

NEWS OF THE DAY CONCERNING CHICAGO

Marcus Baskerfield, 5047 Wayne ave., found dead in gas-filled room at his home today. Coroner investigating.

Police declare identity of Kaufman murderers has been made known by informer who wanted reward. Men are being sought, but their names have not been disclosed.

Police stopped "grizzly bear" dance in Schinberg's hall, N. Green and Milwaukee, at 12:30 last night. Dancers started "rough stuff" with policemen detailed at hall, and officers called for aid after drawing their revolvers. Five men arrested. Inspector Healy to ask mayor to revoke hall's license. Policemen severely beaten three month ago.

Women of Tracy, who have been carrying revolvers for protection against thugs, today organized a shooting gallery for practice. Tracy is near Burnside and the strikebreakers imported by the I. C. railway.

The Third Presbyterian church has organized a human alarm clock squad, whose duty it is to wake the lazy church members and see that they get to church on time Sunday mornings.

Five years ago at San Francisco, Charles Garson, a waiter, loaned a customer who had gone broke $100 to get East. He never heard from him again until today, when the man found him here and gave him $2,500.

James Stone and Harry Burton, alleged pickpockets, arrested last night at Canal and 26th.

Stone was shot in the leg by police.

Mrs. Grover Fleck, 6350 Champlain ave., wounded in arm by rifle bullet. Her baby, in her arms at the time, unhurt. Arthur White, 14, 6213 Lankley ave., arrested; admitted having fired shot. Said he was target shooting.

Ordinance providing any one buying fire arms must have permit from police, and prohibiting sale except on certificate, expected to pass council. It should.

John Brown, farmer, Albany, Ind., robbed of $150, and beaten yesterday at Canal and 29th.

John McWeeny, arrested last night for drunkenness, claimed to be chief of police. Afterward admitted he was a teamster.

Mrs. William P. Cooney, whose husband disappeared two years ago, identified his body at the morgue yesterday. Cooney died at the county hospital Saturday.

Joseph Marley, 317 Goethe, asked Nicholas Bahles for a dime. "Naw," said Nick. Marley shot him in the left shoulder.

Varying a distracting phrase: 127 days before the next ball game.

W. J. McMaster, 916 E. Water street, Lockhaven, Pa., told police he had matched coins with two men soon after reaching Grand Central depot. He was "trimmed" for $400. There's one born every minute, and most of 'em survive.

That relic of the Spanishquisition, the six-day bicycle race,