Word to Those Who Bake:

That's the name you should always mention when you order flour of your grocer, because "CERES" Flour is the best and purest flour that's milled. The most successful cooks always use because it always yields the lightest, whitest, sweetest and most nutritious bread and rolls and the choicest cake and pastry.

Ask your grocer for "Ceres" Flour and refuse

Wm. M. Galt & Co., Wholesalers of "Ceres" Flour, First St. and Ind. Ave.

The most fashionable imported and domestic Hats for spring and

-A display of becoming and exclusive styles in variety to suit

Mrs. C. Stiebel, 1113 G St

FINE DIAMONDS

And Other Gems.

GALT&BRO., Established Over a Century,

Jewellers, Silversmiths, Stationers,

1107 Penn. Ave.

Do You Want THE BEST?

Monthly Payments.

And only $195 in all for this handsome $500 Upright Grand Piano. This is an exceedingly rare offering in a high-class Upright Plane-one of the best makes and an instrument that sells for $500 new. Has been carefully used and will be offered at a special sacrifice and on very easy terms. Only $195-on $5 monthly payments—with elegant stool-scarf-one year's tuning and free delivery included.

F.G. SMITH CO., BUILDING, 1225 Pa. Ave. FINE REPORTS ON A MONTH WARRANT WAR THE PARTY OF THE PART

McKay Company Jewelers and Silversmiths,

1115 F St. N. W.

Mr. McKay, formerly head watchmaker and salesman with Shaw & Brown Co., has personal supervision of our watch repairing department, and from his practical 25 years on complicated American and foreign watches, we can guarantee first-class work only.

Chickering

A.O.HUTTERLY, 732 7th st. n.w.

IS NOT YOUR HEALTH
worth 'be price of a STEPHENSON SANITARY
GARBAGE RECEIVER? Send for circulars. LYNN, MASS.

I-CAREME will have a notable celebration next Thursday night in the ball of the states for the benefit of the Junior Republic. The idea of the ball has caught ndidly, and the managers have reat enthusiasm manifested in the The ball and the short opera seaths this week out of the Lenten calmit that anybody is objecting to the reference that anybody is objecting to the reference always active socially. The deon splendidly, and the managers have found great enthusiasm manifested in the project. The ball and the short opera season lifts this week out of the Lenten calmness-not that anybody is objecting to the quiet, for there is plenty going on for those who are always active socially. The departures for southern resorts or Atlantic City have been a feature lately. There is said to be a delightful surplus of beaux at Palm Beach, and generally men whose names would add interest to a wedding Secretary and Mrs. Root have a series of dinners ahead of them, and the good times which the Philippine party enjoyed together will be repeated in a reminiscent vein in Cincinnati is most anxious to have a visit from Representative and Mrs. Longworth, and, if not before, certainly during the May the dinner to Secretary and Mrs. Taft this

The Persian minister, Gen. Morteza Khan, is thinking of a trip to Europe for his summer vacation, but has not decided Winch almost coincide with those of Mis.

Nicholas Longworth. Mrs. Winston, who was Miss Katherine Wheaton, was born the same month as Alice Roosevelt, she was formally introduced to society the same season, her wedding took place in the same month, and her wedding trip was also to Cuba.

Mrs. Otto H. Tittman is visiting her mother, Mrs. William D. Wilkins, in De-

Mrs. Foraker during her recent visit to Cincinnati received at the tea given by her daughter, Mrs. Randolph Matthews, in honor of Mrs. McMullin, an aunt of her husband's. Mrs. Foraker was gowned in black velvet, with ecru lace. Mrs. Matthews were blue and white and Miss Foraker bronze velvet, with oriental lace. A large luncheon was given in Mrs. Foraker's honor during her stay at the Queen City Club. Miss Foraker is still with her sister, Mrs. Matthews.

