QUAIL UPON TOAST WILL BE A LUXURY

U. S. to Strictly Enforce Law Governing Shipments From Prohibited Sections.

PROSECUTION IS FACED BY SEVERAL DEALERS

Regulations in Vogue in Nearby States Set Forth by Department.

"Quail on toast the coming season probably will be a luxury," commented the proprietor of a cafe last night, "if the federal government insists upon a strict enforcement of the game laws and prohibits shipments of birds from prohibited sections."

It was said the Department of Agriculture will enforce the law without favor. Several dealers suspected of having violated the game laws have been in communication with federal officials and rumor has it that the complaints may result in prosecutions or monetary settlements with the government. Officials last night refused to say if any prosecutions had been instituted.

In a recent bulletin issued by the biological survey of the Department of Agriculture, Henry W. Henshaw, chief, and Dr. T. S. Parsons, assistant, and Frank L. Earnshaw, assistants, much information is given respecting the game laws, and from it prospective gunners get an idea of what is necessary in order to keep out of the clutches of the law.

Regulations in Effect.

It is set out in the bulletin that the federal regulations for the protection of migratory and insectivorous birds became effective October 1, the Agricultural Department having formulated them and the President having signed them. The regulations cover the entire country, and go into detail in the matter of the birds that are protected and lists of the rights of gunners.

Attention is called in the bulletin to legislative enactments the past year concerning game, lists of birds and seasons that are required in the several states, explaining that a number of states have passed resident game laws, requiring residents to pay for the privilege of killing game.

Referring to the open seasons, it is set out in the publication that in some states certain days of the week constitute closed seasons throughout the time in which killing is permitted.

Sunday Hunting Barred.

Hunting on Sunday is prohibited in all of the states and provinces east of the 100th meridian, except in Illinois, Louisiana, Michigan, Texas, Wisconsin and Quebec. Mondays constitute a close season for waterfowl in Ohio, and locally in Maryland and North Carolina; and other week days for wild fowl in several favorite ducking grounds in Delaware, Maryland, Virginia and North Carolina. Hunting is prohibited on election day in Allegheny, Baltimore, Cecil, Frederick and Harford counties, Md., and when snow is on the ground in New Jersey, Delaware, Virginia and Maryland. The county laws of Maryland and North Carolina, which are too numerous to be included satisfactorily, are not incorporated in the following table, which otherwise may be regarded as a practically complete resume of the regulations now in force. The difficulty of securing absolute accuracy in a table of this kind is very great, and the absence in the laws of many states of express legislation as to the incision or execution of the date upon which seasons open or close makes exactness almost an impossibility.

The table referred to is fully set out in the bulletin, and it covers the entire country.

In about one-half the states laws have been passed to prevent aliens from gunning, while in Arkansas non-residents are not permitted to do any gunning except upon property they own.

Seasons in Nearby States.

In Maryland and Virginia, the states in which residents of this city are most deeply interested, the season for shooting upland game opens November 1. In Maryland the season for shooting quail, grouse and rabbits closes December 25, while in Virginia it extends the season to February 1. Shooting of game in the District of Columbia other than marsh birds is prohibited.

A fee of $100 is charged non-residents shooting in Virginia. In Rappahannock county written and duly acknowledged permission is required before hunting or trapping on another's land is permitted. Such permissions are good for four months.

Maryland Law Digest.

Because of the numerous local laws in Maryland, the federal publication contains a digest of the entire law, as follows:

