end of the root and strong enough to prevent splitting of the root or breaking loose from its attachments. We claim that our crowns have all these requirements, and when combined with bridge work, which consists in supplying teeth that have been extracted, makes the most beautiful and durable appliance ever devised as a substitute for the natural teeth; all this without a plate to cover the roof of the mouth. The advancement in dentistry has been great in the last few years.