Mr. and Mrs. Lars Anderson went abroad several weeks ago and will spend some time in continental travel. Their hospitalities upon it. In the meantime he is continuing in continental travel. Their hospitalities his pleasant Friday afternoon receptions the past season were unusually elegant, and although Mrs. Anderson has expressed herand has also commenced a series of evenings to which he invites his personal-friends. His legation home at 19th and S self as sorry that their new home is so large, she also seems quite willing to utilize streets is unique in many respects. His its advantages in entertaining very fre-love of Persian curios and works of art quently. is that of an artist and connoisseur. He owns many beautiful articles-rugs, hang-Senator and Mrs. Pettus of Alabama will ings, silver and bronzes, and he has utilized them all in the adornment of his bachelor celebrate the sixty-third anniversary of their wedding the middle of June. Mrs. quarters, reproducing, if not the arrange-ment of a real Persian house, at least Pettus was born a few miles from the home which she has adorned since her marriage. She, it is said, wove all the material for charming suggestions of it. Un the stairher trousseau, her linen and the wool stuffs for her gowns. Only her wedding dress of silk was "store goods." All her shoes, slippers and such trifles were made by the slaves on her father's plantation. She even modern Persian swords, daggers and other the drawing room are covered with rugs, those on the walls being of silk. The furni worked the buttonholes in her galters and adorned the edges with her initials. those on the wans being of six. The form-ture is French, but everything else is of Persian workmanship. Exquisite silver pieces are placed with geometrical exact-ness on several small tables. In this mat-ter the minister follows the custom of his Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denegre, who went abroad last month, are now in Paris. They ountry, as well as in his way of offering refreshments. On his reception days the Persian servant. The tea is served in small glasses resting in little silver frames, which in turn are handed on a small fila-gree silver waiter. Either slices of lemon or a lemon syrup is offered to flavor the placed near the visitor with a set of smalltiful articles, arranged by his own direc-tion and kept in the most perfect order.

year engaged in the preliminaries to their manufacture as they were fitted with the Persian characters, and many tests were necessary before they were found exactly

Gen. Morteza has been in the service of Gen. Morteza has been in the service of his country since he was a child. He was educated in Paris, and was for a long time in the consular service. He is a great admirer of this country, and last year made an extensive tour of the great industrial concerns of the middle west, everywhere receiving every facility he required to extend by information.

Mrs. Snapp, wife of Representative Howard M. Snapp of Illinois, gave a dinner at the Cairo last Saturday night in honor of a party returning to Jol'et, Ill., the former home of Representative and Mrs. Snapp, after an extended tour through Cube Flore will spend the summer at their place, Vills Crest, at Manchester-by-the-Sea. minister himself brews tea at a side table, and it is then passed to his visitors by his

Mrs. Willis Moore, who was in Chicago last week visiting Mrs. La Verne W. Noyes, received with her hostess at a reception given to the Alliance Francaise.

At a little girls' luncheon recently in At a little girls' luncheon recently in Pittsburg, the center of the table had a flower-decked May pole, around which tiny dolls, dressed in pink froc's, wound ribbons of the same color. For favors there were baskets of pink roses. The place cards were dainty little water-colored saetches of girls' figures. Following the luncheon the afternoon was spent at variance grames and in the evening the mother tea, with lumps of sugar. Little pyramid stands, also in silver fliagree, piled with cakes or biscuits or Persian sweets, are er fliagree silver stands filled with raisins, nuts and cakes. The minister is a delightous games and in the evening the mother of the young hostess gave a dinner for the mothers who had assisted her during the ful host, and when his visitors seem to enjoy his house and its appointments his pleasure is greatly enhanced. Each room has its own collection of useful and beau-

Mrs. Dalzeil, always a popular hostess, had a very pleasant reception yesterday, when Miss Sarah Hartzeil of Cleveland, Mrs. Robert Duff of Pitisburg, the Misses Bell of New York, who are her house guests, received with her. Miss McCoy of Distaburg, who spent part of the gay See. His den, another picturesque spot, is Per-sian from floor to ceiling, but an American phonograph, from which he may enjoy either grand opera, coon songs and dances, or Persian airs, is a much-valued posses-sion. A side table with a convenient little Pittsburg, who spent part of the gay sea-son with Mrs. Dalzell, has returned home.