County and local licenses are issued at the following rates, including clerk's fees: Allegany, $10.50; Baltimore, resident of state, $5.20; non-resident of state, $20.20 (rabbit, squirrel, quail, grouse, jacksnipe); Calvert, $10.50; Carroll, $5; Carroll, Cecil, $10 (rabbit, quail, grouse, woodcock, blackbird, redbird, rail, plover and crowbill, teal, mallard, sprigtail, back and summer ducks); Charles County, $10 (rabbit, quail and woodcock); Dorchester, $15.50; Garrett, $25.50; Harford, $10.50 (all game except waterfowl); Howard, $5; Kent, $15.50; $5.50 if invited by land owner (all game except waterfowl); Montgomery, $15.50; Prince Georges, $20.50 (upland game); Queen Anne, $4.00; St. Marys, $20.50 (all game); Somerset, resident of state, $2.75; non-resident of state, $10.50; Talbot, $10 (upland game); Worcester, $10.50. Licenses of land owners require no license, except in Allegany, Baltimore, Carroll, Cecil, Dorchester, Garrett, Kent, Somerset, Talbot and Worcester counties. (Dorchester grants the privilege if the non-resident be relative of his host.) Anne Arundel prohibits hunting by non-residents of the county except by permission of land owner. Charles prohibits hunting of waterfowl by non-residents. In several counties rents pay special licenses, as follows: Baltimore, $1.20 (rabbit, squirrel, quail, grouse, jacksnipe); Anne Arundel, $2; boyo and brush blind (west side of Chesapeake bay); $2; $2.50; Cecil, $2.50; Kent (on Bohemia and Elk rivers), $2.50; $5.00 (on Bohemia, Elk and Sassafras); Worcester, $1.50; Dorchester, $1; Harford, $2.50; Kent, $2.50; Prince Georges, $2.50; St. Marys, $2.50; Somerset, $2.50; Talbot, $2.50; Worcester, $2.50. In Cecil county by the Cecil County Game Protective Association.

Applicants for licenses over sixteen years old must furnish written consent of parents or guardians.

Members of incorporated game clubs owning real estate assessed at not less than $1,000 and organized prior to 1907, are exempt from the payment of license over eighteen years old of real estate assessed at not less than $500, or non-residents invited (for not more than four days) by members of incorporated club for hunting foxes, partridge or quail.

United States soldiers stationed in the state and officers of the United States forest service are exempt from license. Licenses are issued to boys under eighteen without written permission of parent or guardian.

Local sportsmen already are making extensive preparations to enjoy sport in the nearby states early in the season, and

WIFE SLAYER RECOVERING

Principal in Chicago Hotel Murder Says He Wants No Lawyer.

CHICAGO, October 18.—William C. Ellis, the Cincinnati leather merchant, who confessed yesterday to killing his wife and attempting suicide in a hotel here, was in good physical condition tonight.

Ellis' wounds were dressed by a jail physician, who said Ellis' head seemed to be clear and that he would recover rapidly from his self-inflicted hurts. He is closely watched to prevent possible repetition of his attempt to commit suicide.

Ellis told interviewers today that it was causeless jealousy that led him to kill his wife and that he would offer no defense. The cause of his mistaken jealousy he said was "a secret."

"I am guilty. I want no lawyer. I will go to my punishment with my secret in my own keeping," he said.

Ellis explained that he had assured himself too late that he had no reason to suspect his wife. He refused to reveal how his suspicions were removed.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, October 18.—The body of Mrs. Williams C. Ellis, whose husband confessed in Chicago yesterday that he killed her, was brought to this city today. The remains were taken to an undertaking establishment pending her arrival in Chicago of Philip F. Fiedler, her brother-in-law.

OFFERS TO JOIN IN BOND.

OMAHA, Neb., October 18.—George P. Bemis, former mayor of Omaha and wealthy real estate man, tonight sent a telegram to Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, offering to join in a bond for $100,000 or any other amount to insure the government against untoward acts by Mrs. Emeline Fankhurst. Mr. Bemis' telegram follows:

"Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, New York City: 'In view of the action of the immigration officials in the case of Mrs. Fankhurst, I wish to join you in offering to the government a bond of $100,000 or any other amount to insure our great republic against any untoward actions of this great champion of woman suffrage. Politicians should in nowise enter into the policy of the government in Mrs. Fankhurst's case, and it is only fair to expect the administration to take a broad, charitable position in the matter of permitting her to enter an American port.'

Mr. Bemis edited a woman suffrage paper thirty years ago.

ENGAGE IN "JOINT WALLOR."

