

Leftists on Warpath In Italy, Sounding Civil War Warnings

By the Associated Press
ROME, Nov. 14.—Italy's powerful Left, seething with suppressed anger since Premier Alcide de Gasperi kicked it out of the cabinet last May, was openly and admittedly on the warpath today, sounding warnings of "civil war."

During turbulent Constituent Assembly debate last night over prolonged violence sweeping the entire peninsula, Communist Giuseppe di Vittorio, leader of the big General Labor Confederation, grimly declared:

"If you want to save the country from the misfortune of civil war, it will be necessary for the government to observe the democratic legality of dissolving Fascist organizations rather than imbuing them with the hope of rising again and taking over power anew."

The Communist Party chief, Palmiro Togliatti, pointed up the warning later when he told reporters in the Assembly corridors that the Communists would keep up their fight against Mr. de Gasperi on a parliamentary plane—"as long as that is possible."

Red Deputy Ejected.
Inside the chamber the debate grew so raucous at one point that Speaker Umberto Terracini, a Communist, ejected Deputy Edoardo d'Onofrio, also a Communist, for refusing to quiet down.

One new death was reported today, swelling to five the known toll for 10 days of riotous disorder the length and breadth of Italy. Ferruccio Gatti, ex-general of the Fascist militia, who was shot as he sat at lunch in Milan November 4, died of his wounds.

The clubbed, the stabbed, the trampled numbered scores, however, and strikes added to the black picture.

Factory workers quit for long or short periods in Milan, Genoa, Turin and other big industrial centers. Ferrara Province farmhands quit at midnight for an unstated period. Doctors in Bari struck. A declared nationwide gas strike—which thus far had affected only Rome—remained unsolved.

Publicly the middle-of-the-road De Gasperi government was taking the leftist challenge calmly.

Reports Termed Exaggerated.
Interior Minister Mario Scelba, when he finally managed to make himself heard in the Assembly last night, declared that the reports of violence were "exaggerated" and said the government would use the force of the state to suppress whatever violence there was.

Everywhere the pattern of the disorders differed only in the details. Ostensibly they began as leftist protests against the recent deaths of other leftists in the Milan area and in Sicily. The meetings heard that there was a resurgence of fascism.

Offices of such rightwing groups as the Monarchists, Liberals and Uomo Qualunque (Common Man) were wrecked. Assaults were attempted on city halls. Rightists and independent newspapers were burned and the offices of some were wrecked. Almost every large city in Italy—Naples, Milan, Genoa, Turin, Venice, Leghorn, Bologna—was involved.

TROOPS AND POLICE BATTLE MARSEILLE DEMONSTRATORS—Mobile guards and police fought to hold back a crowd of demonstrators in Marseille, France, yesterday during a day of rioting in which one person was fatally wounded and several others injured. Communist labor leaders called a general strike in Marseille today as troops and police patrolled the streets. (From yesterday's last edition.)

Uomo Qualunque and Monarchist deputies angrily assailed the Leftists in the Assembly and demanded government protection for their parties. They said the Leftists were challenging freedom of the press and called for vigorous repressive measures.

Blinded Veteran Loses Suit Against Bus Line

By the Associated Press
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 14.—Circuit Judge Julian F. Bouchelle yesterday dismissed a $50,000 damage suit filed against the Atlantic Greyhound Corp. by a colored war veteran who charged he was blinded by a policeman who removed him from a bus at the request of its driver.

A jury of one Negro and 11 white persons deliberated six hours before returning a verdict in the company's favor.

Isaac Woodard, Jr., 28, testified the bus driver, Alton Blackwell, ordered his removal when the bus reached Batesburg, S. C. There, Mr. Woodard said, police gave him a beating which resulted in his loss of sight.

Mr. Blackwell told the court he asked Mr. Woodard's removal from the bus because of "drinking and loud profanity."

Argentina Lashes At American Paper

By the Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 14.—The Argentine press office declared last night that the New York Times is "systematically anti-Argentine" and a "constant enemy of our people and nation."

In a communique broadcast over a nation-wide radio chain, the press office said the Times had misinterpreted the reorganization of national universities under a recently enacted law.

The communique quoted the Times as saying the universities had been "placed almost in the complete control" of supporters of President Peron. It said the paper did not understand Argentine problems.

The government has defended reorganization of the universities as necessary for eliminating politics from the schools.

(The Times office in New York withheld comment, pending a search of its files for the quotation mentioned.)

A short time earlier the government ordered the closure of the independent morning newspaper Clarin because of an alleged labor infraction but canceled the order within the hour, without explanation.

Americans with incomes under $500 a year contribute as large a portion of those incomes to churches as those with incomes of from $5,000 to $10,000 a year and more than twice the proportion contributed by those with incomes over $10,000.
