Comments on the Players.

The splendid showing of Pitcher Tom TIGERS' ERRORS GIVE Hughes in the opening game here, and also against Boston last Thursday, when he shut the Beaneaters out without a run, is most gratifying to the owners of the Washington club and the numerous "fans" who believe in the tall twirler.

"I am glad you are feeling good, old sport," chimed in Frank Kitson, "as I am feeling that way myself this spring and you will have to go some to head me off. I have not felt overconfident about my arm for the past three years, but this spring I believe I can pitch winning ball from the start and that I will land many games for the Nationals. Several of the New York scribes, when here with the Highlanders, claimed that Perrine was simply lucky in his bitting, and that he was very ordinary. But the fellow has kept up his grand work and the Boston papers praised him very highly. It will be admitted that Perrine got in several lucky base hits against the New Yorks, but he continues hitting the is a critical one, and there has not been a time when he didn't hit the ball on the nose, although it didn't always go safe. President Noyes believes his investment in Perrine has been an exceptionally good one.

Tim Murnane, the nestor of base ball writers, does not think it is dignified in Manager Cantillon going out on the coaching lines to help along the Nationals, and claims that Joe can do just as good work from the bench. From this point it looks of Cantillon, as they have been going along at an easy rate for the jast three years, and from the way the team has been playing this spring it would seem that this contention is right. The Nationa's have been altogether too quiet when playing with other clubs, and Manager Joe puts just Cantillon is certainly responsible, in his of the new manager. Managers coaching from the side lines may not Manager Joe's work clearly demonstrates that they like the innovation, and there's the answer. ## BASE BALL NOTES.

The Athletics have always been "hoodoos" to the Nationals in the Quaker city, but perhaps Manager Cantillon can break it up. Case Patten may hook up with Plank this afternoon, and if they come together the contest should be a great one. The Boston Americans will work in New York today under Manager Huff.

racing enthusiasts braved the elements. It snowed nearly all the afternoon and the track, while not heavy, was slow. Three I favorites and two second choices won and all were heavily supported.

The most interesting feature was the first appearance of the four-year-old Dr. Gardner, for whom Timothy D. Sullivan and Frank J. Farrell paid $15,000 to Barney Schreiber last summer. The colt had received a careful preparation at the hands of Trainer Frank D. Weir, and as he is believed to have a brilliant future his performance was awaited with eagerness by all turfmen. He started in the second event, a handicap at six and a half fur- 13 longs, carrying top weight, 126 pounds. His owners and their friends took 4 to 5 with avidity and betting a large amount they sent him to the post at 11 to 20.

"SPIKE" ROBSON

PHILADELPHIA, April 20 .- "Spike" Robson, the English feather-weight champion, will sail for home today. Robson had been thinking for some time of quitting this country, but delayed his departure until after the Attell-O'Toole bout here last Wed-against O'Toole, the indications were that Robson would remain here and take Abe in a long bout in the west. Attell, however, did so poorly against O'Toole that it ruined all chances for a big offer for another Robson-Attell bout for some time. According to his present plans, Robson will take a long rest on his arrival in England and return to America about the end of September in order to get on a fight with the best man here for the championship of the world. Before leaving Philadelphia Thursday, Robson made the following

"I wish to thank the American public for the treatment I have received on this trip the treatment I have received on this trip, and I am sorry that I cannot sufficiently express my feelings on the matter. "My real reason for going home is that I cannot stand the heat here in the summer, and I dread being here when the hot spells come. Last year I was unable to do myself justice in the summer, and now that I have demonstrated my ability against such men as Abe Attell, Tommy Murphy and Young Erne, I don't want to take chances of being beaten by the heat. When I come back in the fall I shail be pleased to make a match with any man in the country at 123 pounds and fight to a finish for the championship of the world. Since I met Attell I have received offers from San Francisco to meet Attell in twenty rounds; from Lymansville, R. I., for fifteen rounds with Attell; from New York for eight rounds with Tony Bender; from Dayton, Ohio, for twenty rounds with some man to be selected; a proposition
