

Clifton Aires Rites To Be Held Tomorrow At His Home

Mount Olivet Burial For Publisher of Capital Guide Book

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Clifton Aires, 50, editor and publisher of This Week in the Nation's Capital and former advertising manager of the old Washington Herald. Mr. Aires died yesterday at Georgetown Hospital of a heart disease. The services will be held at 2 p.m. in his home, 4329 14th place N.W., with burial in Mount Olivet Cemetery. Well known in local advertising and newspaper circles, Mr. Aires had been ill for about three weeks. He was a native of Washington and was graduated from Western High School.

Began as Ad Solicitor. Mr. Aires founded This Week in 1922, on leaving the Herald, where he began his advertising career as solicitor and advanced to manager of advertising.

Publisher of the National Theater program for the past 11 years, Mr. Aires also printed the programs for the old Pol's, Belasco, President and Strand Theaters in the days when those houses catered to the legitimate stage.

He was a member of the Washington Board of Trade and a former member of the Civitan Club and the Major Country Club.

Married Twice. His first wife, Mrs. Mary Haske Aires, died seven years ago. In 1935 he married Rita Sullivan. A son, Thomas Leroy Aires, was killed in an automobile accident in 1937.

Surviving, in addition to his wife, are another son, Gregory, who is business manager of This Week; a daughter, Miss Mary M. Aires of Washington, and one grandchild.

Defense

(Continued From First Page.)

Inquiry to the Attorney General, but was told by newsmen that the latter "ain't" talking.

The proclamation, Mr. Roosevelt asserted, is merely to permit the administration in Washington to take charge of clearance of foreign vessels. In case questions arise about them, he said, local harbor officials will be able to shift responsibility of clearance to Washington.

That was his answer to a question whether the proclamation would permit the United States to detain such vessels as the liner Normandie, now in New York Harbor.

Usually well-informed sources said last night that the Army fund request might be ready for submission to Congress next week.

The exact amount of the forthcoming request was not disclosed by these sources, but they did say that if the funds were voted the Nation's arms expenditures for the coming fiscal year would surpass the all-time record output of $11,011,387,000 for the 12 months beginning July 1, 1918.

Funds Without Delay.

Mr. Roosevelt, it was said, will ask Congress to make the additional billions available without delay so that the Army can place more orders at once for planes, tanks and other weapons. The projected recommendation also was reported to include provisions for financing expansion of aircraft production and munitions factories construction.

The action authorizing seizure of foreign vessels, one high official said, could be interpreted as laying the basis for the possible detention, if necessary, not only of French vessels in American waters but also of shipping owned in other European countries now controlled by Germany.

Involving a 1917 espionage statute, the Chief Executive delegated the broad control powers to Secretary Morgenthau, who, as head of the Treasury Department, directs the Coast Guard and Customs Service. The control powers extend to domestic as well as foreign vessels. The Treasury said no immediate action was contemplated.

The proclamation stated that ships might be seized "to secure observance of the rights and obligations of the United States" and this language caused speculation. The question raised was whether the word "obligations" would cover seizure of French ships in lieu of the $420,000,000 owed by France to the United States on the World War debt. Official clarification on this point was lacking.

Normandie in List.

French ships now in American ports, aside from the Normandie, include the San Francisco, the Vannes and Wisconsin at Los Angeles, the tanker Merop at Chester, Pa.; the Winnepeg at Miami and the tanker Scheerzede at Corpus Christi, Tex.

The power to seize foreign vessels also was granted to the Governor of the Panama Canal under the same restrictions placed on Secretary Morgenthau.

On the subject of the reported additional defense request reliable sources said that both Mr. Roosevelt and the National Defense Commission have approved all its details. If transmission of the request to Congress is delayed beyond next week, they added, it would be because of budgetary procedure. Some members of Congress were reported to have been informed of the President's plans.

