

WASHINGTON, D. C., THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 8, 1934. ***

PAGE B-1

MUNICIPAL CENTER
CUT IN HALF HELD
ADEQUATE FOR D. C.*Hazen Sees Possible Plenty of Space for District
Agencies.*PLANS ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICES FOR SCHOOLS*Would Sell Lower Two Squares of Site and Still Have Enough Room.

Cutting the size of the proposed Municipal Center in half by the sale of the lower two squares of the site will make possible the construction of a building having about three times the floor space now provided for District agencies, it was estimated today by Commissioner Melvin C. Hazen.

He gave out rough estimates to this effect in support of his proposal that Congress be asked to authorize sale of the lower half of the site, or the area south of C street to Pennsylvania avenue, between Third and Sixth streets.

Plans School Offices.
Commissioner Hazen also revealed he is contemplating providing housing for the administrative offices of the public school system in his plan for the Municipal Center. Earlier plans had not incorporated this idea. If adopted, it would bring the school administration into much closer physical contact with the District Government.

Commissioner Hazen is one of those who have suggested that members of the Board of Education should be appointed by the Commissioners, instead of by the President.

Hazen had before him figures showing District agencies now are housed in quarters having floor space amounting to 511,000 square feet. He figures that since there are 326,000 square feet of area in the north two squares where he would build the Municipal Center, a building could be erected there which would have floor space amounting to 1,630,000 square feet.

He was informed that the District agencies now are using the following floor space areas: District Building, 190,000 square feet; Juvenile Court, 24,000; Municipal Court, 26,000; Police Court, 50,000; police headquarters, 44,000; school administration, 60,000; and Traffic Department and several other agencies in the Ford Building, 117,000, making a total of 511,000.

Two Sections Planned.
Hazen would build a Municipal Center in two sections, the first to house the three main units, the register of wills and recorder of deeds, police headquarters, Traffic Bureau, Women's Bureau, Insurance Department, some administrative agencies of the Board of Public Welfare and the relief administration headquarters.

In the second section of the building he would provide housing for offices now in the District Building and quarters for the school administration.

He finds that the ground area of one-half of the site he proposes to use is about 163,000 square feet. The building would cover four stories on the north elevation and five on the south, on the south side of the slope of the land. He believes, therefore, the floor space in the first section would amount to about 815,000 square feet. With completion of the second section, he believes the total floor space would amount to 1,630,000 square feet.

His purpose in revealing these estimates of space was to show that there would be more than ample room for District administrative offices in a building erected on but the two northern squares of the site.

Confirmation Set.
HERNDON, Va., November 8 (Special).—Right Rev. Harry S. George Tucker, Bishop of Virginia, will officiate at confirmation services in St. Timothy's Episcopal Church here Sunday afternoon, 7:30 p. m. Rev. Arthur Le Barron Ribble, rector, will assist.

Legion to Hold Rites.
WARRENTON, Va., November 8 (Special).—Armistice day services will be held in Warrenton Methodist Church Sunday at 3 p. m., under auspices of John Suduth Post, American Legion, and the Warrenton Auxiliary.

"Dangerous" Circus Pythons,
So-o-o Long, Brought to Zoo

Practically chased all the way from Florida by a basket of pythons consigned to the Washington Zoo, the dean of circus press agents hastened into a New York newspaper office yesterday, almost but not quite speechless with apprehension, the waxed tips of his mustache all of a flutter.

"What snakes they were!" cried Dexter Fellows, "—14 feet long if they were an inch!"

"How long?" drawled a reporter.

"Well, 12 feet, anyhow," amended Mr. Fellows, who is known from coast to coast because of his passion for veracity.

Truth, to Mr. Fellows, is bright and untarnished, like the silver knob of his favorite cane.

Snakes Got Laid Off.
Sure enough, it was a perilous journey. Barnum & Bailey and Ringling Bros. had gone into winter quarters, after wowing 16,000,000 kids and grown-ups in the greatest season of years. The Indian pythons got laid off, and Mr. Fellows set out to bring them to his friend, Dr. William Mann, director of the Washington Zoo.

The jungle reptiles rode in the baggage car. Mr. Fellows declared they escaped. One huge fugitive, he said, climbed a steam pipe and tapped the baggage master on the head.

Mrs. Gann Gets Parking Ticket
As Rush-Hour Crowd Watches*Tells Officer, "I'll Get Rid of It," Eyewitness
Says.*Was Waiting for Her Brother, Former Vice President Curtis.

