

FIRST SWEETHEART OF JOHN D. REPORTED DYING

Cleveland, O., March 6.—Mrs. Emma Saunders Cummings, first sweetheart of John D. Rockefeller, and the woman who introduced him into Cleveland society years ago, is reported dying.

Mrs. Cummings' son George, assistant trust officer of the Mercantile Trust Co., told how his mother "brought out" Rockefeller when he was so eager to save his pennies that he did not buy stylish clothes.

She met young Rockefeller as a result of both belonging to the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church in Cleveland. As Miss Emma Saunders, she admired the young man for his industry and invited him to social affairs at her home. After she had introduced him in her "set," she prevailed upon the girls to invite him to socials and thus he finally began to be known in society, despite his failure to hire cabs and buy flowers.

BITS OF NEWS

Albert Aubin, information clerk at license office, accused by James Drew in "marriage mill" case. Drew, charged with contributing to delinquency of Julia Gillison, claims Aubin took him to Justice Polk.

Richard Bennett, 11, 9117 Commercial av., struck by auto. Badly bruised. Auto sped away.

Mayor to see "Traffic in Souls." Movie barred by censors to be passed on by him.

Morris Abrahams accused of raising figures in school site deal. Alleged to have paid $15,000 for land for which deed shows consideration of $18,000. Congressman Sabath's law firm acted as agent in deal.

"Shadow" gowns and extreme low neck dresses to be eliminated by new police petticoat censor.

$150,000 estate of James E. Cagney goes to eight children.

Case of Bernard J. Mahoney, charged with marking ballots, may go to jury today.

THE BARTENDER

By Jim Manee.

He is the man who draws up that
Which made Milwaukee famous.
He sells the stuff we ne'er should drink

Enough to ever shame us.
You'd think him quite a sailor with
His bar and schooners, too.
He hears all day, "I'll have cigars,
If it's all the same to you."

P. S.—"The free lunch will be ready at four o'clock."

—O—O—
NO SYMPATHY

"Waiter," said the man in the hotel diningroom, "there's a fly in this ice cream."

"Serves him right, sir," replied the waiter. "Let him stay there and freeze to death. He was in the soup yesterday."

—O—O—THINK FIRST

Before you blame another for something he did, think what you probably would have done in his place.—Albany Journal.

WEATHER FORECAST

Unsettled Friday; somewhat colder; Saturday fair.