

WHAT HAPPENED OUTSIDE CHICAGO

Rev. Frank C. Bruner, Ogden Park Methodist church, says Andy Carnegie, John D. and Pierp. are Judases because they have "hitched themselves to various churches."

Champ Clark has been suffering fearfully from cold for some time, but Champ'll be well enough to tell why he should be the Democratic nominee at the Jackson day banquet tonight.

"Hearst can have California vote."—Examiner. Willie can have it for all of us.

Mrs. Roosevelt has been seriously ill. Isn't it funny that one hears so much about Theodore, and so little about the Missus?

Mrs. Dioz C. Hagle, widow of former Assistant Attorney General Hagle, of Illinois, and her daughter, Dorothy, are dying from injuries suffered when kitchen stove exploded.

Philadelphia cutlery importer, name withheld, has confessed to cheating government out of $5,000,000 by smuggling.

40 Dixon and Sterling sports held cockfight at Dixon last night. Authorities sleuthing for sports with frostbitten noses or toes.

"Big Business" says Woodrow Wilson is the friend of "Big Business," and urges the people not to vote for the New Jersey governor just because he is its friend.

Suckers who subscribed thousands of dollars to company organized to procure them share in estate of Sir Francis Drake, can use whatever receipts they hold to paper their bedroom. There is no Drake estate.

Berlin police have prohibited display of election returns by stereopticon or other devices next Friday. Say such displays impede traffic.

Charles Elmer O'Toole, Chicago's prize 3-year-old baby, is to be copyrighted by National Congress of Mothers. Oh, well, he has time to live it down.

Mrs. Julia Jones, widow, 80, South Haven, Mich., burned to death in home. Used kerosene to start fire.

Mrs. Joseph Sabaugh, LaPorte, Ind., mistook gasoline for kerosene. She died.

Nat Goodwin says he's had enough of matrimony, and will "firmly" refuse any Leap Year proposals. Question is, is Nat strong enough to overcome the habit?

La Follette seems to be quite pleased with results of his trip through Ohio, Michigan, Illinois and Indiana. Probably he doesn't care whether the Inter Ocean is pleased about these results or not.

Son-in-law of Marshall Field has been appointed new naval secretary to Great Britain by Winston Churchill. That proves a man can live things down.

Rabbi Emil G. Hirsch says Roosevelt was hypocrite in his fuss over the "peace dinner." He got his name in the papers again, didn't he?

Mrs. Bridget Flanagan, Philadelphia, was deserted by her hus-