Appropriations already provided for the Army have been based on the cost of complete equipment for 1,000,000 troops under the protective mobilization plan. The fact that the reported additional request would be entirely for Army purposes indicated the high command had long-range plans to have full service and reserve equipment ready for an even larger force, should the occasion arise.

Army Orders Placed.

The War Department, meanwhile, placed further equipment orders

PHILADELPHIA.—CONGRATULATES VICTOR—Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who lost the Republican presidential nomination to Wendell Willkie, with Mrs. Taft at his hotel suite after the convention had endorsed his rival. Taft is shown as he broadcast congratulations and a pledge of support to Willkie.

yesterday in line with present defense plans.

The orders, calling for expenditure of $41,564,866, included 1,000 armored scout cars, to cost $5,387,500; gun tubes, $428,736; cloth for 1,500,000 uniforms, $27,234,460; anti-aircraft fire-control instruments, $4,571,887; submachine guns, $877,723; anti-aircraft gun carriages, $794,300; and panoramic telescopes and spare parts, $242,560.

Mr. Roosevelt's authorization for the ship seizures climaxed a full day of conferences for the Chief Executive yesterday. During the afternoon he saw members of the Defense Commission and then talked at some length with the four cabinet officers drafting the all-American economic program.

William S. Knudsen, production chief for the Defense Commission, told reporters an agreement, with the Packard Motor Co. for a mass production aviation order might be reached in about a week.

Ships to Run as Usual, British Spokesman Says

NEW YORK, June 28 (P).—A spokesman for the British Ministry of Shipping stated today, "We do not expect the proclamation by the President of emergency control over foreign and domestic ships will affect the movements of our vessels, and we expect that they will run as usual."

The attitude of representatives of other lines flying the flags of belligerent and invaded countries was one of watchful waiting. An official of the French Line said he believed French ships would not be allowed to leave United States ports while war continued.

An agent for several Norwegian shipping companies said the proclamation "would probably have some effect on Norwegian ships," but added that he had received no official definition of the course his clients would follow.

There are approximately 140 foreign flag vessels, including the world's two largest passenger liners—the British Queen Elizabeth and the French Normandie—in New York Harbor alone.

Also here are four French freighters, in addition to a Norwegian ship leased by a French firm, 28 British vessels, 32 Norwegian, 9 Danish, 6 Dutch—including the liner Nieuw Amsterdam—4 Belgian and 5 Italian.

Summary of Today's Star

Amusements, Page C-10
Radio, Page C-10
A-C-17
Society, Page B-3
Comics, Page B-3
Editorials, Page C-14
Finance, Page B-12
Lost, Found, C-5
Page B-12
Obituary, Page B-12

Foreign
Germany expected to ask U.S. aid in feeding Europe. Page A-1
Carol appeals to Hitler as Reds march in. Page A-1
Near East Allied chief orders hostilities ended. Page A-22
Japanese confer with Dutch to assure Indies trade. Page B-5
Chamberlain party pledges self anew to support war. Page B-6

Republican Convention
Democratic leaders critical of Willkie as G. O. P. choice. Page A-2
Willkie supporter denies heavy money backs Willkie. Page A-5

National.
President reported ready to double defense funds requests. Page A-1
Willkie's life of action began as a schoolboy. Page A-3
Willkie promises fight for prosperity, defense and unity. Page A-4

Washington and Vicinity
War Department to take over two new buildings. Page B-1
Court to take part of Judge Bentley's work suggested. Page B-1

Editorial and Comment
Answers to Questions. Page A-10
Letters to The Star. Page A-10
This and That. Page A-11
David Lawrence. Page A-11
Alap and Kintner. Page A-11
Constantine Brown. Page A-11
Frederic William Will. Page A-11
Charles G. Ross. Page A-11

Miscellaneous
Vital Statistics. Page B-5
Service Orders. Page B-5
Bedtime Story. Page C-10
Letter-Out. Page C-11
Winning Contract. Page C-11
Uncle Ray's Corner. Page C-11
Cross-word Puzzle. Page C-11
Nature's Children. Page C-12

American Citizens May Be Removed From Hong Kong

British Ships Ready To Aid Women and Children if Necessary

By the Associated Press. HONG KONG, June 28.—A decision on the possible removal of 1,000 American citizens in Hong Kong may come tomorrow, it was said tonight as British quarters disclosed they were holding ships ready to carry away women and children if it becomes necessary.

