A Durable 'Make Up' For Summer...

The attractive, ivory toned appearance rendered by Gouraud's Oriental Cream is "weather-proof." It beautifies the large area exposed by bathing suits and sport clothes, and at the same time affords protection from the hot sun and winds.

A Gouraud's Oriental Cream appearance does not "rub off" and will even retain its attractiveness while bathing. When going "sans stockings" it beautifies the limbs, conceals blemishes and makes hair less conspicuous. Vitamin "D" and active oxygen make it an effective deodorant.

M'MURRAY CAST IN NEWS DRAMA

Plays Again in Hollywood Hotel Program With Ida Lupino.

FRED MACMURRAY and Ida Lupino, popular screen players, are to appear on the Hollywood Hotel program tonight over WJSV at 8 o'clock in a preview of scenes from their latest film, Charles Ruggles, veteran comedian, also will be a guest performer in the presentation. It will mark the fourth appearance of MacMurray in Hollywood Hotel and the second for Miss Lupino.

"Exclusive," as the new picture has been titled, is the story of a battle between an upright newspaper and one controlled by racketeering politicians and being a representative of so-called "yellow" journalism. The usual array of musical performers will contribute to the program.

CEASAR ROMERO, who is said to score a notable success in the latest Shirley Temple film, is to be interviewed by Eliza Schallert tonight—WMAL at 9:45.

THE first in a series of "projections" of Victor Hugo's classic, "Les Miserables," will be presented over WOL at 9 o'clock with well-known stage and radio performers participating.

THE Court of Human Relations period has to do with the story of a man who kidnaped his son as revenge against his wife for framing him and sending him to prison—WRC at 8:30.

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE DANIEL C. ROOPER is the speaker on tonight's program in the Columbia Cabinet Series—WJSV at 9:30.

THE work of the Save-A-Life League, devoted to suicide prevention, will be related by its president, Dr. Harry M. Warren, during Bob Ripley's program, heard through WMAL at 8 o'clock.

Winning Contract

BY THE FOUR ACES.

DEFENSE against no-trump contracts is extremely difficult. Very often declarer will be able to run off a four or five card suit and one of his opponents will be forced to make one or more discards. In this situation the defender should discard so as to give the declarer as little information as possible concerning his distribution. To our mind, the hand below yielded two major errors—first, a poor discard by West, which was followed by, second, declarer's failure to take advantage of it.

West dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.

East's double of three no trump was fairly sound. It looked as if the club suit could be established in one lead and his heart strength in back of the suit bid by dummy would probably be quite useful.

When West opened the three of clubs, declarer saw no point in holding up, so he won the first trick and ran off four tricks in spades. On the third round West discarded a heart, on the fourth a diamond. Declarer then played the ace of diamonds, then finessed dummy's jack, at the same time saying to West, "I know you have the queen and your diamond discard was meant to fool me." East, after making his singleton queen of diamonds, led a club and the defense won six tricks, obtaining a 500-point penalty.

Of course West should never have discarded a diamond, as he could see that that was the dangerous suit, whereas his partner was sure to have a trick in hearts. At the same time, declarer should have read the discard. As declarer already had won five tricks, West could see that four diamond tricks would give him his contract. Hence, if West had held four of that suit to the queen-ten-nine, he would not have thrown one, as even a successful finesse would have given declarer only three diamond tricks, one short of the contract.

Declarer therefore should have gone up with the king of diamonds in dummy, with the almost certain knowledge that the queen would drop. (Copyright, 1937.)

The Four Aces will be pleased to answer letters from readers. If a stamped (3c), self-addressed envelope is enclosed with each communication, if you desire the pocket outline of the Four Aces' system of contract bridge, send, with your request, a stamped (3c), self-addressed, large-size envelope to the Four Aces, Inc., 1300 West Forty-second street, New York City, and you will receive an outline without any charge. The next article in this series will appear Sunday.

ELLSWORTH SETS POLAR TRIP TO HUNT MINERALS

Explorer to Survey Antarctica by Plane in 1938 Metal Expedition.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Lincoln Ellsworth, flying explorer of South Polar regions, arrived on the S. S. Europa yesterday from a visit in Switzerland and announced he intended to return to "the bottom of the earth" in search of copper, iron and coal.

The explorer said a new air survey of Antarctica was planned for October, 1938, with a base at Cape Town. Ellsworth said he would provision his ship, the Wyatt Earp, at Los Angeles and sail from there for Cape Town. A flight over the Pole and exploration work in Enderly Land would follow.
