

TEAMSTERS

Monitors Plan Quick Knockout of Hoffa

Continued From First Page
Mr. Hoffa, in Miami for a meeting of the Southern Conference of Teamsters, said he was "disappointed" by the Supreme Court ruling. "We will live up to it," he said, "reserving the right to weigh each case as it comes. If it is in accordance with our constitution we will abide by it. Otherwise, we will go to the courts to present our views as against theirs (the monitors) for a decision."

Can Appeal Orders

When the Teamsters refuse to comply with a recommendation by the monitors, the monitors appeal to District Judge F. Dickinson Letts for enforcement. Judge Letts established the monitoring in January, 1958. The Teamsters can appeal orders issued by Judge Letts.

Legal maneuvers thus could retard the monitors' cleanup campaign. But yesterday's decision by the Supreme Court left the union little basis for future appeals.

The three-man board of monitors was appointed under a compromise decree in a lawsuit by rebel Teamsters who tried to bar Mr. Hoffa from office. The compromise let him take office as "provisional" president, under supervision by the monitors.

If Mr. Hoffa disobeys cleanup orders by Judge Letts, he will risk prosecution for contempt of court and consequent removal from office.

Will Hold Convention

After the monitors complete their job, the Teamsters will hold a convention to elect officers and revise the union constitution. The board of monitors will be dissolved after the convention.

If Mr. Hoffa is expelled from the union, he will be ineligible to run for re-election.

In the meantime, the monitors intend to bar Mr. Hoffa from running for re-election as president of Local 299, Detroit. They interpret the Teamster constitution as forbidding the national president to hold any other job. Mr. Hoffa was nominated by acclamation for the Local 299 presidency last week.

Possible Sabotage Seen In Locomotive's Wild Run

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 17 (AP).—The Jersey Central Railroad says its runaway locomotive may have been sent off deliberately by some one trying to sabotage the line.

The FBI also said it had entered the case to determine if there had been any violation of a Federal train wreck statute.

After an investigation a Central spokesman said yesterday: "It looks like some one maliciously sent the engine off. It's extremely unlikely the engine could get going by itself."

The 123-ton diesel-electric engine slid out of the Central yard in Jersey City Thursday night with no one aboard and highballed 22 miles down the tracks toward the Jersey shore before it was intercepted.

An engineer mounted a second locomotive in Perth Amboy, dashed ahead of the runaway locomotive, allowed it to catch up to him and hook on and then braked his engine to a halt.

The State Public Utility Commission also investigated the case and Ralph Fusco, commission president, said the throttle on the engine was wide open and the brakes were on.

"It looks like the train crew left the train properly," the Central spokesman said. Several procedures have to be taken before the locomotive begins to move, the spokesman said.

ADENAUER

Continued From First Page
to treat the West German leader warily. It criticized both West German economic and rearmament policies.

The London Times, however, said Mr. Adenauer "can count on good will and a genuine desire for understanding." It said chances of the conference ending on a constructive note are "much better than seemed possible a few months ago."

Topics expected to dominate the conference—in addition to British-German relations—are the proposed summit meeting with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and possible trade rivalry in Europe between the British-led group known as the "outer seven" and the six-nation common market that includes West Germany.

Relations between the British and West German governments reached a postwar low early this year.

British newspapers, and officials privately, charged Mr. Adenauer with being stubbornly inflexible and trying to block Mr. Macmillan's efforts to improve relations between the West and Russia. There was also talk that Mr. Adenauer and French President Charles de Gaulle were ganging up on Britain in an effort to reduce her influence on the European continent.

Officials in Bonn were highly critical of the British, accusing Mr. Macmillan of going soft toward the Russians and being willing to abandon West Berlin and the long-standing allied aim of German reunification. Mr. Adenauer even publicly accused British officials — he called them "wire pullers" — of inspiring an anti-German campaign in the British press.

Disengagement Opposed

Mr. Adenauer now has received assurances from Mr. Macmillan that Britain will continue to support the allied position in West Berlin and will oppose any idea of "disengaging" Western and Communist forces in Western Europe.

The Prime Minister also recently dropped the idea of a quick summit conference, bowing to French and West German desires for a slowdown in the timetable.

Mr. Adenauer on his part has recently praised Mr. Macmillan's leadership and policies.

Although Mr. Macmillan has arranged a warm welcome for Mr. Adenauer, there are few public appearances on the Chancellor's program. Apparently neither government has forgotten the chilly reception the British last year gave to Theodor Heuss, then the West German President, on his state visit.

The last would have been to engage the electric traction motors—which actually move the train—with the diesel engine.

