

REDS AND NAZIS THREATEN PEACE

Enmity Blights Development of England's New Policy of Isolation.

By the Associated Press.

The mortal enmity between Communism and Naziism is maturing rapidly in the fertile soil of Eastern Europe, threatening to blight the development of England's new policy of isolation from Eastern European affairs.

Russia and Germany, both governed by what appears as radical parties in American eyes, yet each of which looks upon the other as an antithesis, have begun again their old habit of viewing with alarm.

Whether there is any real reason for this alarm is a matter for future history to tell, but there certainly is enough dynamite in the situation to alarm Great Britain, for Great Britain of late has shown a distinct desire to steer clear of Eastern European entanglements.

Downing Street Takes Hand.

The present embroglio, however, is so intimately joined with Great Britain's foreign policy that Downing Street already has taken a hand directly in the matter, apparently departing at once from the isolation idea, with, possibly, the hope of being able to return to it once more. The British Ambassadors to Berlin and Moscow have been ordered to take immediate steps toward clearing up the present antagonistic attitude of Russia and Germany toward each other.

The tense situation developed directly as a result of the Franco-British agreement to recognize Germany's rearmament in the air by designating an aviation securities pact to be entered into by France, Great Britain and Germany, and Belgium and Italy as well.

Hitler Refuses With Thanks.

Reichsfuehrer Hitler replied, with due deference to the diplomatic niceties, that he was much obliged to France and England for their kind suggestion, but that he couldn't accept too stringent limitations on Germany's defense air force as long as an inimical Russia frowned on Germany from the east. He added, however, that he was willing to talk about the Anglo-French suggestions, intimating that some compromise acceptable to all could be reached.

In his reply, he referred solely to the aviation of the Anglo-French proposals. These, however, had also included a proposal that Germany adhere to the Eastern European securities pact advocated and engineered by France and Russia, which would bind its signatories from aggression against each other. This latter proposal Hitler completely ignored.

Litvinoff Is Outspoken.

Maxim Litvinoff, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, disregarded old-fashioned diplomatic niceties when he referred to Hitler's reply, however. He spoke right out, announcing in a broadcast to the press of the proposals that Herr Hitler would have to take the Franco-British proposals as a whole or not at all.

Neither the Wilhelmstrasse nor Downing Street reacted to Litvinoff's broadcast with any show of pleasure and Sir John Simon, the British foreign secretary, immediately instructed the British Ambassador in Moscow to confer with Litvinoff in an attempt to bring about an understanding with Germany.

DIONNES' CHARGES DENIED BY GUARDIAN

Red Cross Official Says Parents
Were Not Rebuffed on Visit to Babies.

By the Associated Press.

GRAVEHURST, Ontario, February 23.—W. H. Alderson, Red Cross executive and chief guardian of the Dionne quintuplets, denied today their parents had been treated brusquely when they visited the babies at their private hospital.

This claim was made by the parents, who have retained an attorney in an attempt to obtain full parental control over the babies and obtain a part of the tidy fortune they are accumulating to support the family, which includes five older brothers and sisters. Alderson said he thought it would be unwise to take the Dionne quintuplets from the government-appointed guardianship before his expiration July 26, 1936. If possible, it should be continued after that date, he said.

"I don't say that our guardianship is due for any special credit," he continued, "but the babies would never have had such minute care without some kind of guardianship. I think if we leave this matter with the government they will see the babies are not exploited. I do not think the quintuplets will be exhibited in any way this summer."

Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn of Ontario in Toronto today indicated opposition to any proposal that the parents receive a share of the money.

MEXICAN AUTHORITIES FREE AMERICAN FLYER

Dale Myers of Arizona Arrested
Last Week—Consul Hears
No Drugs Seized.

By the Associated Press.

The State Department was informed yesterday that Mexican military authorities at Hermosillo had released Dale Myers, an American aviator arrested at Guaymas last week. The information came from Consul Robinson at Nogales.

Mexican authorities told the consul, he reported, that no drugs had been seized in connection with the American flyer's arrest and that they did not desire to hold him for violation of any Mexican law.

Myers' home is in Tucson, Ariz.

TREATMENT DESCRIBED

Clinical Society of Surgeons Hold Discussions in Cleveland.

CLEVELAND, February 23 (AP)—A description of a non-surgical treatment for patients suffering from an enlarged prostate gland was the principal subject of discussion today at a national meeting of the Clinical Society of Genito-urinary Surgeons here.

Dr. William E. Lower of the Cleveland Clinic disclosed the treatment as involving the use of a recently discovered hormone called "inhibin."