gas stove where tea may be brewed is an indespensable adjunct. Every detail for a There is an echo of the long ago to oldlittle tea party is always near it, from the daintiest of napery to the finest and pret-There is an echo of the long ago to outtime Washingtonians in the announcement of the marriage next June in Covington, Ky.. of Miss Jane Piatt, daughter of Mrs.
Courtney Piatt, and Mr. Stephen L. Blakely, son of Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Blakely. The bride-elect is extremely pretty. She is a great-niece of Donn Piatt, a name likely to be always an interesting one in the newspaper annals of the capital. tiest of silver flagree dishes. The room is hung with Persian fabrics, and when these are down no doors appear. Around each room there is a frieze made of gay-colored silken fabrics, in butterfly and other forms, for which the minister himself made the

Gen. Morteza made a trip to Mexico last summer and brought back with him a number of feather pictures of birds, etc. These adorn his dining room. His table silver has elaborate ornamentation, each Mrs. John G. Bennett of Pittsburg, who Mrs. John G. Bennett of Philsburg, who was here visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Joy Edson. jr.. was entertained very frequently during her stay. Last week Mrs. James Francis Burke, wife of Representative Burke, gave a luncheon, followed by a plece being made by hand. A recent pur-chase by him in this country was several typewriting machines intended for use in the palace of the shah. He was over a

Mr. and Mrs. Max Fleischman of Cincinnati, who are still spoken of as bride and groom, after a winter yachting trip on the Caribbean sea will sail May 24 for the

Mr. Andrew Carnegie has leased the Ingalis villa at Hot Springs, Va., which is so situated that the terraces form a part of Miss Felicia Graves is visiting her sister-in-law, Mrs. D. W. Graves, in Chicago, and receiving much social attention.

The shamrock progressive euchre party given at the Cairo Friday evening in honor of St. Patrick was a great success. There were eight tables. The first gentleman's prize, a Japanese smoking set, was won by Capt. E. K. Moore; the second prize for gentlemen was won by Gen. W. T. Davis, and the third prize went to Col. J. J. McCordy. The first lady's prize was won by Mrs. Whitcombe of Chicago; the second lady's prize, a score card for bridge, was won by Mrs. T. F. Schneider, and the third prize was won by Mrs. T. F. Schneider, and the third prize was won by Mrs. Riley. The two consolation prizes were a St. Patrick's Irish pipe, won by Mr. B. W. Holman, and a St. Patrick dudeen, with the shamrock growing in it, won by Miss Bryant. After the award of prizes a chafing-dish party of panned oysters, etc., was enjoyed. The table and the third prize went to Col. J. J. Mc-Cordy. The first lady's prize was won by Mrs. Whitcombe of Chicago; the second lady's prize, a score card for bridge, was won by Mrs. T. F. Schneider, and the third prize was won by Mrs. Riley. The two consolation prizes were a St. Patrick's Irish pipe, won by Mr. B. W. Holman, and a St. Patrick dudeen, with the shamrock growing in it, won by Miss Bryant. After the award of prizes a chafing-dish party of panned oysters, etc., was enjoyed. The table decorations were all in green and white hearts, hats and pipes, all emblematic of St. Patrick's day. Altogether it was a most enjoyable affair. On the mean were many dishes of Italian character. Glaced nuts were pierced with wooden screws, each guest receiving a screw of the nuts. Dates and figs were served in a similar manner. The ice cream was served in the form of gay gondolas, and cakes were moided in the form of pigeons. A stringed quintet furnished the music, which consisted of Italian airs from modern operas, the musicians circling in and out among the tables, as strolling minstrels are supposed to have so conducted themselves at ancient feasts.

brought out.

Miss Lawrence, the queen of the Mardi-Gras at New Orleans, wore a superb costume. It is thus described: A drop skirt made of soft silk bordered at the edge and around the long train with a deep, full flounce of real lace in rose point. Over this fell the full-flare skirt of the costume, which was of cream-colored Parisian brocaded crepe, finished in Grecian cuts obout the bottom, showing the lace flounces below and heavily outlined in soft gold braid. The brocade designs were of violets, and over the entire dress were hand-embroidered roses in gold, heavily studded with rhinestones as dewdrops and pearls. In the front of the skirt was a panel over which the of the skirt was a panel over which the jeweled pendant on the belt hung to the edges. The waist was of the same rich cloth, trimmed with narrower flounces of the lace, with short puffed sleeves, worn with very long white gloves. The mantle of this rich costume was of mirror telest in to this rich costume was of mirror velvet in rose pink, soldily embroidered in tulips, varying in tint from the palest to the deep-est pink and all thickly encrusted with preclous stones. Forming the edge was a deep band of gold braid, bordered with a flounce of rose chiffon, at the top of which was also a border of tiny pink roses. A large bunch of roses were caught in one corner of the mantle's train, and on the left shoulder were several old-rose ostrich plumes caught with a pompon of rose tulle, the edges of which fell almost to the edge of the train. She wore the royal jewels presented by Rex, and also carried the scepter of royalty. The costume of Rex was very gorgeous.

