

WHAT HAPPENED OUTSIDE CHICAGO

Bloomington, Ill.—Mrs. J. H. Ballard, aged recluse, burned to death. Believed to have put kerosine on kitchen fire.

Hattiesburg, Miss.—Two students of Mississippi Normal School charged with holding up street car and taking motorman's watch and money.

Keokuk, Ia.—Phillip Schatzman, formerly of Warsaw, Ill., attempted suicide by leaping into Mississippi. Rescued.

Litchfield, Ill.—John Brocamp, young farmer, killed at grade crossing. Wabash passenger train struck wagon.

Ottumwa, Ia.—George Dade, negro, charged with violating Mann white slave law. Mae Dade, his white wife, says Dade brought her from Springfield, Ill., to Keokuk and placed her in disorderly house.

Winnipeg, Man.—Supreme Court confirmed law prohibiting employment of white girls by Chinese.

Philadelphia.—Funeral of Joseph Fels, world leader of single tax movement and millionaire soap factory held yesterday.

Omaha, Neb.—Body of Mrs. Ida Weitzker, aged woman, almost bare of clothing, found in snowdrift.

Cleveland.—Cleveland foundation will begin social and economic survey to uncover cause of poverty and crime. Over $20,000,000 already pledged to its work.

New Orleans, La.—Mrs. Juanita M. Lincoln Roth, wealthy society woman, Glencoe Heights, Md., entered suit against Rev. Father Peter Scotti, former rector St. Louis Cathedral. Alleges notes she gave into priest's care have been improperly handled.

Edwardsville, Ill.—Original seal of Madison county, missing 50 years, found in county jail where prisoners were using it as a nut cracker.

Washington.—Hearings on Rep. Manahan's plea for investigation of alleged "gigantic" cinch on people's bread by Duluth, Minneapolis and Chicago wheat markets will be held by House rules committee, March 3.

Montreal, Quebec.—Fire raging in St. Vincent de Paul's penitentiary.

New York.—Gragor Skolni, violinist, suing for divorce, said a "letter a day to my wife or there was hell to pay."

Edinburgh, Scotland.—Suffragets burned historic parish church at Whitekirk. Almost entirely destroyed.

New York.—By permission of Justice Giegerich, Morris Greenspun will change his name to plain Green on March 17—St. Patrick's Day.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—On $5 wager, Frank Casey started out to walk three miles. Lost his way. Frozen to death.

New York.—With 20 pictures of a pretty girl in his pockets, Manuel Hidalgo, Porto Rican stenographer, shot himself in suicide attempt.

New York.—Though Edward Warren Day has been dead since June 27, 1906, Mrs. Lillian Woodruff Ross sued executors of his estate for $10,000 for breach of promise to marry.

NATURALLY

"Do yer know why false eyes are always made of glass, Willie?"

"Sure! How else could a feller see through them?"