Following the services the remains were The ashes will be deposited in the national cemetery at Arlington, without any military ceremony or display.

GEN. WOOD'S NOMINATION. Strong Belief It Will Be Reported Favorably.

There is a strong belief at the Capitol that the committee on military affairs of the Senate will report favorably the nomination of Gen. Wood to be a major general. Senators who were familiar with the charges made against Gen. Wood when he was advanced to the rank of brigadier general do not believe it will be possible to defeat the nomination unless new and important matters are brought up against him. Members of the committee are with-out information as to the charges that are to be made, as no papers have been filed with the committee for their consideration. These senators point to the fact that when General Wood's nomination was considered in the spring of 1901, he having been appointed a brigadier general February 4 of that year, all of the charges that have since been publicly made against him were considered by the committee. The fact of his promotion over the heads of many other officers was discussed at

In the committee there was adverse criticism of this policy, but the result of the discussion was that it was not believed that constituted a reason for voting down the nomination.

New the case comes up without new charges of importance, so far as is generally known. What the witnesses who are to appear before the committee next week will have to say is not known to sen-

The case against Gen. Wood's confirma-tion is being urged by Senator Hanna, who is not a member of the committee on mili-tary affairs. That committee has had four changes in its membership since Wood's nomination to be a brigadier general was considered in 1901. Senators Hawley, Proctor and Warren were on the committee at that time, and remain members of it. Senator Burrows has since retired favor of Alger, while Quarles, Scott and Foraker have taken the places of Shoup. Carter and Sewall. On the democratic side Bate, Cockrell and Pettus were then and are still members of the committee; Harris of Kansas was not re-elected, and his successor on the committee has not yet been named.

Automatic Guns for the Army.

As a result of the recent experiments it is probable that automatic machine guns will be added to the armament of the United States army. The Vickers-Maxim musket caliber type, recently tried in competition with the Colt and Danish types, is sald to have made the best showing.

It fires bullets of the same caliber used in the army rifle at the rate of 600 a ninute. It may be mounted on a tripod or on a wheeled carriage, and is light enough to be carried on pack animals during cam-paigns in rough country. The principal difference between the Vickers-Maxim type and the others is that it possesses a water jacket which cools the barrel as it is fired. The appropriation at present available provides for the manufacture of fifty of these guns. Larger appropriations will probably be asked for. At present it is the intention to distribute the fifty to be built among the infantry forces.

For Post Check Notes.

Representative Washington Gardner of Michigan has introduced a bill in the House to provide for "post-check notes" of the denomination of $1, $2 and $5. The bill is identical in wording to the one which received the approval of the Post Office Department and was favorably reported from the post office committee of the House at

The bill in no way affects present currency laws, but provides simply that after its passage all notes of the denominations mentioned issued by the government shall contain certain blank lines on their face which the holder can fill out and thus convert his money into what is practically a check on the government, for transmission through the mails. It is contended that the constant reissue of such paper money will insure clean bills, and eliminate postage stamps to a great degree as a means of re-mittance, and that those living remote from money order postoffices will be given a convenient means of remitting through the Governing Use of Explosives.

A. Leftwich Sinclair, assistant corporation counsel, today returned to the Commissioners the draft of the amendment to the police regulations proposed by Major Sylvester, relative to the use of fireworks and explosives in the District. Mr. Sinclair states that he is of the opinion that the amendment is in good form.

The amendment is to section 4, article 9 of the police regulations, and reads as fol-of the police regulations, and reads as follows:

"No fireworks or explosives of any kind whatsoever shall be used within the limits of the District without a permit from the major and superintendent of police, under direction of the Commissioners, except in connection with public works under the supervision of the officer in charge there-

Hoar's Attitude

ON A NEW TREATY ST. PAUL FORCED DOWN

DEMOCRATS AWAITING HIS DEC-LARATION WITH INTEREST.

tion to Recognition of the New Republic.

There is a feeling of uncertainty on the part of some republicans over the attitude that will be taken by Senator Hoar on the subject of the administration's recognition. of the new republic of Panama, and the consequent effect of his course in relation to a new treaty for the construction of the Panama canal.

Up to this time Senator Hoar has not indicated what his position on this subject will be. His attitude has been one of noncommitment. He is awaiting the information to be given to Congress by the President. If he has made up his mind as to what he will do in that respect he has not mentioned it to any one.

Several senators have desired to know how he feels about the administration's course in reference to Panama, but they are without information. The attitude of the senior senator from Massachusetts on the Panama incident is not regarded as important in the final ratification by the Senate of the canal treaty to be negotiated by Secretary Hay.

If he takes the view that will be a popular one with the minority, to the effect that the President's course of prompt ac-tion was not warranted, he will strengthen the position of the democratic opposition, but when the time comes to vote on the treaty it is confidently believed by those who know the Senate best that the necessary two-thirds vote will be forthcoming.