Over tights of gold color was worn a tunic in old-rose velvet, heavily embroidered in rhinestones and pearls and trimmed with gold lace. His mantle, which was topped with a shoulder cape of ermine, was of tinded all the and was covered with a providered. sel cloth and was covered with embroidered peacock feathers. His necklace and belt were studded with blue stones and other gems that matched the coloring of the man-tle. The crown was of blue velvet and preclous stones.

The maids all wore white lace dresses. several of which were heavily spangled and all very lovely and rich. Long white veils of sliver-spangled tulle were caught to their hair and fell below their waists. They carhair and fell below their waists. They carried shower bouguets of large pink roses with streamers of old rose sash ribbon, which was very decorative and beautiful. At the Comus ball, the last event of the carnival season, Miss Celeste Janvier was the queen. Her royal costume was of heavy white satin, embroidered about the edges in deep waves of gold, over lace. The corsage was covered with glittering gems, as was also the high Medici collar, from which was also the high Medici collar, from which hung the superb mantle of cloth of gold that fell from her shoulders several yards in length. She wore the crown and other jewels of Comus, all of gold and brilliants, a fitting finish to the very beautiful costume. The maids all wore gowns in white lace or spangled net and were given shoullace or spangled net and were given shoulder capes of gold cloth that matched the mantle of the queen. The curtain arose on a scene of golden beauty on which the lovely and variegated costumes of the maskers grouped about stood out most effectively. In the center of the background was the golden throne, on which was the reyal divan placed high above the floor of the ball room, and over it from side to side of the stage and reaching out to the celling the stage and reaching out to the ceiling was a huge grape arbor 'n gold, each cluster of grapes containing numberless little electric bulbs all gold-encased. After the reception of the queen and her maids by the king and the maskers the ball was for-mally opened. The arrival of King Rex and his queen and their retinue was the crowning event of the evening.

Mrs. Charles W. Parker of Buffalo, N. Y. is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. G. Jester, at the Revere.

Mrs. Howard Reeside has been entertain-ing Pittsburg friends for the past week. Miss Elizabeth Reeside left Friday to make a week's visit in Philadelphia to her grandmother, Mrs. Harmer, widow of the late Representative Harmer.

Maj. and Mrs. W. L. Hughes of New Orleans gave a euchre party last week in honor of their guests, Miss Reed of Pitts-burg and Miss Pilson of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sibley Severance en-Mr. and Mrs. Mark Sibley severance entertained at dinner lately in Los Angeles, Cal., in honor of Rear Admiral and Mrs. J. G. Walker of this city. The table was handsomely decorated with American beauty roses. The places were marked with cards bearing the monogram of the host and hostess. Maldenhair ferms and rose leaves were strewn over the table.

Among the visitors here for the carnival season who were extensively entertained and feted were Miss Daisy Colton and Miss Margery Colton of Washington, D. C., the guests until yesterday of Misses Hazel and Nellie Ellis. These young women, who are prominent and attractive members of the younger set in the society of Washing-ton city, were much admired here at all of the balls, cotilions and other functions of the carnival, and smaller private affairs have been frequent in their honor. Their hostesses, the Misses Ellis, have always taken an active part socially since their debut a season or two ago (Miss Hazel Ellis having been queen of the carnival last year) and introduced their guests to a wide circle of friends,-New Orlans Times-Demo-

Bishop and Mrs. Earl Cranston have re-turned to Washington after a very delightful two-months' trip to Porto Rico. They are at the Hamilton until Tuesday. They will spend the next two months in New York, Boston, Chicago and Cincinnati, and return to their apartments in the Ontario

Last night at the home of Miss Fetcher, 214 1st street southeast, Miss Rosa Bourassa and Mr. Francis La Fleche were married by Rev. S. M. Newman in the presence of about forty friends and neighbors. The bride is a Chippewa Indian and the bridegroom of the Omaha tribe, his grandfather having been a Frenchman.