Mrs. Dolly Gann, sister of former Vice President Charles Curtis, was given a parking ticket during the rush hour yesterday afternoon. What she will do with it is something of a mystery. Eyewitnesses of the ticket ceremony yesterday afternoon said that she told Policeman Charles W. Feagan:

"You can give me a ticket, but I'll get rid of it."

The Gann limousine was parked on Fifteenth street near H shortly before 5 o'clock, where parking is forbidden between 4 and 6 p. m. The afternoon traffic rush was on and a two-car lane tried to split into one as Mrs. Gann sat in her limousine. There was a jam and Officer Feagan came over to investigate.

He opened the rear door of the limousine, knocking first on the window.

"I'm sorry," he said, "but I'll have to give you a ticket unless this car is moved."

Reports have Mrs. Gann saying: "You can give me a ticket, but I'll get rid of it."

So Feagan wrote out the ticket and handed it to the chauffeur. Finally, at 5:11 p. m., Mr. Curtis came out of the Shoreham Building, got into the limousine and drove away. The ticket giving had attracted quite a crowd.

Questioned about the occurrence today, Mrs. Gann said:

"I'm sorry, but nothing for the newspapers." She hung the receiver up decisively.

Mr. Curtis said:

"I don't believe my sister said anything about getting the ticket fixed. We have the ticket, and in three days we will make up our minds what to do about it. We haven't decided yet."

"I am a sick man, and my sister told me she explained this to the officer and offered to drive around the block, but he declined to allow it. I was only a few minutes getting from my office to the car, and I don't see why he should have raised such a fuss. He struck me as a young officer out trying to make a record."

Mr. Curtis also was asked if he had any comment on the fact that his sister was given a ticket during the rush hour.

"I don't know," he said, "but I'll have to get rid of it."

Mr. Curtis also was asked if he had any comment on the fact that his sister was given a ticket during the rush hour.

"I don't know," he said, "but I'll have to get rid of it."

Mr. Curtis also was asked if he had any comment on the fact that his sister was given a ticket during the rush hour.

"I don't know," he said, "but I'll have to get rid of it."

Mr. Curtis also was asked if he had any comment on the fact that his sister was given a ticket during the rush hour.

"I don't know," he said, "but I'll have to get rid of it."

Mr. Curtis also was asked if he had any comment on the fact that his sister was given a ticket during the rush hour.

"I don't know," he said, "but I'll have to get rid of it."

Mr. Curtis also was asked if he had any comment on the fact that his sister was given a ticket during the rush hour.

"I don't know," he said, "but I'll have to get rid of it."

Mr. Curtis also was asked if he had any comment on the fact that his sister was given a ticket during the rush hour.

"I don't know," he said, "but I'll have to get rid of it."

MRS. DOLLY GANN.

SPECIAL GIFT UNIT OF CHEST PLAN
CAMPAIGN TONIGHT*Way to Be Cleared for Drive for $1,675,000 Fund to Begin Monday.*DR. SIZOO CHAMPIONS
HUMAN NEEDS IN CITY*Metropolitan Group Organized
With 1,000 Members—Ad
Club Presents Pledge.

The way will be cleared for the official opening Monday of the 1934 Community Chest campaign for $1,675,000 with the mobilization tonight of the last of the special campaign groups, the Special Gifts Unit. The unit will be organized for action at a dinner meeting in the Mayflower Hotel.

Sir Willmott Lewis, correspondent of the London Times, will be the principal speaker and Carroll Morgan, chairman of the unit, will act as toastmaster. The quota of this unit has been set at $500,000. It is expected in the next few days to reach $570,500 quota of the Governmental Unit.

Work of the Community Chest and its member organizations was described as an important cementing force in holding the community and the Nation together, in an address by Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, at the mobilization meeting of the Metropolitan Unit of the Chest Campaign Committee last night in the Willard Hotel.

It is not sufficient that people be given something to live on, Dr. Sizoo said—they must be given something to live with and something to live for. If the not done, he said, the community must crumble, in spite of every effort of government.

Neighborhoods Lacking in Cities.
City life, the speaker said, has done away with the neighborhood spirit that prevailed in the open country or small villages, and this blessing of individual neighborhoods must be taken by "that expression of organized good will called the Community Chest."

