HEARING WAS WAIVED

BARROWS' BAIL FIXED AT $10,000.

Case Goes to the Grand Jury-Shortage Found by Experts to Be $7,495

The director of the census has announced the result of the investigation directed to be made by the controller of the treasury and the auditor for the Interior Department into the accounts of H. A. Barrows, formerly disbursing clerk of the census office, which shows that there is $7,495 not accounted for. The examination of the accounts and cash on hand was made by R. H. Hartshorn, expert accountant, agent for the controller of the treasury, and R. R. West, law clerk, agent for auditor for the Interior Department. Preliminary Hearing Waived.

Barrows, who was arrested yesterday afternoon, waived a preliminary hearing before Judge Kimball in 'the United States branch of the Police Court today. He pleaded not guilty to the charge of embezzling $7,495, the shortage found by the experts. Attorney Levi David of the law firm of Douglass & Douglass, who appeared as counsel for the defendant, asked what bond the court would require until the case is called up by the grand jury. He suggested that a bond of $7,500 would be sufficient to insure Barrows' presence when wanted. Prosecuting Attorney Mullowny objected and asked the court to fix the bond at $10,000 which was done. $10,000, which was done.

The name of Charles E. Holliday, local representative of the American Security and Trust Company of New York, who bonded Barrows, appears as the complain-ant on the warrant, which was issued Wednesday.

Barrows was unable to furnish the $10,- 000 bond asked for yesterday afternoon for his appearance in the Police Court this morning, and was forced to spend the night at the sixth precinct police station. When he arrived at the Police Court this morning he was given a seat in the dock, where he remained for nearly two hours before his case was called, watching the proceeding of the court.

Warrant Issued in Maryland.

Detective Weedon went to Baltimore yes terday morning and secured a warrant to arrest Barrows in Maryland. 'A Baltimore officer was assigned to go with the Wash ington detective, and it was their intention to pay a visit to the Barrows home at Berwyn, Md., during the afternoon, but he called at the census office, where De-tective Baur was waiting.

OPINIONS ON APPEALS.

Decisions Rendered Yesterday in Number of Local Cases.

The Court of Appeals, in an opinion written by Mr. Justice Morris, and concurred in by Mr. Chief Justice Alvey, Mr. Justice Shepard dissenting, has affirmed the decree appealed from in the case of Nora B. Wertz, appellant, against Melvin A. Wertz. The suit was for divorce from the bond of matrimony, or in the alternative from bed and board, on the ground of cruelty, endangering the health of the appellant, who was the plaintiff in the court below. The divorce was refused by that court, and from the decree of refusal dismissing the bill of complaint, or petition in the case the petitioner appealed.

"There is here nothing on which we can hear the cause, except the bill or petition, the answer and the decree," says the Court of Appeals, "and inasmuch as the decree is in conformity with the pleadings there is nothing left to us but to affirm such decree.

pany, appellant, against John C. Fay, an appeal from a judgment sustaining a de-murrer to and dismissing a declaration in an action of deceit, the Court of Appeals, in an opinion written by Mr. Justice Shepard, has affirmed the judgment, holding that the court below was right in sustaining the demurrer.

By an opinion written by Mr. Chief Justice Alvey, in the case of Ellwood I. Wag-enhurst, John E. Raymond and John K. Little against Elias Wineland, the decree of the court below has been reversed. The suit was filed for the purpose of asserting title to and having decreed to the complainant an alleged right to certain funds in the control of the treasurer of the United States, and as ex-officio commissioner of the sinking fund of the District of Colum-

The Court of Appeals holds that the com-plainant, having failed to make out his case founded upon his being an alleged sub-sequent bona fide assignee for value, without notice of prior assignments for value, the decree of the court below must be reversed, and the cause remanded to the court below, that the bill may be dis-

A Pupils' Musicale.

The pupils of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lent, or a selected number of their pupils, Wednesday night gave a recital in the rooms of the Washington Club. The program was necessarily long, but it held the attention to its close of one of the largest audiences which has ever assembled in that building. At the conclusion of the recital both Mr. and Mrs. Lent received the warm congratulations of the musicians present on the exceptionally high standard of the concert and the uniform excellence of the rendi-

Mrs. Lent's pupils on the piano performed as follows: Wely's "Titania," Miss Helen Himes, with Mrs. Lent; de Koven's "Pre-lude for Piano," Miss Reine Rochon; Schubert's "Impromptu for Piano," Miss Curtis; Largo from the concerto in C major for piano, Beethoven, Mrs. Strickland; "Harlequin," Chaminade, Adrian Bastia-nelli; Mendelssohn's "Capriccio Brillante," Miss Rosebud Haas.

The string numbers of the evening in-The string numbers of the evening included: Bohm's "Album Leaf" for Violin, Miss Ulma Smith; Mendelssohn's "Song, With Words for Violoncello," Wilmar Lent; an "Air Varie," by Mr. Lent, Miss Blanche Stephens; Davidoff's "Romance for Violoncello," Miss Helen Bastianelli, Karbunka's "Gondollera for Violin," Miss Mae Stoops; Henderson's "Tarantelle for Violin," Miss Mable Montgomery; de Beriot's first concerto for violin, Miss Marie Bastianelli; the romance from Tannhauser for violoncello, Miss Florence Wieser; de Beriot's ancello, Miss Florence Wieser; de Beriot's andante tranquillo and finale, from seventh concerto for violin, Miss Florence Stevens. Interspersed among these solo numbers were the following: Mozart's allegretto for piano, violin and violoncello, Misses Maria piano, violin and violoncello, Misses Marie and Helen Bastianelli and Adrian Bastiaand Helen Bastlaneni and Adrian Bastla-nelli; a march for violin, Mr. Lent, by Martin Dempf, Stanley Kann and Russel Pole; variations from the Kaiser Quartet, Haydn, by the Ladies' String Quartet.

