By the Associated Press
PEEKSKILL, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Paul Robeson says he will hold a concert Sunday—a mile from where a riot broke up a scheduled appearance last week—and veterans' groups say they'll stage a parade to protest it, as they did before.

The Negro singer, declaring "there'll be no more Peekskill—no more Peekskill," announced his acceptance last night of an invitation to sing Sunday afternoon in nearby Cortlandt, where the riot raged last Saturday.

Fourteen veterans' groups immediately countered at a meeting here with plans to hold a parade past the new concert scene that would be what they termed "a conclusive demonstration against communism."

Eight Injured in Riot

A scheduled concert by the Negro singer—who has been actively identified with leftist movements—broke up into a fierce riot Saturday after veterans' groups staged a counter-demonstration.

At least eight persons were injured, two seriously.

Robeson will sing Sunday under auspices of the "Westchester Committee for Law and Order," which describes itself as a non-political group formed after last week's disturbance.

Parade Plans Made

Robeson, announcing his new concert at a New York meeting, said:

"If none of the State troopers show up, we'll be protected, we'll be there, and we'll have a concert, with many artists from all over the United States."

The veterans' groups met in Cortlandt township, where the concert is scheduled, and drew up plans for their parade.

Debris of Hunters' Camp Dating To 5000 B.C. Found in West

By the Associated Press
NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Extensive remains of a primitive group of hunters, who roamed the American West thousands of years before Christ's birth, have been unearthed near Cody, Wyo., it was disclosed here today.

Dr. Loren Eiseley of the University of Pennsylvania said the Wyoming camp site probably dates back to between 5,000 and 12,000 years before Christ.

Threats on Tucker's Life By Capone Men Reported

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Preston Tucker, head of Tucker Corp., has reported threats against his life.

The Chicago Sun-Times yesterday quoted Mr. Tucker as saying the threats came from members of the Capone syndicate who allegedly lost large sums on franchises for the rear-engine automobile which Mr. Tucker had proposed to build.

Indiana Judge Denounces Cancellation of Meeting

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2 (AP).—Cancellation of a civil liberties rally here was described last night by an Indiana jurist as "totally un-American."

Judge Norval K. Harris, the scheduled speaker, told newsmen the cancellation was caused by "undemocratic pressure" from newspapers and "possibly veterans' organizations who have been misled into believing civil rights meetings are Communist-inspired."

Toothache Victim Goes 1,600 Miles To Closest Dentist

First Contracts Let By Maryland for Chesapeake Bridge

BALTIMORE (AP).—The State Roads Commission today awarded $16,428,814 worth of contracts for building the substructure of Maryland's bridge across Chesapeake Bay. More than a dozen firms bid on various phases of the work. Names of firms receiving contracts were not immediately available.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 2.—The State Roads Commission met today under a directive to award the first construction contracts for Maryland's big bridge across Chesapeake Bay.

The commission was expected to announce the first award late in the day, despite an injunction suit filed to prevent the action.

Show Cause Order Granted.—Counselman Charles A. Mason filed an injunction suit seeking to compel the State Roads Commission to determine first how much it would cost to build a tunnel instead of a bridge.

Circuit Judge Joseph Sherbow signed the usual order giving the roads commission 15 days to show cause why the injunction should not be granted.

Lane Supports Bridge Plan.—In making his announcement that the contracts would be awarded today, Gov. Lane stated that a bridge can be built for "less than $41,000,000."

Without referring specifically to Mr. Mason's suit, he said:

"In deciding to build a bridge, the cost of the project as contrasted with that of a tunnel was only one of the many factors that led the State Roads Commission and its advisory council to decide in favor of a bridge."

He said that "even though a bridge costs more than a tunnel I would favor it because of the manifold advantages it offers."

Cites Other Advantages.—Gov. Lane said these other factors favored a bridge over a tunnel:

1. A tunnel roadway would be only 23 feet wide compared with the bridge's 28 feet.
2. Since the tunnel would be under only the main part of the bay, and much of the crossing would be over trestles and causeways, small boats would have to go well out of their course to get up and down the bay.
3. Many motorists would shun the tunnel because of their tendency to claustrophobia.
4. All types of traffic could move over the bridge, but trucks carrying highly inflammable or other such materials would have to be barred from the tunnel.

Spot Check on Hill Indicates Pay Reclassification Passage

By Joseph Young
 A spot-check made recently among members of Congress shows considerable support for the Government's pay reclassification legislation.

This column canvassed 32 House members and 16 Senators last week, with the lawmakers selected evenly among the Eastern, Southern, Mid-Western and Western States. The legislators interviewed were not members of the House and Senate Civil Service Committees, since these groups already have approved the legislation.

Also, the political alignment was fairly divided, with 17 Democrats and 15 Republicans in the House participating, and nine Democrats and seven Republicans in the Senate interviewed.

In the House, 24 of the 32 members said they would vote for the Murray reclassification bill, which provides an average pay increase of $13 for the Government's classified employees. Five members said they couldn't comment, because they were unfamiliar with the legislation. Three other legislators said they were against any such bill because of the cost.

In the Senate, 11 of the 16 Senators interviewed said they would vote for the somewhat similar Long reclassification bill, which provides an average pay increase of $123 for the Government's classified employees. Two opposed it on economy grounds, while three Senators said they weren't familiar enough with the contents of the bill to comment on it.

The results of this spot-check would appear to indicate that reclassification legislation will have comparatively easy sailing whenever it comes up for action. The House is scheduled to take it up after its three-week recess, while Senate Majority Leader Lucas has promised it will be called up along with the top-bracket and the postal pay measures sometime before the end of the session.

The House already has passed the top bracket pay bill, and all 16 Senators interviewed said they were in favor of this measure. There was unanimous approval of the $150 postal pay measure in the House to the $100 bill reported by the Senate Civil Service Committee.

Soviet Seen Pressing For Korean Attack

By the Associated Press
SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 2.—Word spread here today that the Russians are demanding return of weapons loaned to North Korea Communists unless the Southern Republic is invaded by the end of this month.

An American officer assigned to intelligence for the American Embassy said the report was "possibly true." He said he had received it from two sources.

Korean officials also heard the same report from various sources. One Korean version was that the Soviets merely would end military assistance to the North Communist regime unless the South was taken over.

Defense Minister Sihm Sung Mo told the Associated Press that the report, whether true or not, would not change the policy of the republic's army. He said it is on the defense at all times against possible invasion by the Communists.

The Communist army has some Japanese weapons, but most of its equipment is Russian. The North Korean Red Army has been estimated at 200,000 men.

There are about 70,000 American-equipped men in the republic's army.

Approximately 50,000 organizations now use stamp meters for supplying their correspondence with the necessary postage.

Gunman 'Sent by Friend' Robs Man of $4,200

When Roosevelt Spencer looked out the second floor window of his home at 224 F street N.E. to see who could be ransacking his doorbell at 12:40 a.m. today, he didn't know that within a few minutes he would be $4,200 poorer.

Here's what happened, he told police later:

A lone colored man on the doorstep looked up and said: "I want to talk to you."

When Mr. Spencer, who also is colored, opened the door he was greeted with the muzzle of a revolver and these words:

"This is a stickup. Don't open your mouth or I'll blow your brains out."

The gunman and two hitherto unseen companions bound and gagged him and made him lie down on the kitchen floor while they took $4,200 from a metal box.

The money, Mr. Spencer said, was insurance, and had been in the house only two weeks. It was to have been put on payments for his home, and was all in cash.