"It is ever essential to bear in mind," Dr. Sizoo said, "the vast difference that exists between relief and welfare. We have in this city an emergency relief organization that is both effective and efficient, but it is not an adequate provision for those who are both shelterless and unemployed, giving a person a mere subsistence and enough shelter to keep him from freezing. Emergency relief deals with physical needs only, but leaves untouched human needs. It may supply a bare subsistence, but what of those provisions needed for care and sickness and morale?"

"The emergency relief is never enough. These persons must be constructed and need to take their place in the life of the community. That is the mission of the Community Chest, and there is no other agency set aside to deal with that problem."

Dr. Sizoo said it is "a well-known fact of modern life that one-third of our population is in need of a minimum of $80 a month for adequate provision."

"When you realize that the maximum provision available for such homes in the District is less than $50, and that the average minimum of $22 then you see at once that other agencies must be called into being to make available an adequate subsistence. It is necessary to keep in mind that emergency relief is not enough."

Dr. Sizoo declared that living together in a city is "not only a privilege, but a responsibility."

Defines Citizenship.
"Citizenship," he said, "is not simply the demanding of rights and the standing on one's own dignity, but also the sharing of life with those who are less fortunate. It is a social and unreal and soon exhausts itself, for it lacks vitality. Democracy may begin with the issue of freedom, but it can never end there. Democracy is something more than demanding one's rights. It is the recovery of that lost sense of citizenship."

Last night's meeting, at which Joseph D. Kaufman, chairman of the unit, presided, was opened by the singing of the National Anthem by the Salvation Army. Messages of greeting to the 1,000 workers of the unit were delivered by Clarence Phelps, director of the Chest, and H. L. Jones, Jr., president of the Chest, and the great task confronting the 64 member agencies during the coming year, despite the relief given by the Government.

A playlet, "It Happened One Night," written by W. W. Wheeler, chairman of the Speakers' Unit, and produced under the direction of Harold Allen, chairman of the Dramatic Unit, was given. The playlet was given by the members of the unit, who were W. F. Studdiford, William E. Mitchell, Estelle Ormand, Joan Peffer and Betty Bliss. The playlet represented the efforts of a Community Chest officer to obtain a contribution from a man and his wife.

The Advertising Club of Washington became the first civic organization to contribute to the 1934 Community Chest fund yesterday when Norman Kal, president of the club, presented to Allen De Ford, subcommittee of the Metropolitan Unit, a pledge for $100, voted at a meeting of the club Tuesday.

The pledge was made payable on a 10-payment plan, in accordance with the plan urged upon contributors by solicitors and keymen to meet the pocketbooks of persons who find it easier to give a stipulated amount each month than to make a cash donation at the time of the campaign.

Junior Teams Appointed.
The newly formed Washington Junior Board of Commerce yesterday enrolled in the Community Chest drive, appointing seven teams to seek funds for the Chest. The teams were led by Morton Wilner, Joseph Trow, Oliver Gasch, James Owens, Albert Con-

Bilbo Says D. C. Is Safe in His Hands

Senator-elect Theo G. Bilbo of Mississippi, shown (left) as he chatted at the District Building this morning with Col. Dick Wootton of the Department of Agriculture and Commissioner George E. Allen (right). —Star Staff Photo.

THOUSANDS SET
FOR G. W. U. FETE*Homecoming Rally to Draw Huge Throng—Ball to Be Climax.

Thousands of graduates and the student body will take part in George Washington University's annual homecoming celebration, opening with a rally in the university's gymnasium tomorrow at 4:45 p. m., and climaxed by the foot ball game between the varsity and Louisiana State University at Griffith Stadium Saturday.

Alumni from out of town and many of the institution's 7,000 graduates residing in the District will take part in festivities incident to the celebration.

Baker to Greet Group.
The rally program will include singing of university songs by the student body and alumni, accompanied by the university band, and cheering the foot ball team, whose members will be introduced to the gathering. Charles S. Baker, president of the General Alumni Association, will welcome the alumni and James R. Kirkland, homecoming chairman, will preside.

Tomorrow night the homecoming ball will be held at the Willard Hotel, where university officers and members of the official party from Louisiana State University will occupy boxes.

Saturday morning a women's athletic meet will be held, with alumnae and undergraduates competing in basketball, archery and rifle competition. The events will be staged in the university yard, gymnasium and on the rifle range, respectively.