Representative Gardner and Rivals Representative Debate in Boston.

BOSTON, October 18.—Faneuil Hall was the scene of a unique feature of the gubernatorial campaign tonight, when Representative A. P. Gardner, republican candidate for governor, and Wendell Phillips Thorpe, representing the progressive candidate, Charles S. Bird, engaged in what Representative Gardner had advertised as "a joint wallor."

Mr. Gardner announced his part in the proceeding as "A lecture on Charles Sumner Bird," under the title of "Benevolence as a political asset." He claimed that his investigation of conditions in Mr. Bird's factories showed them to be different from conditions advocated in Mr. Bird's platform and in the campaign literature of the progressives.

The greater portion of Mr. Thorpe's remarks, after he had praised Mr. Bird as an employer, was devoted to an exposition of progressive principles.

PURSE SNATCHER FLEES

Abe Abrahams Fails to Capture Thief of Wife's Cash in Long Chase.

Abe Abrahams, 1407 New Jersey avenue northwest, last night gave chase to a pocketbook snatcher who had grabbed a silver mesh purse containing $12 from Mrs. Abrahams, pursuing him through streets and alleys. The unidentified colored robber was not caught.

Mr. Abrahams, with his wife, was on his way home from his store on 8th street northwest. The couple were passing along O street between 4th and 5th streets when the purse snatcher came from behind them, grabbed the purse, and ran.

Police Get Good Description.

He was some distance from the couple before Mr. Abrahams started in pursuit following the robber through O street alley in the direction of N street.

When the robber had finally outdistanced his pursuer and was out of sight Mr. Abrahams returned to where his wife awaited him. They went to the second police precinct and reported the affair.

The police were furnished a good description of the robber, which was telephoned to the several police stations and a reward will be paid for information leading to his capture.

ROYALTY STILL AT OUTS.

Strained Relations Exist Between Kaiser and Crown Prince.

BERLIN, October 18.—The crown prince's absence from the dedication of the Leipzig battle memorial today attracted much attention as indicating strained relations with the emperor. The prince went to a hunting lodge in the Bavarian mountains deer stalking. According to the Lok, Anzeiger, the emperor sent his adjutant, Gen. von Gertard, to Munich for the prince. The adjutant proceeded to the mountains and returned with the crown prince and princess to Munich at night. All immediately took a train for Berlin. It is surmised that this is connected with the disturbed relations between father and son.

RACING STANDS BURNED AT HAVRE DE GRACE

Fire at Famous Track Supposed to Have Been of Incendiary Origin.

HAVRE DE GRACE Md., October 18.—The $50,000 grandstand and other buildings of the Havre de Grace race track were destroyed by fire late tonight. The fire, which is supposed to have been of incendiary origin, broke out about midnight in the grandstand and fanned by a gale spread quickly through the great structure, and then to the clubhouse and other buildings. The loss will reach $150,000.

The track is owned by the Harford County Agricultural and Breeders' Association and among the principal stockholders are leading politicians of Baltimore and Philadelphia sportsmen. It is reported that a dozen horses perished, but this is doubted, as all the racing animals are now at the Laurel race track, where racing is in progress.

The volunteer fire department of Havre De Grace started for the track with their apparatus, but as the track is a mile from the town, they gave up about half-way to the fire. An effort was made by the watchman and others to check the progress of the fire, but the flames drove them back.

The stables, as well as the grandstand, were destroyed. The track, with the exception of Old Pimlico in Baltimore, was the finest in the state, having been built about two years ago at a cost of nearly $1,000,000. The reflection from the fire could be seen for miles around and the grandstand and other buildings were burned fiercely. The sparks from the burning grandstand began flying in all directions and it was not long before the clubhouse, the judges' stand, the paddock and the stables also were a mass of flames.

Onion Warehouse Burns.

KENTON, Ohio, October 18.—A warehouse containing 8,000 bushels of onions and belonging to James Latimore of McGuffey was destroyed by fire tonight. The loss is about $10,000. The firemen were busy for two hours at the sight of the destruction.
