

WORLD POPULATION INCREASE IS SEEN

Economist Declares Gain Is More Than Half Per Cent a Year.

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR.

Special Dispatch to The Star.

NEW YORK, June 26.—Robert R. Kuczynski, distinguished European economist, estimates that the world's population is increasing each year at the rate of about five-eighths of 1 per cent.

Thus the earth would soon be overpopulated.

But the present rate, says the economist, "is largely due to an age composition which tends to swell the number of births and to lower the number of deaths."

The Brookings Institution carried on an investigation into this matter and the results have already been published in a book, "The World's Population," which shows that the number of children in all the countries of Western and Northern Europe, North America and Australia combined is no longer sufficient to replace the reproductive age groups.

The institution, by its figures, shows that the Anglo-Saxons, Germans, Scandinavians and French no longer reproduce themselves. They are doomed to die out and their countries sooner or later will be occupied by other races.

"This is the conclusion of the Brookings Institution."

Saskatchewan buys about $50,000,000 worth of farm machinery every year. It will buy more in 1929, much more.

The City of Regina, for years known as one of the world's greatest distributing centers for farm machinery, is now receiving even more machinery from all parts of the globe than ever before.

But so far this year, except for a substantial increase in the sale of tractors, the Regina's strength in this field is due to the fact that it lies in the province of one of the finest areas in the province.

Thirty thousand square miles of territory look to Regina for their daily requirements, not only for agricultural machinery, but in all other lines of business. Regina, therefore, has become a railroad center and a distributing point of very great importance in Western Canada.

Saskatchewan, although far from a settled capacity, has more railroad mileage than any other province in Canada except Ontario.

An American, boasting of the hundreds of thousands of miles of United States railroads should remember that Canada possesses the greatest railway system in the world—the Canadian National—as well as the greatest privately owned railway corporation in the world—the Canadian Pacific.

Retail trade is beginning to feel the effects of the usual summer decline. In no year in the last decade has there been any increase in business during the summer.

Distinct and marked decline during the summer from the levels reached in the early spring has occurred every year. The fall revival begins late in August.

Recently the Harvard Bureau of Business Research compiled figures which show the increasing costs of department stores.

In most chain stores the percentage of expenses to sales is declining as a result of operation. But this is not the case with department stores. Large economies from increased business are no longer possible. The increasing cost of taking on new business now cuts sharply into earnings.

But to return to Harvard figures. They show that in department stores throughout the United States with a sales volume of more than one million dollars each, 26.4 per cent of the total sales went into expenses, leaving a profit of 3.8 per cent in 1928.

Year expenses have been increasing and net profits decreasing. In 1928 the expenses amounted to 31.7 per cent of sales, while the net profits were 1.5 per cent.

An attempt is being made to meet this situation through the organization of chain department stores. But the fact remains that the buying power of most department stores is large enough now, so that only a small saving, comparatively, can be accomplished through centralized buying.

There is always a point reached where no cut can be made by purchasing more. In other words, there are many articles sold just as cheaply to department stores with a sales volume of $5,000,000 yearly as to stores with a sales volume of $500,000.

To date the chain department store has not gained ground as rapidly as the chain operator in other spheres of industry.

The general upward movement of prices has been arrested largely by consolidations in the manufacturing industry, says the National Industrial Conference Board.

Based upon 60 lines of manufacturing the board's study discloses that the general upward trend of prices from 1900 to 1925 has been much less pronounced in those branches of manufacturing in which industrial consolidations have been a dominant factor in the market.

The rise in prices in the 26 lines of manufacturing so affected was only 28.3 per cent, as against a rise of 110.6 per cent during the same period in the 21 lines of manufacturing which have not been affected by the merger movement.

In the 13 remaining branches of manufacturing, in which consolidations have been formed to a limited extent, prices during the same period rose about 70.7 per cent.

The interesting fact, however, brought out by the study of the board, is the popular impression of the financial success of consolidations generally is illusory. These mergers did not prove exceptionally profitable. Their combined record in this regard was found to be not much different from that of independent business concerns.

The conclusion of the conference board indicates that up to 1925 industrial mergers brought about lower prices to consumers and steadier employment for employees.

BALTIMORE STREET CAR COMPANY SHOWS GAIN
Special Dispatch to The Star.
BALTIMORE, June 26.—Earnings of the United Railways in May showed an increase of $3,015.85 over earnings for the same month a year ago, after deducting $70,974.58 more for depreciation than in May, 1928, according to a report submitted to the Public Service Commission.

For the first five months of this year the passenger revenue has increased $153,775.99, but depreciation allowances have been $348,501.74 more than for the same period of 1928, resulting in $184,725.75 less net income.

The company mentions for the five months a saving of $166,916.58 as due to "economies in management." The economies are not tabulated as such, but the table of service shows a decrease of 295,300 in car miles, 11,390,239 in seat miles and reduction of 5,237,574 revenue passengers.

The question of laying by such a large amount, set at $1,638,660 for the year, will be argued before the United States Supreme Court next October, when the company's appeal for larger rate of return on its valuation also will be taken up by that tribunal.

FREIGHT CAR LOADINGS.
By the Associated Press.
Freight car loadings for the week ending June 15 again went over the million-dollar mark that has been attained in all but one of a series of weeks just reported. The American Railway Association, in connection with the figures, said that the latest total was an increase over the preceding week, and represented likewise sharp increase over the loadings for the corresponding period not only last year, but in the same week of 1927. Figures follow:
Week ending June 15, 1,069,089 cars
Preceding week, 1,054,792 cars
Same week last year, 1,002,803 cars
Same week 1927, 1,016,489 cars