25,000 to See Game.
The foot ball game Saturday afternoon is expected to draw a crowd of approximately 25,000 persons. Open house will be held at the various fraternities and the university will have members Saturday night. Meanwhile decorations will adorn the facades of the university's fraternities throughout the city and the General Alumni Association will award a cup at the ball tomorrow night to the fraternity whose chapter house is adjudged the most appropriately and attractively decorated for the homecoming.

GREEK ARMISTICE DAY PROGRAM ARRANGED

Archbishop and Rector of St. Sophia to Officiate at Orthodox Church Sunday.

Archbishop Athenagoras of the Greek Orthodox Church of North and South America and Archimandrite A. Laloussa, rector of St. Sophia, will officiate Sunday at Armistice day ceremonies of the Greek Community of St. Sophia's Church, Eighth and L streets. Charalambos Simopoulos, Minister Plenipotentiary, will attend the ceremonies.

Former Senator Rice Means of Colorado and Capt. Watson E. Miller of the American Legion will speak. After church services the group will march to Arlington National Cemetery where a wreath will be placed on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. Achilles Catoles, supreme president of the Order of Ahepa, will address the group. The late George Dilboy, who was killed in action during the World War and who was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for the feat in which he lost his life, will be honored by the group.

radis, Henry Kaufman and John Beecher.

Mass meetings of employees of two Government departments were held yesterday preliminary to the campaigning for funds for the Community Chest.

Interior Department workers were assembled in the Interior auditorium at 3:30 p. m. to hear Chest appeals by Maj. Gen. Frederick W. Coleman, chief of Finance of the Army and chairman of the Governmental Unit. Assistant Secretary of the Interior Theodore A. Walter, who presided; Miss Antoinette Funk, assistant commissioner of the General Land Office, and Elwood Street, director of public welfare.

"I hope," Secretary Walter said to the 500 chairmen and keymen of the Interior Department Group, "that we may have our contributions in hand by Monday noon." Gen. Coleman said that he knew of no work more deserving of support of the citizens of Washington.

"I feel," he said, "that the Community Chest is not primarily charity, but self-preservation of the community."

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau was the principal speaker at a meeting of Treasury Department employees at 5 p. m. yesterday in the Commerce Department auditorium. Gen. Coleman and Campaign Chairman Rust also addressed the chairmen and keymen, who will solicit the 17,000 Treasury employees for their Chest contributions.

Old Pierce Mill
Wheel Replacing
Gets Under Way*Side Porch of Structure Being Torn Away.

Workmen today are tearing down the side porch of Pierce Mill in Rock Creek Park to make way for the large mill wheel which will be the main feature in the landmark which has stood 130 years. The work is being done under a public works allotment of $19,250 by the National Park Service.

Since 1887, when the mill was last operated, the original log bank has been washed out by a flood, the mill race has been filled up and the machinery broken. These things will all be restored.

Workmen digging out the mill race are finding strange bottles and other relics probably caught in it several generations ago when the mill teemed with activity. Also reminiscent of the period a century ago was part of a packing box nailed to the wall on the third floor of the mill which is addressed simply "J. R. Barr, G street, Washington."

Old-timers who used to work around mills congregate at this mill to watch the restoration work. Some of them walk several miles from outlying sections of the city. They watch operations and discuss the days when Joshua Pierce, son of Isaac Pierce, ran the mill and lived in the stone mansion across from it.

MRS. JENCKES WINS HOUSE SEAT AGAIN

Indiana's Only Woman in Congress Sweeps to Victory in Home County.

By the Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, November 8.—Indiana's only woman representative in Congress, Mrs. Virginia Jenckes, of Terre Haute, won her race for reelection over Fred S. Purnell of Attica today in a final sweep of belated returns from her home county. She held a lead of 333 votes with only one precinct missing.

The victory of the sixth district Democrat held the Republican gains in Indiana congressional contests to a single seat. That was captured by Frederick Landis, Logansport Republican, who broke the solid Hoosier Democratic delegation with an overturn of George R. Durgan of Lafayette in the second district.

The rush of ballots for Mrs. Jenckes in her home county, Vigo, overcame Purnell, a former Representative, who led in 6 of the 10 counties. Tabulations today gave Mrs. Jenckes 67,266 votes, Purnell 66,933.

BABY BLINDED BY ANTS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., November 8 (AP).—A skilled eye specialist will attempt, through surgery, to restore the sight of an 8-month-old baby, blinded early this summer by the sting of red ants, at his home near Belts, Tenn.

The child, Harold Watson Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Patrick of Gadsden, Tenn., at present can only tell light from dark, hospital attaches say.

