AMA's 'Family Doctor' To Be Feted at Home

By the Associated Press
GOSHEN, Ind., Dec. 12.—Goshen is planning a rousing welcome home next Tuesday for Dr. A. C. Yoder, 84, the American Medical Association's "family doctor of the year."

A committee named by Mayor Rollin Roth decided to give Dr. Yoder and his wife a television set and a diamond ring on their return from the AMA convention in Los Angeles. A parade is planned.

The committee also started arrangements for a city-wide reception on December 30. Special invitations will go to an estimated 2,000 babies delivered by Dr. Yoder during 49 years as a doctor in Goshen.

Argentina Is Angling For Atomic Accord With Foreign Nation

By the Associated Press
BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Dec. 12.—Dr. Ronald Richter, Austrian-born head of Argentina's atomic research, said last night he is negotiating a pact for exchanging atomic energy information and materials with a "highly industrialized foreign country."

He said the time was not ripe to identify the country with which he is dealing.

Dutch Scientist Takes Look.

Most foreign experts were skeptical when Dr. Richter announced last March that he had discovered new, cheaper ways to make atomic energy by applying extremely high temperatures to cheap metals.

But two months later a leading Dutch atomic scientist, Dr. C. J. Bakker, went to Argentina to study his atomic claims under the sponsorship of the Netherlands government. In June, informed diplomatic sources at the Hague said official discussions were going on between the Netherlands and Argentina looking toward "some kind of agreement" for co-operation on atomic research.

Progress Called Rapid.

Dr. Richter told a news conference yesterday that Argentine atomic work is advancing so rapidly it will be able to make convincing demonstrations of his methods in another three months.

Argentina decided to look for an industrialized partner, he said, because the country could not absorb the huge amounts of industrial energy he expects to produce by his methods.
