FUND WILL PERPETUATE SYBIL CARTER'S MEMORY

Scholarships Founded in Name of Woman Missionary Who Taught Indians to Make Lace.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 27.—The Sybil Carter Memorial, named for a missionary who taught Indian squaws to make lace so well that their work brought in $1,000 a month for many years and won gold medals at half a dozen expositions, was formed here yesterday.

It is a $16,000 trust fund to provide scholarships for children of Indian descent, the first beneficiaries are Ruby Jones, enrolled in St. Mary's Episcopal School at Springfield, N. Dak., and Woodrow Wilson Webster, a high school student of Green Bay, Wis.

The memorial was founded by the Sybil Carter Indian Lace Association, through which the lace was distributed. The association disbanded after creating the memorial, because there was no longer any field for its work.

Forty-four years ago Miss Carter, now deceased, went to the White Earth Indian Reservation in Minnesota and be-

BREAKFAST ON THE HOST INSTEAD OF ON THE BILL

It is common enough to read of the "atmosphere of home"... but rare to discover the hospitality of home... what home, for example, would put up a guest for the night and let him leave without breakfast in the morning?... so we evolved The Continental Breakfast... sent to your room with the compliments of the host... not a concession but a courtesy... neither chargeable nor deductible... simply part of a service!

The BARBIZON-PLAZA has atmosphere, of course... Library... Art Gallery... Salon de Musique... Deck Tennis Courts... Sun-Tan-glass-enclosed Roof... Saddle Horses brought right to the door of the hotel for a canter in the park. + + These are important, but atmosphere can wait + + + + + Breakfast comes first!
