

FASHION FETE—THE WORLD'S GREATEST SHOW OF WOMEN'S STYLES

New York's "society leaders" who are boosting "made in U. S. A." fashions. At top, Mrs. James Gordon Douglas; at bottom, Mrs. James B. Eustis.

By Nichola Greeley-Smith.

New York, Nov. 5.—For three days of this week New York holds the greatest exhibition of women's fashions in the history of the world.

It is called a fashion fete and will be the first great exposition of "Made in U. S. A." styles. It was organized by the "golden lilies" of New York society who toil not, neither do they spin. Yet Solomon, in all his glory, was not arrayed even as they!

Seven of the most beautiful young matrons of society form a special committee chosen from 75 patronesses whose names are the bright spots in New York's social register.