GARMENT WORKERS VOTE TO TIE UP CLOTHING INDUSTRY

WEAR A CARNATION TOMORROW!

Tomorrow is Mother's day and in accordance with accepted custom you should wear a carnation.

Big Sensational Mass Meeting Held—30,000 Will Probably Be Out.

Crowding Schoenhofen hall to the galleries and with the aisles filled four deep, more than 5,000 garment workers answered the injunction-protected clothing bosses last night by taking a unanimous vote to strike this morning at 9 o'clock and tie up the clothing industry.

The scene has seldom been equalled in the entire history of labor. The workers, when the meeting opened, were in a holiday humor, standing on window ledges, packing the aisles, filling the seats, they laughed and jested and interrupted the meeting for almost five minutes to give a demonstration to Sidney Hillman, re-elected president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of
