

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

"I was not drunk!" declared a prisoner, "I was only intoxicated." "Ah," remarked the magistrate, "that makes all the difference! I was going to fine you half a sovereign; as it is I shall only fine you ten shillings!"

"I see you have a cornet. Do you play?" "Not much. I use this instead of a police whistle." "Why not have a police whistle?" "This answers better. When I try to play, everybody in the neighborhood calls a policeman!"
