

Bresnahan withdrew that plaster on the German's promise to do better. Yesterday Heinie hit a bouncer to Niehoff, Philly second baseman, and could have beaten it out, as Bert fumbled. But Heinie is too temperamental to leg it on a mere infield grounder and slowed up. Even then the decision was close.

After the fine Zim picked up his glove and ducked to the clubhouse, but came back after Saler was hurt. Two of the players sent him word that he was doing the baby act.

Bresnahan cannot be blamed if he uses the whip on Zim and some of the other players as well. He has tried good-natured methods and been rewarded by a species of baseball that might win a pennant in the Western league if the umpires gave him the best of it.

Saler was hurt sliding to the plate and will be out of the game for at least a week. In the meantime Archer or McLarry will hold down first base.

As for the ball game, there wasn't any. Lavender, Zabel, Pierce and Cheney all had a whirl at the pitching. If they had been in a minor league a big league scout would never have recommended them even for the draft.

Tinker's Whales lost a chance to advance yesterday, Kansas City losing, but Joe felt somewhat better after the game, for Ad Brennan performed like a real pitcher during the eight innings he occupied the mound. Ad was hit hard in spots, but had regained his control and also fanned seven batters. With Brennan available to aid Brown, Hendrix and McConnell, Whale chances become brighter.

Today in a double-header with Brooklyn the Whales have the entire town to themselves for the first time in several weeks.

Benny Kauff fanned four times yesterday.

Ed Plank outpitched his old pal, Bender, giving Baltimore four hits.

Neither veteran walked a man. St. Louis lost second battle.

Moseley held Kay See to three hits. Dave Main, Kay See pitcher, was knocked unconscious by a line drive.

Buffalo is doing better for Harry Lord. Louden's four hits helped to down Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh slugged two Brooklyn pitchers, Collins bagging a triple and two singles and Hinchman and Wagner a triple and single each.

Long's homer scored all Card runs, breaking losing streak. Marquard was batted out.

Schmidt and Smith got to Rube Benton for enough hits to let Braves beat Reds.

Detroit made it clean sweep from Mackmen. Burns' homer helped in victory. Passes were fatal to Mackmen.

Cleveland tied it in ninth and won in tenth, Boehling of Washington weakening. Left Fielder Graney of the Indians fractured his right ankle.

Sisler tried to pitch for the Browns, but couldn't get a man out. Hit first batter and then passed three. Carl Weilman saved the day. Shotton and Austin batted a Brown victory.

RAP WAYS OF HANDLING BOYS— BUNK REFORM HIT

Stinging raps were handed bunk reform and the psychopathic laboratory by Judge J. R. Newcomer at the banquet of the Public Defenders' ass'n of the boys' court at Hotel La Salle last night.

"Reformers are long on shouting and short on results," said the judge. "It is easy to determine the mental capacity of a child. The problem is, what to do with them, and this cannot be solved by this psychopathic laboratory. That is looking through the wrong end of the glass."

Mrs. Gertrude Howe Britton also criticised the present system of handling a boy brought into court, saying an injustice was being done to him and to society.