Mrs. La Fleche has been a teacher for several years, first at Carlisle, then she became a private secretary at Haskell Institute, and later secretary to the superintendent of the Indian exhibit at St. Louis. Mr. La Fleche is a graduate of the Natendent of the Indian exhibit at St. Louis.

Mr. La Fleche is a graduate of the National Law School of this city, where he took his master degree. He has written several scientific magazine articles, is a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, a member of the Anthropological Society, of the American Folk Lore Society, etc.

The couple received many cablegrams and letters of congratulation from friends abroad, together with many choice and valuable presents. They will reside at Miss Fletcher's for the present.

Mrs. W

Miss Briggs and Miss White, grand-daughters of Senator Frye, gave a luncheon at Rauscher's Wednesday, when their guests were Miss Fuller, Miss Taliaferro, Miss Barney, Miss Perkins, Miss Black, Miss Barney, Miss May Libbey, Miss Ethel Libbey, Miss Anderson, Miss Venable, Miss Straubinger, Miss Littlefield, Miss Johnson, Miss Walker, Miss Allen, Miss Gower, Mrs. William Frye White, Miss Curtin, Miss Florence Libbey, Miss Arnold, Miss Kirby, Miss Wilson, Miss Rixey, Miss Clark and Miss Bradford.

Mrs. Roswell D. Hitchcock has lost none of the enthusiasm for travel that she manifested a few years ago, when she made a trip to the Klondike, at the height of its boom. Now she is about to start for an island in the South Pacific ocean, where, she says, $15,000,600 were buried during a war between Pern and Chile. A steamer has been offered her by a wealthy friend, and it is intended to put the expedition on a scientific basis by carrying along a geologist, taxidermist, mineratogist, botanist, naturalist, and half a dozen students from the various universities interested in scientific research. She expects plenty trouble with the Costa Rican government, which claims the treasure and which has been looking for it for years. Mrs. Hitchcock had access to a map which she thinks will locate the valuable find, which is in bullion, plate and jeweled articles. Mrs. Roswell D. Hitchcock has lost none

THE OUTER A GARMENT SHOP 608 TO 614 ELEVENTH STREET.

> MERCHANDISE BOUGHT AT THIS STORE STANDS FOR STYLE AND QUALITY, BEARS INSPECTION AND IS OFFERED AT PRICES THAT INVITE MOST RIGID COM-PARISONS.

Trimmed Millinery, Tailored Suits, Frocks, Gowns, Waists, Skirts, Silk Petticoats and Coats.

Taste and refinement are evident in our garments to a greater degree than ever—the result of our constant insistence that manufacturers whom we have selected to supply our stock shall excel not only all their own best efforts of previous years, but also all other lines now being offered at the same prices.

We are ready with the spring stock as never before, a bigger, better showing than was ever known in Washington. In fact, a showing that compares favorably with any in that great "Fashion Center," New York, itself.

Tailored Suits.

Women's Tailored Suits of voile and chiffon Panama cloth, in entirely new Eton and coat models, at $25, $30, $35 and $45.

Women's Tailored Suits of fancy mixtures, in light and medium colors; new Eton and coat $19.75, $25, $30 and $35.

Women's Tailored Suits of plain and striped white serge, in box coat and Eton models, at $25, $30 and $35.

Tailored Suits for misses and small women, fashioned of Panama cloth, in black, navy, light gray, Alice blue, heliotrope and in mixtures; Eton models trimmed with braid; sizes 14 to 18 years—32 to 36 bust meas-$19.75

Tailored Suits for misses and small women, fashioned of broadcloth and Panama cloth, in stripes and mixtures; Eton model trimmed with braid; sizes 14 to 18 years—32 $25.00 to 36 bust, at.....

Coat Department.

$10 for Pony or Fitted Jackets of broad-cloth or covert; all sizes for women and misses; value, $14.