The spokesman could give no explanation why someone would want to sabotage the railroad. "You can never tell what people will do," he said.

Parenthood Group Hailed

Dr. Seth R. Brooks, chairman of the clergy committee of the Planned Parenthood Association of the District, today hailed the formation of a clergyman's national advisory committee. He called it a "great step forward in expressing the growing community of interest shared by Planned Parenthood and major religious groups in encouraging responsible parenthood."

Formation of the new national committee, headed by Episcopal Bishop James A. Pike of California, was announced in New York this week at the 39th annual meeting of the Planned Parenthood Federation of America, with which the local family planning organization is affiliated.

Dr. Brooks said the 18-man national group, like its local counterpart, reflects "the strong support for family planning among major Protestant and Jewish denominations."

In announcing the new committee, Bishop Pike said it would work to obtain adequate contraceptive counseling for all American couples to help solve the world's "population explosion" and to assist Roman Catholics "in finding family planning methods which are morally acceptable to them."

One function of this committee, he said, will be to "help secure the incorporation of contraceptive counseling and prescription in maternal health services throughout the United States."

He said there is "an urgent public need" for couples in adequately trained in child spacing techniques to have access to medically supervised contraceptive services in public health departments, tax-supported hospitals and clinics and welfare agencies.

Toys for Tots Collections to Begin Nov. 23

The Marine Corps Reserve's annual Christmas collection of "Toys for Tots" will begin November 23. Lt. Col. Wayne F. Sanford, commander of the 13th Infantry Division of the Marine Corps Reserve announced today.

Barrels decorated with Santa Claus will be placed in 70 Shell Oil stations in the Washington Metropolitan area. Other collections will be made at the Navy Annex and at other selected spots.

Col. Sanford said the Toys for Tots project has the sanction of the Christmas Bureau of the Health and Welfare Council of the National Capital Area, and is co-ordinated with regional Christmas bureaus covering the District of Columbia, Arlington, Alexandria, Fairfax, Montgomery and Prince Georges counties.

All toys collected in a certain county will be distributed in that county, Col. Sanford said.

De Gaulle Visit To Canada Seen

OTTAWA, Nov. 17 (AP).—President Charles de Gaulle of France will probably visit Canada next year, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker said today.

Mr. Diefenbaker was questioned by newsmen about a Paris report that Gen. de Gaulle is planning to visit President Eisenhower in Washington next spring and might visit Canada afterward.

Coast Guard personnel transfer from an amphibian plane to a cutter in an effort to identify the nine bodies recovered yesterday from the crash of a National Airlines plane in the Gulf of Mexico. The plane carried 42 persons, all of whom were lost.—AP Wirephoto.

Victim of Plane Crash Native of Silver Spring

One of the 42 victims of yesterday's airliner crash in the Gulf of Mexico was a former Silver Spring man whose grandfather once was a member of Congress from California.

He was Frank M. Page, 34, a native of the suburban Maryland community who moved to Florida after his marriage nine years ago. His home was in Winter Park, Fla.

Mr. Page was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd J. Page of 613 Mississippi avenue, Silver Spring, where he lived until he married the former Virginia Ann Flanagan, also of Silver Spring.

A father of four children, Mr. Page went to Florida to complete his education after attending the University of Maryland for two years. He was graduated from the University of Miami and previously had attended Montgomery Blair High School in Silver Spring.

Was on Business Trip

He was on a business trip for the Crosse & Blackwell Co. when the plane went down. He had worked for the company for three years and was in charge of distribution of fruit juices in his area of Florida.

Mr. Page's family has lived in the Silver Spring and Forest Glen area since his great grandfather, the late Horace F. Page, came to Washington to serve in Congress before the turn of the century. The former family home once was a large farm along Georgia avenue just north of Forest Glen road, now developed with homes.

Mr. Page was a veteran of

FRANK M. PAGE
(1943 Photo)

Army infantry duty in World War II and was wounded by mortar shell fragments in Germany near the close of the war. He was awarded the Purple Heart Medal.

Father Retired Worker

Mr. Page's father is retired from the Washington City Post Office. He and Mrs. Page had gone to Fayetteville, Ark., a month ago to visit a daughter, Mrs. Wilson Kimbrough, whose husband is a professor at the University of Arkansas.

When they received word of Mr. Page's death, they left immediately for Guilford, Miss., according to two aunts here, Miss Mildred Page and Miss Jane Page of 2584-B Holman avenue, Forest Glen. Mr. Page's body is expected to be returned here for funeral services.

