LETTER-OUT

1	ORDAIN	Letter-Out and empty.	1
2	TROOPS	Letter-Out and bend.	2
3	READY	Letter-Out and it's days and days.	3
4	SELDOM	Letter-Out and he fashions.	4
5	MARSH	Letter-Out for false.	5

Remove one letter from each word and rearrange to spell the word called for in the last column. Print the letter in center column opposite the word from which you have removed it. If you have "Lettered-Out" correctly it is a command.

Answer to Yesterday's LETTER-OUT.
(H) SHARED—DARES (takes a chance).
(O) TROOPER—REPORT (account for).
(N) DANCER—RACED (he was in a hurry).
(C) ORION—IRON (in demand these days).
(R) AMBER—BEAM (electric eye).

Bedtime Stories

By THORNTON BURGESS.

Billy Mink, Little Joe Otter, and Jerry Muskrat sat on the Big Rock in the Smiling Pool. Over on his big green lilypond sat Grandfather Frog. The Merry Little Breezes of Old Mother West Wind were playing with the buttercups and daisies on the bank, and Mrs. Redwing was singing to her babies in their cradle in the burrows.

Billy Mink was feeling very fine—very, very fine indeed—that morning. He had actually beaten Little Joe Otter in a swimming race. He can't do it very often, but he had done it that morning, and it made him feel very important. Now when people begin to feel important the feeling grows and grows. It was so with Billy Mink. He swelled himself up and began to walk back and forth on top of the Big Rock, and as he walked he began to boast. Yes, sir, Billy Mink began to boast.

"I can swim like a fish," said Billy Mink.

"Pooh! So can I!" exclaimed Little Joe Otter.

"I can run like the wind!" boasted Billy Mink.

"Peter Rabbit can run faster!" said Jerry Muskrat.

"I can follow a track with my nose," continued Billy Mink.

"So can Brownie the Hound!" grunted Little Joe Otter.

"I can climb trees like a flash," bragged Billy Mink.

"So can Happy Jack Squirrel," said Jerry Muskrat, sliding into the Smiling Pool in disgust.

"I can do anything that anybody who wears fur and lives on the Green Meadows or in the Green Forest can do!" cried Billy Mink, and strutted up and down, up and down, on top of the Big Rock.

Grandfather Frog had listened and said nothing until Billy Mink had boasted that he could do anything that anybody else could do. Then he rolled his big, goosy eyes up at jolly, round Mr. Sun and began to sing in a deep voice:

"The boaster brags what he can do; He swells his chest, his head swells, too. Some day he'll burst, and then you'll see He nothing had but empty mind."

Billy Mink stopped short and glared across at Grandfather Frog. "What's that you are saying?" demanded Billy Mink.

"Chugurum! I say you are a foolish boaster," replied Grandfather Frog, "for it is the easiest thing in the world to find somebody who wears fur to do something you can't do."

"Who can," asked Billy Mink.

"I'm not going to tell," replied Grandfather Frog.

"You can't, because you don't know any," sneered Billy Mink.

Grandfather Frog solemnly hopped up in the air and caught a foolish green fly who came too near for his own good.

"I never say what I cannot prove," Billy Mink said.

"I will prove it to you tomorrow night at sundown if you will agree to be here."

Of course, Billy Mink agreed. You see, Little Joe Otter was listening, so he felt that he had to agree.

JOLLY POLLY

A Little Chat on English

By JOS. J. FRISCH.

O. J. D.—"One way to get into deep water is the correct form, not 'One way to get in deep water.' So also we say 'He ran into the room' if we mean he ran from outside, or 'He ran in the room' if the action has taken place in the room. 'She dropped several coins into the plate.' 'Mary fell into the river.'"

POINTS FOR PARENTS

By EDYTH THOMAS WALLACE.

Taking the attitude that the other person is always to blame does not help the adjustment of one's own child.