$15 for Raincoats of Priestley's genuine cravenette; three new models, in all colors; value, $18.

$15 for Long Coats in the fashionable plaids, with trimmings of cloth in contrasting shades; value, $20.

and $7.50 for Girls' Coats, ages 4 to 14, in all plain colors and the wanted fancy gray effects.

The Millinery Salon.

We invite special attention to our display of trimmed hats, the most notable ever held in this city in the opinion of many unbiased judges. We make every hat on the premises, only excepting our original imported models, from which they are adapted. We never show two hats alike, which insures a degree of exclusiveness welldressed women will not fail to appreciate. And with this exclusiveness is coupled moderate prices, due to our intention to make "Philipsborn Hats" as famous as "Philipsborn Suits" within a very short time. Special lines this week at $7.50

$10

$15

$20

Waist Department.

Our enlarged Waist Department is meeting with deserved success. Such charming, dainty creations cannot fail to meet with your approval when coupled with such reasonable prices.

95°C. for Lawn Waists, trimmed with embroidery or Val. lace. Long or short sleeves; ten styles; worth $1.50.

$1.50 for Waists of Persian lawn, with trimmings of rich embroidery. Five styles, with long or short sleeves; value, $2.95 for Waists with fronts of all-over embroidery. Long or short sleeves.

$4.95 and $5.95 for Waists of net or lace, over silk linings. Styles copied from late French models. Values, $7 and $9.

Skirt Department.

The skirt department has been greatly enlarged, and you'll find all of the wanted styles and fabrics on display. We call especial attention to the showing of "white" skirts, also separate skirts, in the new "Princess" models.

$5 for Skirts of fine Panama, in black, blue or gray. Circular-pleated model. Value, $7.

$7.50 for Skirts of Panama, Sicilian and plaids, in queen's gray; effective circular model. Value, $11.

$12 for various styles in Skirts, of chiffon Panama, voile and novelty shadow plaids. Man-tailored circular models that will not

$15 for highest-grade one-of-a-kind Imported Scotch Fancy Skirtings, also voile and Panama of highest class, in all colors, THEREFFEREREFFEREREFFEREREFFEREREFFEREREFFEREREFFEREREFFERE home in Bloomington for a visit of several Representative and Mrs. Charles L. Bartlett of Macon, Ga., and Representative and Mrs. Davis have taken apartments at the

Mrs. E. Livingston Breese, widow of the late Captain Breese, and her sister, Mrs. J. W. Wyeth of Pennsylvania, have gone to Atlantic City to spend several weeks.

Rev. Dr. Edward P. Gardner and wife of Mr. and Mrs. Wallbridge of Litchfield. Conn., are in the city and are located at

Miss Florence Adams, who has been in Cleveland, Ohio for the past month, has

Mrs. Bishop Warren of Colorado, who has been spending the winter in the city, has gone to New York city.

Mrs. Cyrus Chambers of 1924 19th street northwest has conceled all social engage-ments for the present on account of iliness

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Hillman of 1305 Yale street will be at home to their friends this evening from 7 to 11 o'clock, it being the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage.

Chester, N. J., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paxton at the Cutler, 1005 13th street

Cairo for the rest of the season posed to be somewhere on Cocos Island. one of seventeen millions, in bullion, and another of a million in Mexican coin. Mrs. Hitchcock thinks the finding of any or all of these is possible, and talks entertainingly on the subject. The date for the departure of the expedition is as yet not set.

The officers of the Legion of Loyal Wom-en will be at home to their friends of the Grand Army tomorrow evening at their hall, 419 10th street.

Rear Admiral Reiter has taken an apartment at the Westmoreland, on California avenue, and will be there after March 21. Miss Ruth Hellprin, one of the most promising of the younger artists of this city, was quietly married on Thursday to Mr. Alexander J. Hammerslaugh of New York city. Rev. Dr. Abram Simon blessed the union. Only the immediate family was

Mrs. Walter Fairfield of De Sales street, who has been quite ill for ten days, is able to be out. Mrs. Fairfield's little daughter, who has had scarlet fever, is improving

