GENERAL NEWS GATHERED

ON THE RIVER FRONT

Laths from the maritime provinces of Canada are one of the few things that on which duty has to be paid. The threemasted schooner I. K. Stetson, which is officer aboard checking the bundles of laths as they swing over the rail of the charged Johnson & Wimsatt, the conforce imposes a duty of 25 cents per thousand on laths from the Canadian provinces. The Stetson has aboard about 600,000 laths, but of these the duty will be paid on 492,000, or $123. The remainder of her cargo came from a maine port and is free of duty. About $600 is paid each year at the Georgetown custom house on importations of laths from Numerous herring from the lower Potomac are being received by the dealers at the 11th street wharf market almost every trip made by the steamers to the lower river, and the dealers say that if warm weather continues an early openfor. In the shipments of fresh fish from river points brought here aboard the steamer Harry Randall, which arrived yesterday, were a couple of hundred herring as fine looking as any caught in the dred and were in demand, it is said, in the wholesale market uptown. As yet but few shad from Florida waters have etc., 12 to 53 days, $90 to $240. been received by the local dealers. This is taken by the dealers to indicate a shortage in the supply in the Potomac in the spring. The dealers say they would like to see two or three weeks of cold weather with ice on the river, so that the will prevent the fishing season from opening too soon. At several of the haul seine shores on the river the nets have been in the water for two weeks, but as