A statement broadcast by the government radio here said instructions had been received from London which indicate an order for removal of the women and children might be made soon.

This was taken in some circles as indication that Britain had decided to resist Japan's demand for the closing of the Burma (British) route, over which arms have been shipped to China.

It was learned United States authorities have cabled the State Department at Washington for permission to instruct the United States liner President Coolidge, arriving here tomorrow from San Francisco, to go to Manila and stand by until further notice.

At the same time, the steamer City of New York, which left Hong Kong today for America, could be recalled if necessary, but the President Coolidge was considered large enough to take all Americans on board.

Two United States gunboats are in or near Hong Kong. American interests here are in charge of a veteran in the Foreign Service—Consul General Addison Southard of Louisville, Ky.

The 1,000 American nationals consist, roughly, of one-third Orientals, one-third Filipinos and one-third Americans-born Chinese. It was estimated there are not more than 200 women and children among them.

Millstein Is Acquitted Of Blackmail Charge

A District Court jury has acquitted Reuben K. Millstein, attorney, auditor and former Justice Department bank accountant, of a charge of blackmail. The case was heard before Justice James W. Morris in District Court and the jury's ruling was returned at 10:30 a.m.

About a year and a half ago the District grand jury indicted Mr. Millstein on charges brought by Attorney Harvey L. Cobb, a stockholder and president of the Arcade Cafeteria, Inc. Representing Mr. Millstein at the trial were Attorneys Rudolph H. Yeaman and George D. Horning, Jr. Mr. Millstein took the witness stand and denied the charges.

Testimony was produced by the Government designed to show that Mr. Millstein on January 14, 1937, threatened to accuse Mr. Cobb of falsifying tax returns of Arcade Cafeteria, Inc., before the Bureau of Internal Revenue unless he was given $200.

Mr. Millstein prepared the tax returns. He brought out that he was a stockholder in the concern and helped start the business in 1930 and sought a larger share of the profits.

A $50,000 libel suit, filed by Mr. Millstein against Mr. Cobb, is pending in District Court.

Frat and Forman Win Boys' Doubles Title

Peter Fratt and Leon Forman won the boys' doubles in The Star's City of Washington tennis tournament at Columbia Country Club today. They defeated Bache Gill and Delos (Cotton) Smith, 6-0, 6-1.

After losing the first set, Gill and Smith put up a battle at the start of the second set. They deuced the first two games, winning the first, but thereafter they were easy for Fratt and Forman, winning only four points during the remainder of the match.

Weather Report

(Furnished by the United States Weather Bureau.)

District of Columbia—Showers and thunderstorms tonight and early tomorrow, followed by fair and slightly cooler tomorrow afternoon; fresh southwest winds tonight shifting to northwest tomorrow; Sunday fair.

Maryland—Showers and thunderstorms this afternoon and tonight, slightly warmer tonight; tomorrow partly cloudy, preceded by showers in east portion, cooler in afternoon and night; Sunday fair.

Virginia—Showers and thunderstorms this afternoon, tonight and tomorrow; cooler in north portion tomorrow afternoon and night; Sunday partly cloudy with local showers in south portion.

West Virginia—Cloudy with showers and thunderstorms tonight and in south portion tomorrow; slightly cooler in northwest portion tonight and in north portion tomorrow.