Triangle Now Quadrangle

These four persons are involved in a divorce suit and a counter suit which have converted the conventional triangle into a "perfect quadrangle" at Los Angeles, Calif. When No. 1, Mrs. Jane Scholtz Emerson, was sued for divorce recently by No. 4, Walter Emerson, her writer-sportsman husband, he named No. 3, Barton Sewell, millionaire Beverly Hills sportsman, as co-respondent. But Mrs. Emerson countered with a cross-divorce suit in which she named No. 2, Mrs. Leah Clappitt Sewell, as having vied for her affections with Emerson. EMERSON AVOWS FIGHT TO FINISH

Children All That Matters,
Says Actor-Writer in Alleged Love Quadrangle.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, February 23.—Walter W. Emerson, handsome actor-writer in an alleged love quadrangle, said tonight he would "fight to the last ditch" for custody of his children.

"My children are all I have now," he mourned.

Emerson sued his wife, Mrs. Jane Scholtz Emerson, socialite, for divorce, naming Barton Sewell, Beverly Hills sportsman, as co-respondent. Mrs. Emerson countered with a cross-complaint alleging Emerson and Mrs. Leah Clappitt Sewell, prominent in Beverly Hills social circles, entered into an illicit association.

Allegation Cross Charge.

Mrs. Sewell filed a denial of Mrs. Emerson's charges and sued her for $100,000 for alienation of affections. Barton Sewell filed a denial of Emerson's allegations, charging the actor-writer knew and gave his consent to the admitted relationship between himself and Mrs. Emerson.

Not only did Mrs. Emerson testify to her husband's alleged liaison with Mrs. Sewell, but she substantiated Sewell's claim that Emerson knew about and countenanced her love for Sewell.

Children Principal Stake.

The three Emerson children are the principal stake. Both the mother and father have asked for their custody. The youngest child is 14-month-old Barton Emerson.

It was his crib, containing the baby, that was used to block the door of a bedroom in the Beverly Hills home of the Emersons when a private detective accompanying Emerson and two friends broke in last December 10, the four asserted. There, they testified, they found Sewell nude in bed, and Mrs. Emerson in a nightgown. They fixed the time at 2:30 in the morning.

The hearing will be resumed Monday.

LODGE HOLDS FIRST OYSTER ROAST TODAY

Members of Fellowship Club Plan Horseshoe Tourney in Program for Spring.

Members of the Anacostia Lodge Fellowship Club will hold their first oyster roast this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the wooden box factory of Theodore L. Langohr at 1339 Half street southeast.

Starting Spring activities, the members of the club plan a horseshoe tournament and many other games, the contests devised under the personal supervision of Mr. Langohr, chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

Oysters in all styles will be served at today's roast—for members only. At a later day in March the ladies of the lodge will be invited to a similar festivity.

On March 9, at Anacostia Lodge Fellowship Club, a bingo party, open to the general public, will be held.

MINISTER KILLED; SON IS ARRESTED

Youth, 14, Had Been Fearful
Father Would Be Told of Immorality.

By the Associated Press.

CARTER, Okla., February 23.—Jack Campbell, 14-year-old minister's son who had been threatened with exposure to his father for displaying obscene pictures, was arrested today after the father, Rev. Earl Campbell, was killed by a shotgun blast.

Undersheriff Sam Montgomery said members of the Campbell family quoted the pastor of a Holiness Church as moaning, "Jack, you've killed me," as he sank dying to the floor of a bedroom in his home.

County Attorney Ralph T. Hood said he expected to file charges against the boy.

Mrs. Rogers, city marshal, said he reprimanded Jack earlier in the day for showing pictures to friends on the streets and warned him he planned to inform Mr. Campbell. Hood said Jack went home, obtained a small .410-gauge shotgun and sat in the Campbell living room talking to his grandfather.

Mr. Campbell was heard entering the back door. Hood said Jack ran to a nearby bedroom and a shot was heard as the father entered the room.

The boy ran out the front door, firing a wild shot as his grandfather followed, then ran on toward the business section of Carter, where he was arrested and disarmed.

GLIMPSES OF LIFE IN A GAS HEATED HOME

Boy obey obey!
An extra half hour's sleep in the morning!

If you awaken at the usual "furnace tending hour" in the morning after you've had Automatic Gas Heating installed it will either be through force of habit (which will quickly wear off), or for the pleasure of ignoring the clock and enjoying the next half hour. In the Gas Heated Home the furnace wakes up before you do, has the house warm and comfortable when you arise. How? By that modern, magical marvel, the thermostat. Just set the temperature you like. A simple time clock (attached to the thermostat) starts the furnace at its work just when you yourself formerly struggled out of bed, shivered down the steps and shuddered at the task.
