

Hagen demonstrates Golf superiority: W. B. A. A. N. closes End Season in August

U. S. PRO MAKES STIRRING FINISH IN BRITISH EVENT

Sinks a Difficult Putt to Beat Out Whitcombe, English Star—Great Recoveries Made by American On Last Nine Holes.

HOYLAK, England, June 28.—The never-failing smile on the cheery face of Walter Hagen was expanded into a broad grin today. For the second time in three years the dapper American-born professional is the open champion of Great Britain, having demonstrated with driver, brassie, mashie and putter, his superiority over the best golfers produced in England and Scotland—home of the game.

There were names to conjure with in the list of those who teed off for the seventy-two-hole grand over the Royal Liverpool links—Taylor, Tolley, Mitchell, Ray, Wethered, Duncan, Havers and a long string of others, not to mention the other entrants from the United States—"Mac" Smith, genial Gene Sarazen, Long Jim Barnes and the veteran G. H. Nichols.

But when the thud and whack of club against ball had ceased and the ball had been put in motion, it was Hagen who was carrying off on the shoulders of the gallery.

He finished with a difficult downhill putt just one stroke in front of E. R. Whitcombe, the young English star, who had been in the lead for most of the day. At thirty-six holes Hagen had a lead of two strokes. More than 10,000 saw the finish.

The scores of the leaders follow:

Player	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Total
Walter Hagen	77	77	77	77	308
E. R. Whitcombe	78	78	78	78	312
Macdonald Smith	79	79	79	79	316
Raymond Bland	80	80	80	80	320
J. H. Taylor	81	81	81	81	324
George Duncan	82	82	82	82	328
Jim Barnes	83	83	83	83	332
Americans	84	84	84	84	336

Tied at 54 holes. The story of this thrilling day over the long, hard course of the Royal Liverpool Golf Club is the story of the battle between Hagen and Whitcombe. They were tied at the end of fifty-four holes, at 224 each. Whitcombe took the lead in the first nine holes of the final round, but Hagen, who had been in the lead for most of the day, came back to tie him at the end of the day.

At the eleventh—a full iron drive against the wind—Hagen's ball plunged into the bunker guarding the green, so that he got another 4, instead of a par 3. After a long drive at the twelfth, Hagen pushed his iron again and failed to drop his second shot on the green. But he did not let this worry him. He took his first putt into the cup, and this was another.

At the thirteenth—a short hole—one of the most terrible bunkers on the course trapped Hagen's iron drive. He hit the bunker, but he did not let this worry him. He took his first putt into the cup, and this was another.

At the fourteenth—a short hole—one of the most terrible bunkers on the course trapped Hagen's iron drive. He hit the bunker, but he did not let this worry him. He took his first putt into the cup, and this was another.

At the fifteenth—a long hole—one of the most terrible bunkers on the course trapped Hagen's iron drive. He hit the bunker, but he did not let this worry him. He took his first putt into the cup, and this was another.

WILLS-FIRPO SCRAP IS APPROVED IN N. J.

BY DENMAN THOMPSON.

ANNOUNCEMENT by the management of the Washington ball club that Doc Prothro had been released outright to Memphis in exchange for Tommy Taylor, third baseman of the Southern Association club, was received with considerable surprise by local fandom, which held the Tennessee tooth-jerker in high esteem because of his hitting ability. As explained at headquarters, the deal, which also includes the relinquishing of Outfielder Carr Smith with a string attached, to be returned this fall, was made because of the superior fielding ability of Taylor, who is touted as much more capable on defense than Prothro, while equally effective in attack.

The exchange, which was dictated by Manager Harris after both President Griffith and Scout Joe Engle had inspected and O. K.'d Taylor, was made because the youthful pilot had become convinced that Prothro, for all his undoubted prowess as a fielder, fell several notches short of par in a fielding way from a big league angle and could not hope to improve sufficiently in this respect. Taylor, who has been ordered to report here immediately, and is expected to put in an appearance by Monday, has been assigned to the outfield, later being shifted to third base, where he will play in 133 games with the two teams during 1924 Taylor was at 433 times and made 12 errors in 1923. He is a right-handed batsman, stands 5 feet 10 inches tall, weighs 175 pounds and is 31 years old. He is reported to have been clearing well above the 300 mark for the Chicks this season.

HORNSBY MAY SET N. L. BATTING MARK

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Rogers Hornsby, batting champion of the National League and star second baseman with the St. Louis Cardinals, is out to establish a new National League record by leading the circuit in hitting for the fifth consecutive year, and last year he set a record for the National League by hitting .358. He is reported to have been clearing well above the 300 mark for the Chicks this season.