A disturbance is moving eastward over Lake Michigan, Houston, Mich. 998.6 millibars (29.49 inches), with a trough extending southwest to Indiana and thence southwestward to Northwestern Texas. Another high-pressure area is moving eastward over the Eastern Gulf of Mexico and the East Gulf and South Atlantic States. Tampa, Fla., 1021.1 millibars (30.17 inches). Another high-pressure area is advancing rapidly eastward over the New England States. Boston, Mass., 1014.4 millibars (29.96 inches). Another high-pressure area is advancing eastward over the Plains States and the Northern Rocky Mountain region. Denver, Colo., 1023.7 millibars (30.23 inches). The last 24 hours showers have occurred in the Plains States. The last 24 hours showers have occurred in the Plains States. The last 24 hours showers have occurred in the Plains States.

Report for Last 24 Hours. Temperature. Barometer. Precipitation. Yesterday—8 a.m. 72 29.78 0.00 8 p.m. 72 29.81 0.00 Today—8 a.m. 72 29.83 0.00 8 p.m. 72 29.87 0.00 Noon 72 29.87 0.00

Record for Last 24 Hours. (From noon yesterday to noon today.) Highest, 88, noon today. Year ago, 72. Lowest, 68, 9:30 a.m. today. Year ago, 68.

Record Temperatures This Year. Highest, 93, on June 24. Lowest, 62, on January 29.

Humidity for Last 24 Hours. (From noon yesterday to noon today.) Highest, 93 per cent. at 2 a.m. today. Lowest, 64 per cent. at 9:30 p.m. yesterday.

River Report. Potomac River clear and Shenandoah muddy at Harper's Ferry; Potomac slightly muddy at Great Falls, Md.

Tide Tables. (Furnished by United States Coast and Geodetic Survey.) Tomorrow High 10:00 a.m. 2:54 a.m. Low 5:58 a.m. 9:59 a.m. High 1:10 p.m. 6:03 p.m. Low 9:03 p.m. 3:56 p.m.

Virginia U. Golfer Enters Collegiate Semifinal Round

Eastern Entrants Snatch Three of Brackets in Championship Play

By the Associated Press. MANCHESTER, Vt., June 28.—Eastern golfers, paced by Harry Haverstick of Swarthmore, gained three of the four semifinal brackets today in the National Collegiate A. A. golf championship play at Ekwanok.

Haverstick eliminated Stewart (Skip) Alexander of Duke, regarded as the most potent of the eight quarter-finalists, by a 3-and-2 margin to qualify for an afternoon round against Bill (Ace) Cordingley of Harvard. The other morning victors were F. Dixon Brooke of the University of Virginia, and Eddie Foy of Holy Cross.

Haverstick and Alexander, who also was eliminated in last year's quarter-finals play, put together one-under 34s as they completed the first nine all even. After both birdied the 10th, Haverstick clinched the match by threeing the next two holes with a winning par and a birdie. Alexander managed to win the short 13th with three, but Haverstick took two of the last three holes to end the match on the 16th green.

Brook Defeats Middlecoff. Brooke defeated Cary Middlecoff, Mississippi, 3 and 2. Foy defeated William G. Clark, Dartmouth, 4 and 2. Cordingley defeated William Hall, Iowa State, 2 and 1.

Brooke, captain-elect of the Cavalier team, was one over par for the 16 holes that were required to eliminate Middlecoff.

Brooke had only 1 birdie, a 3 on the 365-yard third hole, while matching the first nine's par of 35. Each took three of their seven inward holes and Brooke ran out the match by getting his 4 for a win on the 16th.

Has Unsteady Start. Foy started off in unsteady fashion and lost two of the first three holes to Clark's par 4s. He pulled into a 1-up lead by winning the eighth and ninth holes.

Clark squandered matters on the 10th green and then regained the lead by rapping in a 35-footer for a birdie deuce at the 11th. Foy, however, pulled even by sinking a 10-footer for a birdie 3 on the next green and then played par golf to win the match.

