

DAILY COMMENT ON PEOPLE AND THINGS

How'd you like to pay $12,000,000 tax? But then maybe John D. won't.

At last we've found out why women slit their skirts. Southern preacher says they do so's they can kneel in prayer without ripping something.

Those skunk raisers in Missouri shouldn't have to live in fear of sheep stealers or chicken thieves, anyhow.

"Bride of a week says husband is innocent," says headline. Wait till she's a wife of ten weeks!

The queen bee lays 200 eggs a day. Oh, for such a hen!

Haven't heard of any of the big express companies out of business since new cut rates went into effect.

Miss Rana Dougless, Maine girl, aged 23, is going to outdo that Massachusetts artist. She will enter the woods naked and without food and issue forth, two months hence, clad and in good health.

Kind relatives will guard against intrusion upon her on the part of reporters, photographers, lawyers, merchants, doctors, society men, non-society men, married men, single men and so forth.

Anyhow, her relatives say she'll be guarded against intrusion.

It is emphatically denied that Wm. Rockefeller is regaining his voice, which he suddenly lost while quizzed by Pujó congressional committee a year ago.

Maybe silence is golden for him.

It makes a fellow feel good when some long-haired highbrow gets up and says: "It's dangerous to get rich too quickly."

Think of the dangers you're escaping.

The whole race of American people will be crazy in 400 years, a professor predicts.

Four hundred? About 40, if this tango dance and white slave drama mania increases.

An Indiana cow is reported to have broken into a greenhouse and devoured four dozen carnations and now gives milk that tastes like highly-spiced punch.

That's SOME cow tale.

If you can't cut down the high cost of living, cut down the cost of dying, seems to be the motto of the new Society of Prevention of Extravagant Funeral display organized in New York.

Rebating on railroads never existed, or has been abandoned long ago, say officials.

And there the Hocking Valley has just been fined $62,000 for that offense.

A PLAY ON WORDS

"The manager objects to your doing so much high kickin'."

"I don't care," said Millie Millicent. "I shall continue to exercise my right."
