The Case Postponed. Frank Leslie Fuller and George W. Marrow were arrested yesterday on two charges of obtaining money under false pretenses, and taken to police headquarters by Detective Grant. The men have been stopping at a hotel at 1222 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, and several days ago they started out to pass as many worthless checks as they could, so the police say.

Fuller, it is alleged, would state that his uncle had sent the check to him, and as they were drawn upon a southern bank, in several instances they were taken.

Charles Fleischman was not present, and as the police claim he was the only customer they could locate, the case was postponed until January 5 by Judge Kimball, and the police say that several persons who have been identified will be on hand at that time to prosecute.

CHRISTMAS EXERCISES.

Closing of Friends' Select School—Award of Certificates.

Christmas exercises were held at the Friends' Select School yesterday, the program including songs and recitations. A large gathering, embracing the teachers and pupils and their friends, assembled in the new study hall of the school to celebrate the closing of school for the holidays.

Many gifts for distribution among the poor were brought by the children. The following program was given: Song, "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear," by the school; recitation, "A Message to Mother Goose," by Judith Norment; song, "Three Kings of the Orient," by the primary school; recitation, "Old Christmas," by All Hailds Bey; German song, "Christmas Lullaby," by the German pupils; recitation, "Looking for Santa Claus," by Theodore Ulmer; song, "The Christmas Tree," by the primaries; recitation, "Penelope's Christmas Dance," by Winifred Hyde; song, "Hark, Herald Angels Sing," by the school; song, "Auld Lang Syne," by the school.

For high standing in conduct, attendance and scholarship term certificates were awarded. The primary pupils received nineteen, the intermediate thirty-four and the high school twenty-seven. This is the largest number ever recorded of certificates awarded at the end of the first term, due largely, it is thought, to the new building and alterations in the old ones.

It was an excellent performance, the principals being in good voice and the large and efficient chorus singing the Anvil Chorus with stirring effect. PETITION FILED.

Application for Release of Charles Jenkins Under Habeas Corpus Writ.

A petition for the writ of habeas corpus has been presented to the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia in behalf of Charles Jenkins. The latter, it is alleged, was arrested September 19 last on the charge of carrying about his person a deadly and dangerous weapon, under section 555 of the District code. He was arraigned and tried September 22, at which time he was found guilty under two counts—"carrying deadly weapons" and "carrying dangerous weapons," and adjudged to pay a fine of $50 on each count, or, in the event of failure to pay the fines, to serve ninety days in the workhouse on each count. In behalf of the prisoner it is contended that the conviction under both counts is void.

The petition was signed by Frederick Collins, J. E. Collins and W. H. Green. Chief Justice Claiborne directed that the writ issue. It is returnable at 11 o'clock the morning of the 27th instant.