Cordingley in defeating Hall, one of the 1939 semi-finalists, was steady and straight on all but the 16th hole where he sailed his drive out of bounds, but Hall visited many a trap and found much roughage. Cordingley pulled into a 3-up on the first four holes.

Then Hall's putter became hot and he pulled even by birdieing the first two inward holes with 15 and 10 footers. But it cooled off almost immediately and Cordingley regained his advantage when Hall three-putted for five on the 12th and 14th.

(Earlier Story on Page C-1.)

G.O.P. Women Stirred By Tip Mrs. Roosevelt Was 'Observer'

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Note to Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt: Did you slip into the Republican Convention for part of a session? The rumor that you did curled the hair of several very good Republicans. Your cousin, Alice Roosevelt Longworth, gasped at the idea and then laughed, "Anything's possible."

It didn't help any either that one of the people attending the convention had seen you driving north through Wilmington.

Composite Totals of Balloting

Candidates.	1	2	3	4	5	6
WILLKIE	105	171	259	306	429	998*
TAFT	189	203	212	254	377
DEWEY	360	338	315	250	57
JAMES	74	66	59	56	59
VANDENBERG	76	73	72	61	42
HOOVER	17	21	32	31	20
McNARY	13	10	10	8	9
MacNIDER	34	34	28	26	4
GANNETT	33	30	11	4	1
BRIDGES	28	9	1	1
MARTIN	44	26
CAPPER	18	18
LA GUARDIA		1
BUSHFIELD	9
Votes cast	1,000	1,000	999	997	998	998*

Catholic Chaplains Of Prisons Adopt 12-Point Program

Institute Given Blessing Of Apostolic Delegate, Hears U. S. Official

The first annual Institute for Catholic Prison Chaplains closed today with adoption of a 12-point program and the apostolic blessing bestowed on all chaplains, their institutions and an estimated number of more than 100,000 inmates by the Most Rev. Amelio Giovanni Cicognani, the apostolic delegate.

The organization, which held a three-day session at the National Catholic School of Social Service, 2400 Nineteenth street N.W., decided to continue in what was described as a "fluid state," with an informal organization headed by the Right Rev. Msgr. John O'Grady, secretary of the National Conference of Catholic Charities.

The apostolic delegate paid high tribute to the work of the chaplains. He called on them to continue their excellent work in the "transformation of souls" through the love of Jesus Christ.

"The souls of some of those inmates," he said, "may appear to be abandoned, but they are not abandoned."

In a brief discussion at the close of the session, James V. Bennett, director of the Bureau of Prisons, Justice Department, expressed appreciation for the work of the chaplains and suggested that next year it might be beneficial for the group to meet in some city where a penal institution was located.

Among the recommendations which the chaplains adopted were: Full-time Catholic chaplains in every penal institution; a training program for Catholic prison chaplains; appointment of assistant chaplains; a chapel devoted solely to Catholic worship in each institution; mass every Sunday and holy day; a course of religious education; co-operation with Parole Boards, and others.

Vice President

(Continued From First Page.)

and I all prefer the comparatively simple but intelligent life of Kansas."

Representatives Frank Horton of Wyoming and Charles Halleck of Indiana, two Willkie leaders, also were mentioned, but were reported disinclined to seek the nomination. Senator Austin of Vermont suggested Gov. Raymond E. Baldwin of Connecticut, another Willkie manager. But he added, "If McNary would take it, I would be for him."

Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota, Mr. Willkie's convention floor manager, said Senator McNary was his personal choice.

It was generally acknowledged that Mr. Willkie would have an important voice not only in the selection of a running mate, but even next National Republican Committee chairman as well. Some informed political leaders predicted that he would not favor the retention of Chairman John D. M. Hamilton.

McNary Is Outstanding Choice, Says Stassen

By the Associated Press.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—Nomination of Senator McNary of Oregon as the running mate of Wendell Willkie was forecast today by Gov. Harold Stassen, floor manager for the successful presidential nominee.