AMERICAN FOILS TEAM IS BEATEN BY DENMARK

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

PARIS, June 28.—The team from Denmark, which defeated the United States Olympic fencing team by 9 matches to 7, won the final match of the tournament. The Belgian team defeated Argentina by 6 matches to 2. Each team won eight matches, so the decision was made on the number of touches.

YANKS TURN ON RED SOX AND REGAIN THIRD PLACE

PENT-UP Yankee wrath, roused to the breaking point by six straight defeats, vented itself upon the Red Sox, and today the New Yorkers again occupy third place, from which they were recently ousted by the Bostonians.

The world champions' comeback was registered in a double victory over Fohls men by the decisive scores of 12 to 7 and 10 to 5. A grand total of twenty-five hits, supplemented by six Boston errors, enabled the humiliated Yankees to start their drive back toward the top of the American League. Seven Red Sox pitchers failed to stop the visitors' onslaught.

Base Ball AS BIG LEAGUERS PLAY IT

HARDEST PLAY FOR SHORTSTOP.

What is the hardest thing a shortstop has to do?

Answered by JOE SEWELL, Shortstop, Cleveland Indians: The hardest hitting shortstop in either league. Batted .333 last year.

In my opinion, the hardest play for the shortstop is the slow-hit ball with an average runner at the plate. In order to complete the play the shortstop must come in at full speed, field the ball with both hands and throw to a base while "off-balance." This makes the throw very difficult, and results in causing this to be the hardest play for the shortstop to handle—and handle successfully. The next time you go to a ball game watch the shortstop particularly, and watch him handle a play like this. If he does it well he is probably a pretty good fielding shortstop, because the play requires great skill.

Both the New York-Boston and Brooklyn-Philadelphia games were called off on account of rain.

ARGENTINES PICKED TO WIN POLO CROWN

PARIS, June 28.—With the Olympic polo competition opening today at St. Cloud Park, where the United States plays France, L'Auto's expert takes the occasion to canvass the chances of the five nations entered in the event. Argentina, he thinks, should finish first, followed by the United States, with Great Britain third, Spain fourth and France last.

He admits that he hesitated somewhat in forecasting the winner, not having seen the Argentines in action, but they have only been playing in mixed matches, having as he puts it, "wisely refused" to play the Americans last Sunday. He is particularly enthusiastic concerning the merits of the thirty-five ponies brought over by the Argentines, believing they are superior to the twenty-eight American mounts.

The British, he writes, are not making the strongest effort in the Olympics, but are reserving themselves for the headwork tournament in October.

The United States line-up in today's match will be: Elmer J. Boesche, No. 1; Rodman Wanamaker, No. 2; Fredrick Roe, No. 3; Thomas Hitchcock, No. 4; Elmer J. Boesche, No. 5; Rodman Wanamaker, No. 6; Fredrick Roe, No. 7; Thomas Hitchcock, No. 8.

The French team consists of Count Pierre de Jumilhac, No. 1; Jacques Macaire, No. 2; Jacques Macaire, No. 3; Jacques Macaire, No. 4; Jacques Macaire, No. 5; Jacques Macaire, No. 6; Jacques Macaire, No. 7; Jacques Macaire, No. 8.

SUZANNE DECLARED SUPERIOR TO HELEN

LONDON, June 28.—As Helen Wills and Suzanne Lenglen successively dispose of each fresh opponent in the Wimbledon tennis critics show intensified interest in the prospect of a meeting in the final between the American and world champions.

Reviewing yesterday's play, the experts in their articles this morning have been as almost unanimous in their praise for Suzanne Lenglen, who they say played even better than yesterday's Helen Wills, who they say played even better than yesterday's Helen Wills.

SCHEDULE OF 172 GAMES MADE FOR SANDLOTTERS

Bulk of Engagements Booked Are for Midget Teams, But Senior and Junior Clubs Will Be Busy.

July 4 Double-Header Day.

TEAMS of the Washington Base Ball and Amateur Athletic Association are to be quite busy during the months of July and August. Pop Cook, secretary of the organization, has arranged a schedule for the balance of the season, and it calls for 172 games to be played after the June series are completed in the several classes. There are to be played by the senior nines thirty-four engagements, while the juniors will hold sixty-one contests and the midgets seventy-seven.

Most of the sections of the three classes in the association are to start their new schedules July 4, with double-headers, but a couple of groups will get under way before Independence. Unless inclement weather interferes, all of the title races in the sections will be concluded the latter part of August.

The schedules follow:
