U. S.-British Accord On Occupation Costs Expected Next Week

By the Associated Press

The United States and Britain are expected to reach agreement, probably early next week, on an arrangement by which this country will assume around $250,000,000 of British costs in the western zones of Germany.

The agreement is expected also to provide that the United States will assume a greater authority in top economic agencies of the Anglo-American zones. Officials are emphatic in declaring, however, that this increased voice will not in any way infringe on the basic economic and political partnership which the Western powers have developed there.

American and British officials on October 3 began discussing a British request for the United States to take over British dollar costs in Germany. The talks were suspended last week while several critical questions were referred to the British cabinet for decision.

Agreement Expected Soon.

That decision is understood to have been reached, at least in large part, and one highly placed informant predicted that the talks would be resumed shortly and agreement reached early next week.

The United States, it was learned, already has agreed "in principle" to the British proposal, which was made because the British are short of dollars. Major requirements in the Western German zones are food and other supplies, most of which can be bought only with dollars.

Information from diplomatic and official sources gave this picture of the situation as it stands today: The British have been spending about $400,000,000 a year to maintain the civilian economy of their part of the merged British-American zones. Of that amount, $280,000,000 actually has been spent in dollars and the rest, amounting to $120,000,000, has been spent in pounds sterling.

To Buy More With Sterling.

During the negotiations here the British are understood to have indicated that they would be able to buy more of the supplies required in Germany with pound sterling, the total of the increase being about $70,000,000. This, under the prospective new arrangement, would raise the British expenditure in pounds to about $190,000,000 and fix the new total cost to be assumed by the United States for next year at about $210,000,000.

In addition, the British asked for relief from some remaining dollar expenditures this year beginning in early October. This reportedly totals about $40,000,000.

Thus the grand total of prospective additional American expenditures in Germany from the present through next year would be approximately $250,000,000.

Potato Digger Strips Man

JEROME, Idaho (P)—A potato digging machine stripped David Detweiler of all his clothing, except shoes and socks, but he escaped with minor bruises. Witnesses said Mr. Detweiler was "spun around like a windmill" when he became entangled in the power take-off of the digger.

Mr. Moore's mother, Mrs. Hazel Moore, who has lived at the Washington Club, 1701 K street N.W., for six months, arrived in Shanghai Tuesday to join her son's wife. She left Washington a week ago yesterday and made the 13,000-mile trip by air.

Some Doubt Cast on Report Of Fatal Crash in China

By the Associated Press

PEIPING, Nov. 1.—Some doubt was cast today on a Chinese Communist relief agency report that Harley Moore, Syracuse, N. Y., and two crewmen were killed in the crash of their China Air Transport Corp. plane October 17.

The CACT said it was possible the relief agency might have been reporting on another crash near Shinkiang, Central China, perhaps that of a Chinese air force plane.

CATC noted that the relief agency in its report from Communist-held territory near that city gave the time of the crash as noon, October 17. But Mr. Moore and his plane did not leave Chinkiang until 2 p.m. and it maintained radio contact for 20 minutes.

The relief agency message that the plane burst into flames after it hit and the bodies were badly burned. They were buried by Communist militia. Air searchers who first spotted the downed plane said it was intact, but that Communists came back later and burned it.

Second Suspect Held In Hijacking Attempt

A second man, accused of being involved in the attempt to hijack a truck load of whisky valued at $4,600 here last Wednesday, was arrested by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents last night as he was walking in the Northeast section of Washington.

The FBI said the man, identified as William Hodges, 25, of no fixed address, has been living in an automobile parked on I street N. E. His pajamas were found in the car.

A truck operator, Howard Whitehair, 32, of 122 Eleventh street N. E., was arrested earlier by the FBI in New York and charged with theft of interstate shipment in connection with the hijacking attempt.

Hodges was to be taken before United States Commissioner Needham C. Turnage today and arraigned on a charge of theft of interstate shipment, according to the FBI.

The attempt to hijack the whisky was made when the truck, containing a load en route from Baltimore to Fayetteville, N. C., stopped at a gasoline station in the 1900 block of New York avenue N. E.