Heads Board

MRS. GILBERT GROSVENOR.
Who yesterday was elected by the Women's Board of George Washington University Hospital to complete the unexpired term of Mrs. Cloyd Heck Marvin, who resigned as president of the board.

Mrs. Frederick True, third vice president, presided at the meeting, at which two new members were elected to the board. They are Mrs. J. E. Pixley and Mrs. John McPherson.

It was reported that the Sewing Committee has completed more than 1,000 articles, including sheets, pillowcases, curtains and towels, for use at the hospital.

BILBO PROMISES
D. C. SQUARE DEAL*Senator-elect Says Allen, Harrison and Self Will Aid City.

With the election of Theo G. Bilbo, once the master of scissors and paste at the Agriculture Department, as Senator from Mississippi, the destinies of the District have been placed in safe hands, Senator Bilbo himself stated today.

The announcement of the status of the District was given this morning by the newly elected Senator after a chat with Commissioner George E. Allen at the District Building. Senator Bilbo took only a part of the credit for improvement of the District status. He said:

"With George Allen as Commissioner and with Pat Harrison and myself in the Senate, the District has nothing to worry about—the District will get a square deal."

Commissioner Allen, like Bilbo, is a Mississippian, and his appointment was attributed to the influence of Senator Harrison, also a Mississippian. Asked by reporters if he knew Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana Senator Bilbo asked once again, "Who is he? Where is he from?"

One reporter wanted to know if Bilbo would make the acquaintance of Long when Congress convenes. Came the reply, with a smile, "I represent Mississippi."

The Senator said he had no plans for the country generally, except that his purpose would be "to make a damned good Senator."

Asked if he had any plans for the District government as to legislation or administration, the Senator said he had not and then promised a square deal from Allen, Harrison and Bilbo. Some one then wanted to know if Bilbo was interested in any District job. The Senator replied "My only interest is in having folks on the job that will leave my car alone."

This recalled the Senator's difficulties in finding a parking place for his automobile while he was "paste master general" at the Agricultural Department. He tried without avail to get a reserved parking space, being told that he came too late; that all the reservations were taken. Later he gave out the statement that he had decided to run for the Senate so he could find a place to park his car.

The Senator was in a cheerful mood and announced that the national elections appeared to him to be a vindication of the New Deal.

He said he called at the District Building just to get acquainted and to pay a visit to Allen. It was Bilbo who, when Governor of Mississippi, gave Allen a commission as first lieutenant in the National Guard. Allen spoke up to recall that at the time the Allen family was a political opponent of Bilbo. He said Bilbo had given him the commission to get him out of politics.

Bilbo said, "I thought he would make a better soldier than politician, but now he has made a success of both."

Bilbo was accompanied by Col. Dick Wootton of the Public Works Administration, also from Mississippi.

CLERIC'S BRIDE MISSING

DYERSBURG, Tenn., November 8 (AP).—Rev. Ralph E. Banney of Chicago, a Church of God evangelist, said last night he had asked police of Dyersburg, Memphis and nearby cities to search for his 20-year-old bride, who disappeared from here Sunday morning, an hour before the couple was to leave on a honeymoon.

The young woman, Mrs. Theolina E. Banney, left in the minister's automobile, Mr. Banney said.

Vendor Again "Lady for Day," Unperturbed by Experience

They took their Cinderella from the street again and made her this time a "lady by choice."

A year ago Mrs. Elizabeth Hart became, by reason of the fact that she had been known to the public of Washington for 22 years as a vendor of newspapers on the corner of Fourteenth and G streets, the factual local counterpart of the woman in the cinematic action titled "A Lady for a Day." She was lifted from comparative corner obscurity, winced and dined, fêted and fussed over for a day.

Last night there was a repeat performance. In connection with the new picture "Lady by Choice," R-K-O Keith's officials entertained Mrs. Hart again, calling for her in a limousine, letting her sit in the President's box and in general resuming the Cinderella role she enjoyed a year ago.

As the picture unfolded, Mrs. Hart's expression scarcely changed. There was no indication Mrs. Hart was undergoing what psychologists call "delusions of grandeur," no indication she at all identified herself with the saint and sinner portrayed by Miss May Robinson on the screen.

But what does Mrs. Hart think of it all? What has it meant to her? Mrs. Hart's remarks were those of a woman who was very much at ease, a woman who had simply been picked out of a whole city, for some reason, that certain people might be especially nice to her for an evening.