Against 'Jim Crow" Cars.

A bill providing a penalty of a maximum fine of $5,000 or imprisonment for not to exceed two years against common carriers, such as traction dompanies, railroad companies or other transportation companies. in the District of Columbia who shall discriminate on account of race or color in the matter of accomodations furnished passengers, has been introduced in the House by Representative Mondell of Wyoming.

The House committee on commerce was today appealed to by a delegation repre-resenting the colored race to favorably con-sider an amendment to the interstate com-merce law which they presented making it an offense punishable with a fine of not less than $500 or more than $5,000 for rail-way companies to discriminate in the matter of car accommodations on account of race or color.

The delegation consisted of ex-Representative George H. White of North Carolina, Cyrus Field Adams, assistant registrar of the treasury; Rev. Dr. Walter Brooks and Jesse Lawson of this city.

The argument presented was that it was against the fundamental principles of a republic to allow discriminations among its public to allow discriminations among its people, and that the "jim crow" cars which were indorsed by the laws of several southern states were discriminations which were humiliating and offensive to the colored people. The committee took no action.

Will Hold Special Services.

About twenty-two years ago the Free Methodists, sometimes known as "John Wesley Methodists," organized a church in this city and for many years held meetings for worship at the corner of New York avenue and 7th street northwest. The congregation worships in a small rented edifice at the corner of 7th and I streets, southwest. Meetings are held every Sunday and on Tuesday and Thursday of each week. Special services are to be held this evening. Rev. J. Cavnaugh, the pastor, is an old Washingtonian, having come to this city shortly after the close of the civil war, in which he served as a bugter in Stuart's confederate cavalry. He lost his left arm at the first battle of Bull Run. For thirty years he has been engaged to a large extent as an evangelist

PLANKED SHAD DINNER.

Washington Board of Trade to Feast at River View. The Washington Board of Trade has arranged to give its annual excursion and planked shad dinner the 24th of this month at River View. The committee of arrangements this year, of which Mr. Ralph W. Lee is chairman, will have direct and exclusive control of the dinner and other agreeable features of the occasion. A pleasant time is assured. Mr. Lee's committee consists of Messrs.

Thomas P. Morgan, E. H. Neumeyer, Ralph P. Barnard, P. J. Brennan, S. W. Stine-metz, Thomas C. Noyes, John L. Newbold, Andrew Parker and Edward H. Droop. These gentlemen are now engaged in preparations for the event, in which a large number of members and distinguished guests of the board will take part.

BRAIN SOFTENING.

Happy Persons Not Exempt.

During the latter months of Rear Admiral Sampson's illness there were numerous reports of his rapidly failing strength, but no definite accounts of his actual diseased condition were made public. The real origin of his trouble was attributed by his many friends to an overwhelming mental depresing his course in the famous Sentiago campaign. Now, however, that the cause of his death has been established, it is plain that there were other and purely physical reasons which explained the final symptoms of his ailment. Although worry and disappointment are leading contributing causes of softening of the brain, the disease very commonly declares itself independently of such condi-tions and as the mere result of progressive inflammatory changes associated with other forms of continuous and exacting mental strain. Not infrequently also the exact opposite is the case, as the malady is very common in the lower and non-intellectual classes.

All the varied phenomena of gradual mental decline, numbed energy, paralytic selz-ures, incoherency of speech, aphasic attack and general progressive weakness explain "the dying at the top," so dreaded by all. More distressing still is the fact that the general inflammation of the brain tissues, always present, is of slow development, unrelentingly progressive and even tually fatal. Sometimes years elapse be-fore the long-desired end comes. A quicker and more merciful ending is in an attack of apoplexy, as in the case of the lamented hero.

Feeling in the South.

Representative McClellan of New York, who is very fastidious in dress, was admiring the new Panama hat of one of his outhern colleagues in the cloak room. "What'd you pay for it?" he asked the real southern gentleman.

"Twenty-five dollars," replied the other. "Great guns, man! It will ruin you in your district if it gets out that up here in Washington you are buying $25 straw hats," said McClellan.

"Now, Mac, that's where you are wrong," replied the owner of the Panama. "In my part of the country they will stand for a Panama hat; that's the custom. "But," he continued, looking McClellan over, "if I should show up wearing patent-leather shoes, my pants creased, my hair parted in the middle, and a white vest and high collar, it would be all up with me."

Pistol Permit for Mrs. Hettie Green. A dispatch from New York says: Mrs. Hettie Green, the noted woman of finance. has been granted a permit to carry a revolver by the police department of this city. Mrs. Green applied for the permit a week ago to Captain Stephen O'Brien of the Leonard street station. Captain O'Brien's report on the application says Mrs. Green declared she was in the habit of carrying large sums of money, stocks, bonds and Injured Man Found in Tunnel. Capt. Boardman received information yes terday afternoon from the Baltimore authorities that a man supposed to be Frank or Wm. Hill of this city had been found by a track walker in an unconscious condition in the Pennsylvania railroad tunnel near the Pensylvania avenue station. He was placed aboard a train and taken to the union depot, from where he was conveyed to the City Hospital.

The name mentioned was found on papers taken from the injured man's pockets. The hospital surgeons found that the patient's skull was fractured, but in what manner
