

UNION WILL FIGHT PICKET ORDINANCE

Tinworkers' Counsel to Petition Injunction Against New Cumberland Law.

By the Associated Press.
CUMBERLAND, Md., July 22.—An ordinance restricting strike picketing became effective today under the threat of injunction proceedings. The ordinance, limiting to six the number of pickets that may patrol struck establishments, passed the City Council, 3 to 1, Monday over the protest of labor leaders.

Carl Jewell, president of the Tin Workers' Union at the Taylor Tinplate Mill here, said counsel for the union was preparing an injunction seeking to prevent the Council from enforcing the ordinance.

This move was discussed, Jewell said, at a meeting when the union voted down Mayor Thomas W. Koon's suggestion that the men vote on whether or not they should return to work at the mill.

Jewell informed Koon the union had voted to place its case before the National Labor Relations Board. He said he believed the provisions of the Wagner labor act should apply at the Taylor plant, a subsidiary of Republic Steel.

China

Tokuro Hidaka, had sent an important secret report on the situation in Tokyo. No hint of its contents was given.

Regional Agreements Hit.
Col. Takaki Wachi, Japanese army officer who arrived at Shanghai from North China, warned that Japan will be unable to settle the North China dispute by purely regional agreements with local Chinese authorities.

Japan, he declared, must deal directly and strenuously with the Nanking (central) Chinese government.

The newspaper Asahi quoted him as saying China was preparing on a large scale for war against Japan, and as warning that Japan will have to convince Nanking she intends to use force to settle the disputes.

The government received pledges of support from several sources on its North China stand.

JAPANESE REFUSE TO LEAVE.
Troops Reported Strengthening Positions Near Peiping.

TIENSIN, July 22 (AP)—Anti-Japanese troops of the 37th Chinese Army Division were reported today to have precipitated the Chinese-Japanese crisis to new depths by a determined refusal to evacuate their positions west of Peiping.

The Chinese were said not only to have stubbornly refused to abandon the positions commanding the Marco Polo Highway bridges and the railroad bridges across the Yungting River but also to be again manning their entrenchments in the village of Wangpinghsien.

A truce yesterday between local Chinese and Japanese military authorities was thought to have ended the crisis two weeks to the day after a clash between the troops at Marco Polo Bridge strained Sino-Japanese relations to the breaking point.

The 37th Division began carrying out the agreement for mutual withdrawal of Chinese and Japanese troops by evacuating the walled city of Wangpinghsien, western suburb of Peiping. The truce called for them to hand over the entire area of hostilities to officers entrusted with maintenance of civil order.

Alleged failure of the Japanese to carry out their part of the agreement, however, was said to have caused the Chinese evacuation to be halted abruptly. Full of resentment at "Japanese trickery," they were reported to have started moving troops into the area again.

Japanese were strengthening their positions south and east of Peiping with earthworks and barbed-wire entanglements. Heavy artillery batteries were camouflaged against artillery attack.

There was speculation in Peiping, seat of the semi-autonomous Hopei-Chahar Political Council, that the continued movement of Japanese troops presaged a permanent Japanese occupation of the two North China provinces with perhaps the eventual creation of a protectorate state such as Manchukuo.

CHINESE TROOPS MASS.
Reinforcements on Way to Northern Battle Area.

SIANFU, Shensi Province, China, July 22 (AP)—Large bodies of Central Chinese troops are pouring out of here to the east, reported to be reinforcements for the 29th Army, which has been opposed to Japanese in North China for two weeks.

Five divisions of the Central Army from Shensi Province were understood to have been ordered to the battle area around Peiping, 550 miles to the northeast.

The government-controlled radio station here of the Central Nanking government has been broadcasting a daily report on developments in the North China crisis and urging the northwest provinces: "Be ready for any emergency."

There was no direct evidence that

SLAYING PLOT DISMISSED.

Reported Attack on Envoy Held Misunderstanding.

SHANGHAI, July 22 (AP)—A reported "bold attempt" to assassinate Japanese Ambassador Shigeru Kawagoe, today was dismissed by Japanese authorities as a misunderstanding.

The Japanese consulate at Tientsin, where the envoy has been since the flare-up between China and Japan, at first said the "assassin" was frustrated by the alertness of consular police.

Later, however, it said a person held for questioning had been released when no evidence was found of a plot to kill Kawagoe.

Miscellaneous Mischiefs.
SALT LAKE CITY, July 22 (AP)—District Judge P. C. Evans, granting a writ of habeas corpus, released two men charged with "miscellaneous mischief," explaining a search of the statutes listed no such misdemeanor.

As the men stepped out of the court room they were reentered for "malicious mischief."

"It was a clerical error," the deputy sheriff blushing admitted.

EXONERATE TEACHER IN COCKTAIL CASE

Saugus Officials Refuse, However, to Reinstatement of Miss Hallin.

By the Associated Press.
SAUGUS, Mass., July 22.—The Saugus School Committee last night again refused to reappoint Miss Isabelle L. Hallin, pretty blond English teacher, but exonerated her of reports she served cocktails to students after a play rehearsal in her home.

At the same time the committee refused to reopen the case by granting either a public or private hearing. In each case the vote was 3-2 against the proposals offered by Committee Member Paul A. Haley, who favored the girl's reappointment.

A citizen's committee of four, named during a mass meeting last Friday and headed by Edward Gibbs, Jr., town accountant, and Rev. Howard Handley, pastor of the church Miss Hallin attends, appealed for the reinstatement of the high school dramatic teacher.
