SAME OL' POLICE STUFF

The police again came to the side of George Knab, whose chain of non-union restaurants is now being picketed by the Waitresses' Union.

Miss Clara Moore, 22, was picketing in front of the Knab police at 318 S. Wabash av., when a man accosted her. She threatened to call the police. The man went into Knab's. A few moments later the girl was arrested.

MACHINISTS STRIKE

The International Ass'n of Machinists are conducting a strike against the Zouri Drawn Metal Co., 215 W. Schiller st. The men say the company has been discriminating against union men and have been high-handed in its attitude toward the union.

SNUFFBOX IS WORTH $100,000

Paris.—Unheedful of the threatened siege, curators at the Louvre are arranging for display a $20,000,000 art collection bequeathed it by a Russian resident. One snuffbox, painted by Fragonard, is valued at $100,000.
