YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

National League. — St. Louis 3, Cincinnati 1; Philadelphia 3, Brooklyn 2.

American League. — New York 7, Cleveland 6.

Heine Zimmerman cut out golf at the start of the baseball season and since then hasn't spoken a profane word to the umpires.

Brick Owens is doing sterling work as an umpire in the American league. One thing about Brick—he is on the square. P. S.—That's a joke.

The Boston Red Sox don't miss Speaker any more than an auto would miss a spark plug.

History has been unable to furnish the date when Dario Resta lost an important automobile race.

Those Giants are anything but devils in their own home town. They haven't won enough games on the Polo grounds this season to save their franchise.

Being as how he's built like a balloon, it's only natural that Wilbert Robinson should fly high these days.

Connie Mack has signed a 17-year-old pitcher named Crisp. Betcha this kid's a snappy player.

Harrison and Bowen will play off for high school baseball pennant tomorrow at Hamilton. They will only play two innings of an unfinished game of last Thursday.

TEN-FT. SCREEN BEING PLACED ON CUBS' RIGHT FIELD WALL

North Side fans are going to miss the thrills of the frequent home run. Charley Weeghman has decided to appease the wrath of the seven other National League magnates and remedy the short right field wall.

Workmen are now building a ten-foot screen fence on top of the "home run wall." It is expected that the addition will be finished by Saturday.

In spite of the fact that Cy Williams and other four-sack swatters on the Cubs will probably be robbed of their hero stuff, Joe Tinker says he is pleased with the new barrier.

Joe figures that the eastern teams with such long clouters as Cravath, Robertson, etc., will be affected more than the Cubs. He also says that the Cub clouters will be better off because they won't have their minds on home runs and will be content with the singles, which ought to occur more frequently, according to his dope.

With the new barrier the distance between the home plate and the top of the fence will be 308 feet. The wire fence will extend from the right field corner about 150 feet toward center field. A batter can take as many bases on a hit to the fence as the outfielders will allow.

Tinker has a new worry. It concerns Eddie Mulligan. The youngster is one of those players who make a manager tear his hair. One day a brilliant star, then next day a badly-rattled youngster. In New York, with Muggsy McGraw throwing his heaviest sarcasm at him, Mulligan played like Wagner in his palmy days. In the next series in Brooklyn, where the going was peaceful, the youngster took a bad slump. On the whole, however, his playing has been