Interest in President's Statement.

The greatest interest is attached to the President's statement of the Panama case. While the President was the forcible element in the decision to give the new Panama republic a prompt recognition, yet it is known at the Capitol that his course was approved by his advisers, and while St. Paul was depressed encouraged the bid-the exact facts are not yet known, it is ding up of the more active stocks, and St. believed he will make a strong case when he communicates to Congress the reasons

This feeling is so strong that even the democrats feel that it is well to await this statement before entering upon their criticism of the administration's course. The democratic steering committee, of which Semitor Gorman is the chairman, has been in session half a dozen days, and while the chief purpose of its meetings has been to arrange for the assignment of democratic senators to committees, it has discussed in an informal way the subject of the recognition of Panama, and the proposition of the government to negotiate another canal treaty.

The general sentiment of the democrats has favored opposition, but the steering son. committee has not in a formal way apcommittee has not in a formal way approved that course. The members of the committee have felt that prudence was on the side of taking no positive stand until they hear from the President.

The opening was firm at an advance of to 10 points, and on the call the active months were sold up to a level net 7 to 10 points higher on active bull support and a scare of shorts, which were influenced by The sentiment that is now dominant among democrats is that they should insist among democrats is that they should insist that they should insist that the law should be literally carried out by the President. They contend that the Spooner act in effect provided that in the event of his failure to have the treaty ratified by the Senate accepted by Colombia. December sold at 11 18 itilied by the Senate accepted by Colombia for the building of the Panama canal he should proceed to negotiate a treaty with Nicaragua

Cannot Force Their Interprtation.

But the minority has no power to force the acceptance of their interpretation of the law on the President, and they of necessity eventually have only the alternative of refusing to vote for the treaty on the ground that the President should have negotiated a treaty with Nicaragua or of criticising the administration and then coming to the support of the course they

It is not believed by republicans that the democrats will be willing to take the re-sponsibility for the defeat of the canal, which would be the result should they vote solidly against the treaty to be sent to the Senate later. The very important and practical question arises as to the way in which such a course would be received by the country at the next national campaign. The democrats might be charged with having demanded an impossible thing, with the result of killing the canal project for the LOCAL FINANCIAL NEWS.

The lack of buying orders in the local stock market is credited to the same cause to which the state of the general market is attributed, and that is the high discount on

Those who usually are large buyers with borrowed money are not doing very much,

and the prospects for a change in that par-for money for the west will be over, and also large sums of money will be paid as

In local financial circles the January in-terest period makes quite a difference in the amount of money that is in circulation and is available for general use. The pay-ments alone to the holders of local securi-ties reach a considerable sum, much larger than is generally supposed.

With more money available, debts will be paid and bank deposits will increase, and naturally there will be better terms for borrowers. The prevailing rate of interest now is 6 per cent on time loans and 5 per cent

At the same time, as is well known to those familiar with the situation, the range of prices of securities listed on the local stock exchange shows practically none of the effects of the depression in the general stock market, and the financial institutions have maintained throughout a high percentage of cash reserves.

It was announced at the meeting of the stock exchange today by Dr. Jenkins, on behalf of the committee appointed to ascertain if the members desired to have a banquet this year, that only a small number had indicated their intention of attending, and therefore the committee had taken this to mean a lack of interest and had decided not to have such a func-

Prominent Residents Dead.

LAUREL, Md., November 13, 1903.

Mr. John Long, an esteemed citizen of Laurel, died at his residence here last evening about 9. o'clock, in the seventy-first year of his age. Mr. Long had been in ill-health for some time, but his fatal illness was of short duration. His wife survives him. The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church of Laurel, Rev. Watson Case, the pastor, officiating. Interment will be made with Ma-

Mr. Long had been a resident of this town for many years, and had a large number of warm friends in this section, as well as in Washington. For many years he was in the government service, and at the time of his death was assistant chief of the folding room of the Interior Department. He was a member of Washington Centennial Lodge a member of Washington Centennial Lodge, No. 14, F. A. A. M., of Washington, D. C., and was also past district deputy grand master of the Odd Fellows. Washington Centennial Lodge will attend the funeral of Mr. Long in a body, and will hold services at the grave, according to the Masonic ritual. Representatives of the Odd Fellows will also be present at the obsequies.

Mr. James D. Cassard, a prominent citizen of the upper part of Prince George's county, residing at Muirkirk, near this town, died last night, aged sixty-four years. Three sons, Messrs. Lawrence, Myron and Percy Cassard, survive him. The funeral services will be held at the family residence Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mr. Cassard located in this section of the county about forty years ago, and purchased "Birmingham," a handsome country place in the vicinity of Muirkirk. He took an active interest in the Vansville Farmers' Club, an organization having for its object the fostering of the farming industries. He was also a charter member of Birmingham Lodge, No. 188, A. F. and A. M., of Beltsville, Md.