Bomber Crashes Wreckage Sighted

PARSONS, Tenn., Nov. 17 (AP).—A B-47 bomber crashed in a rugged, wooded area near this West Tennessee town today, and Decatur County Sheriff Ola Duck said a military helicopter had spotted the wreckage.

The sheriff said first radio reports he had from the helicopter said there were no signs of life around the plane. The B-47 normally carries a crew of three. Its home base was not determined immediately.

The crash site, about 55 miles east of Jackson, Tenn., is almost inaccessible by road. State and military rescue crews were moving overland from the nearest roads to the scene, a few miles west of the Tennessee River.

Sheriff Duck said it might take several hours to reach the crash site through heavy woodland and brush.

Mikoyan Flying To Mexico City

MOSCOW, Nov. 17 (AP).—Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan left Moscow by air for Mexico City today to open the Soviet trade and scientific exhibition shown earlier this year in New York. He will be the highest ranking Soviet official ever to visit Latin America.

Mr. Mikoyan will stop over tonight in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

This will be Mr. Mikoyan's second brief visit in Canada. Last winter his plane developed engine trouble over the Atlantic southeast of Nova Scotia en route from the United States, and he stayed overnight at Argentina, Newfoundland.

The Soviet Ambassador to Canada, Amasasp Aroutunian, described the stop in Halifax as a rest stop.

10 Take 'Fifth' at Probe Of Puerto Rico Reds

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 (AP).—Ten hostile witnesses have refused to tell a congressional hearing whether they have played any part in Communist activities among Puerto Ricans.

A House Un-American Activities Subcommittee opened a hearing here yesterday. The hearing moves to San Juan later in the week.

Representative Gordon Scherer, Republican of Ohio, a member of the subcommittee, answered charges from some witnesses that Puerto Rico is oppressed by mainland Americans by declaring that he and other members of Congress are ready to vote for Puerto Rico's independence.

Mr. Scherer added, however, that "80 per cent of the Puerto Ricans don't want independence." Such independence, he said, would save the United States and New York City a lot of money.

Conspirators Blamed

The subcommittee's chairman, Representative William M. Tucker, Democrat of Virginia, emphasized that "the overwhelming majority of Puerto Ricans are loyal and patriotic." He said Communist power stemmed from "disciplined conspirators."

One witness, Jorge W. Maysonet-Hernandez, 47, declared that Puerto Rican Communists have a right to "fight for liberty." He said "force and violence are determined by circumstances and by the position of reaction."

Mr. Maysonet - Hernandez, who took the Fifth Amendment to avoid saying whether he had been executive secretary of the New York Puerto Rican organization of the Communist Party, admitted addressing a rally here November 6. He refused to say who sponsored the rally.

Other witnesses were Jesus Colon, 58, a columnist on the Worker, a Communist newspaper here; Felix Ojeda-Ruiz, 56, who was among Communist leaders arrested in San Juan in 1954; William Norman, 57, Russian-born former state secretary of the Communist Party; Stanley L. Weiss, 29, who refused to say if he had traveled to Puerto Rico; Ramon Acevedo, Victor Agosto, 37; Michael Crenovich, 34, and Angel Rene Torres, 31.

THERE IS ENGLISH, AND THE ENGLISH USED BY CONGRESS

By the Associated Press
Justice Frankfurter says the Supreme Court must base its decisions on what Congress intended to say—not what it did say when passing a law.

Dissenting from the court's 6-3 decision that a taxpayer can't be subjected to two penalties for failure to file a declaration of estimated tax, Justice Frankfurter wrote yesterday:

"The court's task is to construe not English but congressional English. Our problem is not what do ordinary English words mean, but what did Congress mean them to mean."

"Here we have the most persuasive kind of evidence that Congress did not mean the language in controversy, however plain it may be to the ordinary user of English, to have the ordinary meaning."

Court Rules Out Penalty for Failing To 'Guess' Income

By the Associated Press
The Supreme Court ruled that a taxpayer who fails to file a declaration of estimated tax cannot be penalized for substantially under-estimating his tax as well as for the failure to file.

This rejected the view of the Internal Revenue Service that a non-filer is subject to both penalties. The service contended that failure to file a declaration was the same as declaring no income.

The high court's 6-3 decision yesterday sustained the United States Circuit Court in Cincinnati in the case of Fred N. Aker, a Cleveland attorney.

Justice Whitaker, who wrote the majority opinion, said tax laws failed to contain any expressed or necessarily implied provision or language "to authorize the treatment of a taxpayer's failure to file a declaration of estimated tax as, or the equivalent of, a declaration estimating his tax to be zero."

Justice Frankfurter dissented and was joined by Justices Clark and Harlan.