"Being 'lady for a day' was an experience, of course, that I will remember as long as I live," she said. "I think I liked talking over the radio best that day last year. For a few months after they had me in the papers I did do a little better business, then it was just about the same. There hasn't been any difference in me."

And there you are. Except for the fact that now Mrs. Hart, bringing any one she pleases, may attend all the shows at R-K-O Keith's Theater free of charge, is being held by Arlington County authorities under bond of $2,000.

But the pattern of the old fairy story has been broken. Cinderella has been lady for two days.

DISTRICT WOMAN
DEAD, MAN HURT
IN AUTO CRASH*Mrs. M. A. Cooper's Body at Laurel, Leo Fitzgerald
in Hospital.*BOTH EMPLOYES
OF D. C. GOVERNMENT*Witness Says Car Struck Culvert at Terrific Speed—Crank Fractured Man's Arm—Boy Injured.

A young Washington widow was instantly killed and a Capital man was critically injured when their automobile hurtled head-on into a culvert on the Washington Boulevard near Laurel, Md., early today.

The dead woman, whose body lay unidentified for nearly 24 hours in a Laurel undertaking establishment, is Mrs. Myrtle A. Cooper, about 30, of 2809 Fourteenth street.

Leo Fitzgerald, 3811 Tenth street, driver of the car in which she was a passenger, received a fractured skull and had both jaws broken. Fitzgerald, a clerk in the gasoline tax audit section of District tax assessor's office, was taken to a Baltimore hospital where his condition was said to be critical.

Mrs. Cooper was identified by a member of her family and an employee from the public welfare office at the District Building, where she was a file clerk.

Accident at 3 A.M.
According to State police, the accident occurred about 3 a. m., when the car crashed into the culvert near Fitzgerald is believed to have lost control of it about 300 yards south of the Laurel police substation.

Corpl. C. W. Cubbage, on duty at the station, heard the crash and ran to the scene where he found the woman some distance from the wreck. Fitzgerald also was thrown clear and was cut and bleeding.

Gossnell summoned Howard Gossnell, magistrate and coroner at St. Anne, Md., and Dr. Frank E. Shipley, who pronounced the woman dead and had her body removed to the undertaking establishment.

Gossnell said he notified Fitzgerald's wife of the accident and corner at St. Anne, Md., and Dr. Frank E. Shipley, who pronounced the woman dead and had her body removed to the undertaking establishment.

Mrs. Cooper has an 8-year-old son, friends said.

A single witness to the accident, John Henderson, colored, told police that he was walking along the boulevard when the car, coming at a terrific speed, almost struck him. He said he climbed the hill at the side of the road to escape being hit.

Arm Fractured by Crank.
Another employee of the District government, John Kida, 60, of 507 Twelfth street southeast, received a possible compound fracture of the left arm today when the crank shaft of a roller he was cranking caught his sleeve.

Three other persons were injured in traffic mishaps in the District yesterday, while another died from injuries received in an accident Tuesday. There was another fatality on the Potomac River yesterday.

The death in Gallatin Department of Richard J. Stretch, 58, of 905 H street, who was struck by a taxicab on K street between Eighth and Ninth, brought the traffic fatalities for the month up to four. Andrew J. Robertson, 31, of 1318 Eleventh street, said by police to have been the driver of the cab, was to appear at an inquest into Stretch's death today.

Boy Struck by Auto.
Three-year-old Larry Spelling, 2141 Thirty-second street southeast, received serious head injuries when he was knocked down near his home by an automobile said by police to have been driven by Mrs. Edna Laws, 41, a neighbor. The child was treated at Providence Hospital.

The other hurt was John R. McKenna, 73, of 410 Sixth street southwest, who received several fractured ribs and probable internal injuries when the car he was driving crashed into a tree on Sixth street, near Convent street, and Theodore Morgan, 41, of 764 Sixth street southeast, who was cut about the face when struck near his home by a truck said to have been driven by Milton E. Wiggins, 19, colored, 334 F street southeast.

The Richmond highway victim was Owen L. Carter, 73, of 2426 North Capitol street, a retired Government Printing Office employee, who was killed late yesterday when struck by a truck near Arlington Pike. He was the fifth person killed in that vicinity by motor vehicles in the last two or three months.

Claude Rogers, colored, 400 block of Maine avenue southeast, operator of the truck, is being held by Arlington County authorities under bond of $2,000.