Special Dispatch to The Star.

NEW YORK, November 3.-Trading was in light volume in this morning's stock market and a generally reactionary tone characterized the dealings. The market's tendencies were commonly attributed to the expectations that the weekly bank statement would make a poor showing, and there was also apparent modification of the extreme confidence as to the outcome of the elections that prevailed yesterday. The preliminary estimates of the currency movement of the week indicated a loss that banks of from $4,000,000 to $7,000,000 in cash, and this created some uneasiness as to next week's money market, irrespective of the outturn of the elections. Aside from the political situation there was little or nothing in the morning news of general or particular importance.

The London stock market was steady in most departments, although the American department showed some irregularity. Little was done here for foreign account. The dealings in one stock and another varied little except in point of activity and extent of fluctuations. Trading was largely for professional account and was represented chiefly by the closing out of contracts at the end of the week, as is usually done.

Transactions were largest in Reading.
Erie. Pennsylvania, Union and Southern Pacific, St. Paul Great Northern preferred and Northern Pacific. Fluctuations in the last named were unusually extensive. Brooklyn Rapid Transit was weak, declining on the speech delivered in Brooklyn last even-ing by the republican candidate for governor, in which he declared his intention rig-idly to investigate the operation of the com-

NEW YORK COTTON.

NEW YORK, November 3.-The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of 3a7 points, and sold off to a net decline of 8a10 points, with March touching 10 cents, as a result of stop-orders and lower cables. There was considerable covering at the decline, and prices rallied 4 or 5 points during the middle of the morning, owing to uneasiness over the heavy rain storm reported at Key West and reports of firmer outhern spots. There seemed to be little buying for long account, however, and the tone of the market was not better than steady. Cotton futures opened barely steady. ## TENDERS RESIGNATION.

Rev. W. G. Davenport to Retire From Anacostia Church.

The resignation of Rev. Willard G. Davenport as rector of the Emanuel Protestant Episcopal parish at Anacostia was presented last Thursday evening to a meeting of the vestry and was accepted, to take effect January 1, 1907. Mr. Davenport explained that a field less exacting in its duties was his choice at this stage of his career, and intimation was given that he would assume charge of a parish to include Congress Heights and its environs. The rector was urged by many to withdraw his resignation.

Mr. Davenport recently celebrated the nineteenth anniversary of his rectorship in Anacostia, he having entered upon his duties there in July, 1887.

LOCAL FINANCIAL NEWS.

The examination of the institutions doing a banking business in this District, and placed under the supervision of the controller of the currency by the act of Congress of June last, has been completed. With the exception of the cases already published, the examination has shown a satisfactory condition of the affairs. There were fourteen of these institutions, and the inspection which they have been subjected to by one of the most competent bank examiners in the force of the controller's office was most thorough in character.

Pnder the terms of the law such examinations may be made at any time by the controller, and, in addition, regular reports are to be made, just as is done by the na-tional banks and trust companies. It may be said in this connection that the usual be said in this connection that the usual examination which was made of the institutions belonging to the last-named class, and which was completed during the last few months, was also most thorough in character, so that in general it may be noted that the banking institutions of the District are being conducted in accordance with the best ideas of what constitutes good bank-

The authority given to the controller by the laws above referred to was more complete than is generally supposed, for after the condition of the branch in this city of the Aetna Banking and Trust Company was discovered it was found that the law gave to the Treasury Department control over the parent company located in Butte, Mont., simply for the reason that it was a banking concern incorporated under a state law, but having a branch in this District. This latter circumstance brought the company under federal control. Under this law, which was supposed to relate only to banks in this District, the controller has taken charge of the main concern in Butte, and it is now in the hands of a receiver whom he appointed.

There was nothing of special moment oc-curred at the meeting today of the stock exchange. The market continued to be listless and bare of orders. The tendency toward higher figures in the case of some of the securities was noticeable. There was not a great deal of trading.

HOLY MARCH SCHEDULE.

"Saints of Christ" to Convene at 2

P. M. Tomorrow. Between 350 and 400 members of the Church of God and Saints of Christ from different states are reported to have already arrived in the city in compliance with the call of the ecclesiastical head of the sect, William S. Crawdy, who is styled the prophet of God. They are here to participate in the annual grand march of the Saints of Christ, scheduled to take place at 2 o'clock p.m. tomorrow.

As the tabernacle at 4th street and New York avenue is insufficient to seat so large an audience as will be in attendance on their ceremonies in connection with this annual "holy march" and demonstration, the members found it necessary to secure the auditorium of the True Reformers' Hall, at 12th and U streets northwest.

A largely attended service was held at this hall last night. The central attraction was the "prophet of God," through whom alone, they claim, the oracles of God can reach men. Elders Oliver Tyler and E. B. Williams conducted the ceremonies last night at the hall, and a number of visit-ing elders delivered addresses. Elder E. B. Williams heads the local com-mittee in charge of all the arrangements for the accommodation of the visiting saints. Elder Oliver Tyler will serve as the chief dispenser of the commands of the prophet to the great body of evangelists, elders and saints at the meeting of the holy conclave. Chief Theresa M. Roles will have the supervision of the arrangements

At the several services the following representatives of the holy rank and heads of districts will be present: Evangelist Joseph Crowdy Cnief, Grand Father Abraham William H. Plummer, Evangelist John Dickerson at large, Evangelist Frank V. Smith at large, Evangelist J. W. Brent, over the first district; Evangelist C. N. Butler, over the second district; Evangelist L. C. Grimes, over the southern district; Evangelist P. C. Dotson, over the third district; Evangelist Malinda Morris; Chief Theresa M. Roles, Chief Anna Mercer, Chief Hattie Smih.

The grand march will be under the man-agement of Chief of the World Theresa M Roles, assisted by Evangelist Malinda Morris and Chief Anna Mercer, Chief Hattie Smith and the United States Daughters, Charitable Daughters and Volunteer Daughters, with the support of U. S. Brothers the U. S. Daughters and Charitable Daugh ters Volunteer Daughters, and all the Daughters, including the former elders in the Church of God, are to wear a costume similar to that which was worn at the Passover. All are to wear the costume of brown dress and blue silk waists given them at the Passover by the Prophet of God.

All of the male members are to wear their brown suits, full regalia, as at the Pass-The "visiting saints" in attendance on this occasion will each bring an offering of $5.00, and all children an offering of $2.50 each. This is for the cahirtable work of the "want" ad. in The Star will reach the per-