The United States Tax Court has gone along with the view of the Revenue Service.

Four Nations' Doctors Join To Help Boy

ACCRA, Ghana, Nov. 17 (AP).—Four brain surgeons from four nations joined last night in an attempt to save the life of an 8-year-old Israeli boy injured in a car crash.

Ram Katz, son of an Israeli engineer working for the Ghana government, suffered head injuries in the accident Saturday.

A woman died in the accident. She was identified as the boy's mother Dina.

At Ram's bedside were Prof. Haden Ashkenazi of Tel Aviv, Dr. Michel Feld of Paris, Dr. Harvey Jackson, a British Royal Air Force surgeon from London, and a United States Navy surgeon identified as Lt. Comdr. Altman, from a United States Navy base in Morocco.

Shortly after the accident an Israeli Embassy radio operator in Accra contacted ham operators in Jerusalem and Greenville, S. C., and requested help. Arrangements were made in Israel, the United States, Britain and France to fly the four surgeons to Accra.

Soon after their arrival Israelis said the doctors decided to wait 36 hours before operating.

A bulletin reported that Ram, who was partially paralyzed, had improved somewhat.

Triton Starts Trials

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 17 (AP).—The submarine Triton, newest and largest of the Navy's atomic-powered undersea craft, is scheduled to begin a series of daily sea trials today. The Triton arrived yesterday for a four-day stay.

Probers Study Hoffa's Role in Union Bonding

The Senate Rackets Committee staff is investigating reports that James R. Hoffa has given some of his friends the inside track in obtaining lucrative bonding business from the Teamsters Union.

Findings of the investigation are scheduled for public release soon, perhaps today. The committee has concluded hearings but the staff is conducting some investigations while wrapping up its work. January 31 is the committee's expiration date.

The committee learned recently that the Summit Fidelity and Surety Co. is in line to write bonds for Teamster officials. The labor reform law passed by Congress this year requires bonds for officials who handle union money or property.

May Forge Business

But the chairman of Summit said his firm may pass up the Teamsters business because of adverse publicity.

Allan S. Blank of Chicago said "the present feeling is that we won't write the business," the Associated Press reported.

Earlier, A. J. Bianchi, president of Summit, estimated his company would obtain about $200,000 in revenue from Teamsters' business. Most of the sum would be used to reinsure the bonds, reducing Summit's profits, he said.

"The business is strictly legitimate," Mr. Bianchi stated. He also denied his company was favored in obtaining the bonding account.

"We were the first people to go after the business," he said. Summit is bonding officials in other unions besides the Teamsters, Mr. Bianchi said.

Reported Dorfman Associate

According to investigators, Sol C. Schwartz is secretary-treasurer of Summit's Illinois office. Mr. Schwartz reportedly is an associate of Allen Dorfman, Rackets Committee hearings produced testimony that Mr. Dorfman, a friend of Mr. Hoffa, overcharged the Teamsters by about $1.5 million on union insurance programs.

Another Summit official, Irwin S. Weiner, also reportedly is an associate of Mr. Dorfman.

In addition, the investigators have turned up allegations that officials of Summit have under-world connections.

In Chicago, Mr. Schwartz denied that Mr. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters, had solicited bonding business for Summit. He said Summit sent out its own soliciting letters, the AP reported.

here are four REASONS FOR 4 SAVING

VACATION
NEW CAR
FUTURE TAXES
BUSINESS ENTERPRISE

And Liberal Dividends Four Times
A Year Will Increase Your Savings

NA. 8-7300
Washington's Oldest
Savings and Loan
Association

ORIENTAL BUILDING
ASSOCIATION

600 F STREET N.W. ESTABLISHED 1861

BROMWELLS SINCE 1873

FIREPLACE?
CERTAINLY!
COPPER CRAFT
HOOD?
OF COURSE!!

Something Wonderful...

Happens to a fireside with this added touch of elegance . . . here is new charm now available in finishes and styles for every home. Five sizes to fit any fireplace from 14⁹⁵

the PRISCILLA

the TUDOR

SMART STYLING: For Early American Provincial or Contemporary decorating schemes. CURTAINS: Built-in contour curtain sets available for all models.

6 styles available in: Polished or antique copper, polished or antique brass. All black.

Available in sizes: Overall Hood length 32" 38" 44" 50" 56" For opening up to 24" 30" 36" 42" 48"

CUSTOM SIZES AVAILABLE

SINCE 1873
D. L. BROMWELL, Inc.
710 12th ST. N.W. (2 DOORS ABOVE G) RE. 7-1803
WORLD'S LARGEST SELECTION OF FIREPLACE EQUIPMENT