THREE NEUTRAL SHIPS SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINES

London, June 4.—Three neutral ships, all from Scandinavian countries, have been torpedoed and sunk by German submarines in North Sea within 24 hours.

One of them, the Swedish steamer Lappland, carried four women passengers. With nineteen of the crew, they were landed at Peterhead, Scotland this morning. They said the Lappland was torpedoed and sunk during the night, while enroute to England with a cargo of iron ore. No warning was given by the submarine commander, according to the Lappland's officers.

The Lappland began to sink rapidly immediately after the crash. The women dressed hurriedly and were lifted into the boats. The steamer disappeared in the darkness as the crew rowed away.

The other neutral victims of German undersea craft were the Danish sailing ship Salvador, whose crew was landed at Lerwick, Scotland, early today and the Norwegian steamer Cubano, torpedoed off the Flannan Islands. Other victims of the submarine during the 24-hour period were the Welsh trawlers Hiiold and Victoria.
