He Represented Venezuela at Washington, London and Paris.

Senor Jose Andrade, Venezuelan minister to Washington from 1893 to 1899 and brother of Gen. Ignacio Andrade, ex-president of Venezuela, died from pneumonia yesterday at his home, No. 116 West 64th street, New York city. Although he had been sick for ten days, his death was unexpected, as apparently he had almost re-

He was born at Merida, Los Andes, in 1838, and was descended from one of the oldest and best-known families in Venezuela. His grandfather was a friend and companion in arms of Simon Bolivar, the Venezuelan liberator. Many of his family have distinguished themselves in the priesthood, in law, in the army and in politics. Senor Andrade entered politics when quite young, and became one of Venezuela's most able diplomats. He spent the greater part of his life in the service of his government. He was also a scholar and linguist, speaking German, English, French and Italian with as great fluency as he did Spanish, his own language. He took an important part in the settlement of the boundary dispute between Great Britain and Venezuela, and received much credit for its final adjustment. Besides being minister to this country, he represented Venezuela in Paris and London during the administrations of his brother and President Joaquin Crespo. In fact, he held nearly every high office in the gift of his government. He was in turn a member of the municipal council of Maracaibo, representative, speaker of the house, senator, president of the state of Zulia and claims commissioner of Venezuela and France. Two sons and two daughters survive Senor Andrade. One of his sons, who was sent for when his father was considered dangerously ill, arrived here from Havana a few days ago. The funeral will be held tomorrow morning at the Church of Our Lady of Guadalupe, in West 14th street.

Two fires in quick succession in the Astor House, New York, Wednesday lead the police to believe they were of incendiary

The body may be sent to Venezuela.

"COFFEE HEARTS."

MORE FREQUENT THAN TOBACCO HEARTS.

Coffee drinking frequently affects the heart and many cases of heart trouble are relieved or entirely cured by leaving off coffee and taking on Postum Food Coffee.

A good illustration is that of a lady who says: "I was troubled, for many years, with my heart and at times would become unconscious. The children have many times run for the neighbors to come in and restore me by putting my feet in bot water and rubbing me.

"Dr. Short frequently told me that coffee was a poison to me and was really the cause of my weak heart. I could not do without the coffee though, but finally the doctor told me it was certain death if I did not give it up. This was about five years ago, and I changed from coffee to Postum Food Coffee. My heart trouble gradually disappeared and now I am entirely well, have never used a particle of coffee since my first cup of Postum. "I gave a little Postum to a lady friend one day to take home and try. She reported that she did not like it at all. I found she boiled it only five minutes, so I gave her some more and told her to boil it twenty minutes. That was different. She has been using Postum now a long time.

"It cured her daughter of liver trouble, restored her fresh, pretty complexion and cured the mother from headaches from which she saffered severely." Mrs. M. Douglass, 607 Plum et., Elkja7-tf,16 | bart, Ind.
