Regarding Licenses for Hacks. O. B. Lester of 223 Indiana avenue has written to the Commissioners asking whether hotel keepers who keep hacks in front of hotels pay a license as common carriers or as proprietors of vehicles for hire. He also asks why a license tax is not imposed on each vehicle, and suggests that the Commissioners might exercise their authority in the matter by causing the arrest of the unlicensed vehicles which take passengers for hire under the fact that they stand in front of hotels which is not a designated hack stand.

THE THEATER.

Columbia Theater.

"An American Citizen" is the play at the Columbia this week. The opening last night was auspicious. The audience laughed at the comedy and applauded the sentimental scenes with a readiness calculated to inspire the players to their best work. The play is one of those whole-souled comedies that idealize the plain, every-day types of to realize that the chap we see every day working at a desk may possess possibilities of heroism. Mr. Ormonde managed to adjust his somewhat formal personality to the jocularity of the leading male role in a manner which won him hearty recognition. Miss Cortelyou fulfilled all the favorable prophecies suggested by her work last week. Her scope in the present production is wider and the sentiment more in keeping with her earnest personality. Miss Cortel-you has a way of speaking, or seeming to speak, straight from the heart, yet she knows her technique, knows it so thoroughly, in fact, that she is competent to hold it in its proper place as an assistance to ar-tistic expression, and not a dominant fac-Geoffrey Stein had one of those thankless comedy old men who bring immediate censure on the player's head if they are slighted, but which are accepted as matters of simple routine when well portrayed. Mr. Stein made a fine study of the part. Mr. Ferguson had less to do than in previous performances, but played with unction. Mr. Post, with the modesty which befits that autocrat, the stage manager, impersonated the valet and again demonstrated his ability to convey volumes in a single word. Mr. Percy Leech managed to give a very small part picturesque value, and Miss Atwell invested the character of the lady who loves, but dares not disclose her affection, with grace that was demurely charming. Miss Edith Luckett gave the play a pretty touch of child pathos by her performance of the gamin in the last act.

Lafavette Theater. The last week of the Berger Stock Company's engagement at the Lafayette Theater was opened last night with a performance of Robert Louis Stevenson's strange story of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," that most vivid and realistic exemplification of man's dual nature. The title role, with its opportunities for display of dramatic weirdness, is one that might try even the versatile abilities of Mr. John T. Sullivan. From the demonstrative evidences of approval accorded by the audience he must be credited with a highly satisfactory performance. The swift transition from the benevolent Dr. Jekyll to the fiendish Hyde affords a study in extremes, which, to be adequately interpreted, requires an actor of unusual range. Mr. Sullivan has al-ready demonstrated this characteristic. He succeeded in making his Dr. Jekyll the philanthrophic lovable man, while his Mr. Hyde was properly revolting. William H. Tooker essayed the role of Mr. Utterton, the lawyer. The patrons of the Lafayette have learned to expect satisfactory performances from this actor, and his work less night was particularly creditable. last night was particualrly creditable. Frederic Sullivan portrayed the character of Dr. Lanyon acceptably, and Will H. Conley was sufficiently austere as Poole, the butler. John Daly Murphy, as Policeman McSweeney, furnished the only comedy in the piece, and succeeded in stirring the joyous youth in the gallery to bolsterous expression. Miss Jane Rivers was effective in the part of Alice Leigh.

The performance last evening was a ben-efit for Corporal George L. Dietz of the District National Guard, who was severely wounded recently at the rifle practice, and a large number of officers and men of that organization were in attendance in uni-

Chase's.

A very satisfying performance of "Fra Diavolo" was given by the stock company at Chase's last night, a very large audience, including some of the capital's most distinguished people, being in attendance. The scenery was ample, the chorus large Commissioners that justice be meted out to and well drilled, while the principals were all alike. Where a license is imposed there above the average as to acting and singing ability. The familiar airs of long ago came back as new to those who have not heard or seen the troubles of pretty "Zerlina" and "Lorenzo" and the more prominent were repeated again and again in answer to the sincere applause. Dorothy Morton's performance of the role of "Zerlina" was everything that could be reasonably demanded in a season of popular opera. Hu-bert Wilke, as "Fra Diavolo," was as good as ever, which is the best possible praise. The two comedians, Frank Wooley and Fred Frear, were unusually funny, all the little points handed down in tradition being worked over with good effect, while many little original bits were added and proved laugh-makers. Each comedian has contrasting lines kept the audience in good humor whenever they were on the stage. One little item overlooked by Mr. Wooley and which was commented upon by many in the audience is the fact that dressed as he was in the rags of a beggar, a two carat diamond ring looked out of place on his left hand. The augmented orchestra was handled in fine form last night and the hitches that generally go with night's performance were entirely absent.

RESPONSE TO COMPLAINT.

Report of Lieut. Kenney Regarding Brightwood Driving Park.

Col. Biddle, the Engineer Commissioner in passing upon a complaint by Thomas Blagden against the Brightwood Driving Park, recently stated that as the track was in the light of a convenience to a number of people in the District for speeding their horses, and as 16th street, which traverses the park, was not to be opened at the preshumanity. They do good by compelling us ent time, but that if the police department thought the track should be shut off, it could easily be done by the engineer department. The matter was referred to Lleut. John Kenney of the tenth precinct for his report.