The High View Pleasure Club held its regular semi-monthly meeting at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, 500 it street northeast, on Tuesday, March 13. There was a full attendance of members and two new applications. After business some amusing and novel games were indulged in, prizes being won by John Brecht, Joseph Brown, Miss Ella Lawrenson, Mrs. F. H. Eberle, Clinton Brown and Miss Alice Kramer. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Hill, Mr. and Mrs. John Wells, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Eberle, Mr. and Mrs. John Brecht, Mr. and Mrs. Vanderschaaf, Misses Carrle and Ella Lawrenson, Carrle and Alice Kramer, Agnes Stewart, Lula Wahling, Messrs. E. K. Plant, A. J. Davis, Jos. Brown, Clinton Brown, Ralph Bricker, Bernard Wells, Robert Brecht, John Tolliver.

Mrs. Shartel, wife of Representative Shartel of Missouri, gave an informal teaturesday in honor of her house guests, Miss McKinley of Oklahoma, Miss Lindley and Mrs. Preston McGoodwin. The rooms were prettily decorated. Invitations were limited to guests of the Cairo.

after an extended tour through Cuba, Florida and other places in the south. The At the first luncheon given by a recent Two other colossal fortunes are also supbridge, Va., who were recently married A. Sterling of Illinois has gone to her

Mrs. Corey of 938 K street gave another of her pleasant card parties last week.

Mr. and Mrs. William Catto gave a very entertaining children's fancy dress party at the Cairo last week. Among those in cos-tume were Warner Harwood, representing Old King Cole; David Shartel, an old-fash-loned girl; Stratton Shartel, Happy Hooligan; Lester Randolph, Daisy; Eleanore Shartel, a chrysanthemum flower girl; Martha Randolph, Little Red Riding Hood; Robert Page, sailor boy; Kate Page, flower girl; Richard Page, lady-in-waiting; Mary Hardwick, fairy; Robert Lee Henry, sallor boy; Emmons S. Smith, jr., Little Boy Blue; Absolom Waller, jr., Rough Rider; Dorothy Dixon, Little Lord Fauntleroy; Virginia Dixon, colonial dame; Florence Dixon, Pop Corn; Dorothy Dixon gueen of Virginia Dixon, colonial dame; Florence Dixon, Pop Corn; Dorothy Dixon, queen of hearts; Florence Schneider, bride; Ethet Schneider, flower girl; Franklin Schneider, jockey boy; Ted Beall, Indian chief; Elizabeth Kingsbury, sallor boy; Katherine Elsom, fairy; Wilder Tomlinson, colonial gentleman; Rita Weller, colonial dame; Michael Weller, sallor boy; Edith Coombes, "oldmammy;" Lillian Hendrick, forget-menot; Francis Kennedy, Little Bo-Peep; Mary Culberson, Yum-Yum; Eveline Clay, butterfly; Elizabeth Webb, baby in blue, Other children present were Donald Dixon, Irene Brown, Helen Snapp, Phebe Adams, Elizabeth Adams, Harold Adams, Lillian May Henry, Louis Fuller, Howard Snapp, Mercedes Brown. The youthful maskers keenly enjoyed the entertainment provided for them, and their various costumes afforded much amusement to the spectators.

Miss Virginia Sharp entertained at her home, 1515 20th street northwest, by giving a card party last Monday evening. The parlors were decorated and refreshments served.

Mrs. Reed, widow of the late Dr. Reed, and daughter, Miss Blossom, who have been spending the winter at the Cairo, have gone to Virginia for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Absolom Waller and son, who have been at the Cairo for the winter, have gone to Richmond to visit for several weeks, and later will go to their country home in Virginia.

Miss Julia Goldsmith of Fredericksburg, Va., is the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. Rheine of N street. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pack and Mr. J. S. Leonthal have left the city to reside per-manently in Uniontown, Ala.

Mrs. Samuel Bleber and her mother, Mrs. Betty Gans, were at home to their many friends on Thursday afternoon, March 15, from 3 to 5 o'clock, at 630 G street southeast, in honor of Mrs. Gans' ninety-first birthday. They were assisted by Mrs. Isadore Kaufman and Mrs. Harry S. Wolf.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Lippman entertained

Miss Helen Luchs has as her guest her cousin, Miss Bessie Katzenstein.

(Continued on Third Page.)