IMMORALITY THE PRICE GIRLS PAY FOR GREEK LUNCH ROOM JOBS

Public Welfare Bureau Claims Employment Agencies and Greek Restaurants Work Together—Ignorant Polish Girls the Victims—Want City To Help In Fight Against It

That Greek restaurants not only conspire with fraudulent employment agencies to trick ignorant Polish girls, but also make immorality the price the girl must pay to keep a job, is shown in an investigation conducted by the Public Welfare Bureau into female employment agencies.

This report shows that on Milwaukee avenue, one of the greatest retail store streets, there are a number of female employment agencies that deal exclusively with Polish girls who do not understand English, take as much as three and four dollars from these girls and then send them to some Greek restaurant, the proprietor of which is in league with the agency, where they are given at most a couple of days' work and then discharged or retained if they will submit to indignities.

Stories of different Polish girls told to the investigators are recorded. The chefs of most of the restaurants are declared to demand and take kisses and hugs from the girls and in some cases demand that they lead immoral lives to hold their jobs.
