SHE CHASES PHYSICIAN WITH IODINE ON FACE

Mrs. Hattie Vierbuchen Creates Sensation—Fails to Appear for Trial.

Mrs. Hattie Vierbuchen, 1658 Columola road, arrested last night by Detective Walsh of the seventh precinct on a charge of disorderly conduct, did not appear to answer the charge in the Police Court today, forfeiting $5 collateral she had deposited for her appearance. According to the police, Mrs. Vierbuchen last night chased Dr. M Laughlin, whose office is at 105 Rhode Island avenue northwest, down Wisconsin avenue, causing considerable disturbance. Detective Walsh caught her at the corner of N street.

Dr. Laughlin's face was stained on one they think was thrown by Mrs. Vierbuchen. She denies this, however, saying that when he tried to keep her away from him his hand hit the cork of the bottle, knocking it out and causing some of the fluid to fly out. Dr. Laughlin thought at first it was vitroil.

Refuses to Prosecute. The unusual spectacle of a young and attractively gowned woman being led through the streets by the police attracted a large crowd, several hundred persons following them to the station house. Dr. Laughlin refused to prosecute, and a charge of disorderly conduct only was entered. Collateral of $5 was demanded at the station. Mrs. Vierbuchen had only $3 with her, and Detective Walsh furnished the rest, Mrs. Vierbuchen giving him a check for the amount. According to information received by the police, Mrs. Vierbuchen entered house in Georgetown where Dr. Laugh lin was visiting. He saw her coming in, the police say, and immediately excused himself, going outside. Then, according to the police, the chase started, the physician trying to get away. He ran from P street down to N street on Wisconsin avenue before nis pursuer was arrested.

DAMAGED BY SUBMARINE. Barge Arrives at Baltimore With Big Hole in Side.

With a big hole in her side the result of the blow she received from the navy submarine C-2, while she was in tow of the tug Calvert, off Smiths point, at the mouth of the Potomac, the barge John T Donohue has arrived at Baltimore. It is alleged that the submarine struck the barge bows on and the hole it made in her side was about ten feet square, extaken into the great Wicomico river, where she sank: Wreckers from Baltimore raised her, made temporary repairs and took her to Baltimore. At the time of the accident the Donohue was on her way from New York to Baltimore with asphalt. After the cargo is removed the barge will be docked for survey and re-
