

"inside" player Evers is, and how he is the swing member of the "Tinker to Evers to Chance" combination, of which a poem was written.

Evers is a great ball player; one of the greatest infielders of the day, in fact. He has his job at second base cinched. Despite his crabbed disposition, similar to that of Jesse Burkett, he is popular with his teammates, if not with outsiders with whom he comes into contact.