He said the Senate's Republican leader was the outstanding choice of the convention delegates. Four of the Oregonian's close friends and colleagues—Senators Vandenberg of Michigan, Lodge of Massachusetts, Townsend of Delaware and Austin of Vermont—predicted he would accept.

Herbert Hoover, who had telegraphed his congratulations to Mr. Willkie shortly after midnight, left this convention city in midmorning and apparently did not participate in the vice presidential talk. The former President would make no further comment on the outcome of the convention.

Several of those most prominently mentioned for the vice presidency had removed themselves from the picture. These included Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio and Hanford MacNider of Iowa.

Mr. MacNider said today he was

Willkie Nomination Poses Question of Methods, Says Farley

Clearcut Division Between Parties Is Provided, Bankhead Asserts

By the Associated Press. Democratic National Chairman Farley said today this was the question posed the Nation in the light of Wendell Willkie's nomination by the Republicans to be President.

"What sets of forces, economic and social, are to conduct our Government—the historic American processes or some new and somewhat foreign methods of concentrated control?"

Speaker Bankhead, who will be keynote speaker at the Democratic Convention next month, had this comment:

"The nomination of Mr. Willkie provides a clear-cut division between the two major parties. If the voters wish to place the executive in the control of forces which are somewhat foreign to our usual American way of life, and which will doubtless largely dominate the actions of the Republican nominee, they have a constitutional right to do so in November."

Secretary of the Interior Ickes predicted that President Roosevelt will be re-nominated and re-elected in a prepared statement commenting on the nomination of Mr. Willkie.

Mr. Ickes described the Republican candidate as a "man with no experience except as a clever lawyer and successful public utility holding company representative," and declared that "the people at this gravest crisis since we became a Nation will choose the courage and wisdom of President Roosevelt."

Willkie to Grow Weaker, He Says. "Two months ago Mr. Dewey seemed to be the glamorous and dazzling hope of the Republican party," Mr. Ickes said. "Today, Mr. Willkie is."

"The difference between Thomas E. Dewey and Wendell Willkie is the difference between a pinwheel and a skyrocket."

Pointing out that following the Illinois and Wisconsin primaries he predicted that Mr. Dewey was at the top of his strength at that time and would grow weaker as the days passed, Mr. Ickes said, "I make the same prediction today with respect to Mr. Willkie."

Gen. Yague Replaced

MADRID, June 28 (P).—Gen Juan Yague, a hero of the Spanish Civil War, was replaced today as air minister by Gen Juan Vigan, chief of the high general staff.

"not a candidate for Vice President, and couldn't take the vice presidential nomination even if it should come to me." He added in an interview, "I have a lot of land to farm and a cement plant to run, and I don't feel I should try to do anything else. I'd rather live in Iowa than in Washington, anyway."

Mr. MacNider was Assistant Secretary of War in the Calvin Coolidge administration. Commenting on his residence in the voteless District of Columbia, he said, humorously: "My kids were born there, and now they razz me about having 'no citizenship.'"

Gov. Bricker also told interviewers he did not desire nomination and would not accept. Gov. Bricker has been renominated for his present office.

Chas. Schwartz & Son Says:

GO

RCA Victor 'Pick-Me-Up'
3-way operation, battery or D.C. house current. RCA Victor tubes. Handicraft cabinet in rich dark walnut finish. Pay 50¢ a Week

RCA Victor 'Pick-Me-Up'
3-way operation. Battery or D.C. house current. RCA Victor tubes. Handicraft cabinet in rich dark walnut finish. Pay 50¢ a Week

RCA VICTOR

3-WAY PORTABLE RADIO

- Plays on its own current
- Plays on AC House current
- Plays on DC House current

PAY ONLY 50¢ A WEEK

LOOK FOR THE GOLD CLOCK

CHAS. SCHWARTZ & SON

Since 1888... Home of Perfect Diamonds

708 Seventh St. N.W. Phone MEt. 0060