"The club members," says the lieuetnant, "have been prompt in aiding the officers of the precinct in maintaining good order, and the manager of the grounds, Mr. Thos. B. Baldwin, has maintained good order and has complied with all regulations of the has occurred along the 14th street road as complained of by Mr. Blagden, but the or-der of the superintendent of police station-ing mounted officers along this road during all race times has, I believe, broken up fast driving and disorderly conduct along the way. The signatures of residents are not required in procuring a license for a club of this character, and as long as the man-agement of the club is not responsible for agement of the club is not responsible to conditions outside of their jurisdiction I cannot see where I am justified in making a report against them. The complaint is against the club rather than the track and it should be a matter for the excise board." Major Sylvester has stated to the Commissioners that from time to time the po-lice have had a great deal of trouble along 14th street road extended because of fast and reckless driving, and extra polic attention has been given this locality. With regard to the club itself he knows nothing further than told by Lieut. Kenney

LAW GOVERNING LICENSES.

Inquiry Regarding Fee Required of Master Painters.

Howard Markwood and Martin Cleland. committee representing the Master House Painters and Decorators' Association, have written to the Commissioners asking for information relative to the license fee for master or contracting house painters.

"We wish to know," say the writers what protection will be given under the present law whereby a master or a contracting house painter is compelled to pay a license fee of $25 per annum. We wish to call to your attention that we believe that the assessor's office seems disposed to discriminate as follows: "First, that only a portion of the con-tracting house painters and decorators are compelled to comply with this law. Second, that contractors who have been doing business for many years have re-ceived a license for $12.50, or one-half the amount called for by the new law.

Certain changes will be made, therefore, but without additional cost to the District. The street grade is not to be changed, and the recommendation of the building inspector has received the indorsement of the Engineer Commissioner.

SKULL FRACTURED.

to Have Been Inflicted by Colored Man, An altercation occurred yesterday afternoon at the District pumping station on Trumbull street, which resulted in a serious and possibly fatal injury to Henry Town, a carpenter. A hammer was the weapon used, and Town's skull was fractured by a blow delivered, it is alleged, by Walter Wright, coloped, who worked at the pumping station with Town. Wright's home is at 329 Pomersy street and Town's address is given as 1501 H street northeast. The police searched for the colored man last night, but failede to find him. Town is under treatment at Sibley Hospital, and, while his condition is regarded as serious, it was said at the hospital this morning that he may are that he may recover.

The police have not been able to ascertain what caused the trouble. The men had the difficulty during the dinner hour, and Town went to Freedman's Hospital and had his injury dressed. At that time the wound did not appear to be serious, and Town was able to walk away without assistance. Last night he became uncon-scious, and when taken to Sibley Hospital the surgeons located a depressed fracture of his skull. An operation was performed, and this morning the patient seemed some

It was nearly three hours after the in-jury was inflicted before the information reached headquarters, and it was not un-til about 8 o'clock that the change for the worse in Town's condition was noticed. terday.

Persons who depend entirely upon the local laundries to have their soiled linen, etc., laundered will be pleased to know that a reduction has been made in the price charged for such work. The new rates went into effect yesterday in all laundry establishments which are allied with the local laundrymen's association. During the recent anthracite coal strike in Pennsylvania the prices on laundry work were increased about 25 per cent, it being explained at the time that the increased cost of coal made such action necessary. About the same time several new laundries made their advent into the field and posted in bold letters, "Not in the trust" and "Laundry work done at the regular price," etc. Whether or not these signs have decreased the profits of the establishments of the association is not known. In conversation with a Star reporter to day a member of the association stated that since coal has dropped to a nominal figure the members had decided to reduce the prices for laundry work to the rate that prevailed before the strike.

That the independent establishments intend to continue the fight against the as-sociation establishments is evident from the fact that they have cut their prices lower

PHILIP DOBLIN'S CASE.

The Grand Jury Will Shortly Take Action on It.

Developments are expected within the next few days in the case of Philip Doblin, accused of forgery, as a result of a hearing before the House naval affairs committee at the Capitol last winter. It is now learned, however, that the grand jury is to act in the case in the very near future.

Always sweet, appetizing and wholein Haines' Hall, Harrison street, Anacostia, was made the occasion of a fraternal visit by the members of Jehu Tent, No. 22. After transacting routine business the meeting resolved itself into a good of the order session. Murray Allen, chief ruler, after extending to the officers and members of Jehu Tent a cordial welcome, called upon William B. Kelly, high tent treasurer, who responded with encouraging re-marks in behalf of the order in the Dismarks in behalf of the order in the District. Remarks were also made by J. J. Murray, past high chief ruler; John C. Moore, High Tent deputy; Charles Eller and James C. Lee of Eagle Tent, No. 2, who delivered a temperance speech, and dwelt upon Rechabitism as it has developed in Anacostia. George W. Rue, past chief ruler and organizer of Wreath Tent, made a responsive speech in welcoming the visitors, assuring them that the local members appreciated their visit, and urging the co-operation of every member of the order in advancing the cause of temperance in Anacostia. George W. Shoemaker, one of the Rechabite leaders in Anacostia, in his remarks dwelt upon the fact that twenty-one years ago this month the first tent of Rechabites was instituted in Anacostia with only eight members. The tent grew very rapidly, however, until it be-came the largest tent in the District. The guests at the meeting included members of Eagle Tent, Advance Tent, Columbia Tent and Jehu Tent.
