

ONE CENT--THE DAY BOOK--ONE CENT

MY KINGDOM FOR A SEAT.

By Jim Manee

We know lots of places where boulevards run,

Where parkways are built on the side;

Where green grass 's growing fast under the sun,

And where folks in buzz buggies ride.

We've been to these places when we were right tired;

They're fine for a stroll in the eve.

These parkways that run between all the big parks

Should get lots of praise, we believe.

But just for a fling, there is one little thing

That's lacking. Say, haven't you found

That when in these parkways you'd like it a lot

If they'd only put benches around?

P. S.—The parks themselves are fine, but seats along the parkways would make said parkways a lot more to be appreciated.

O'HARA SCENTS COUNTING-OUT

Lieut. Gov. Barratt O'Hara believes he is being counted out in his battle for votes with Henry W. Huttman, his anti-union labor opponent. He says he has evidence that in certain precincts of the First ward the vote counted for Huttman exceeded the total vote cast in those precincts. For instance, in one precinct O'Hara says the canvassers counted 176 votes for Huttman and 2 for O'Hara, while the total vote in the precinct showed only 150. He took his complaint to Chief Clerk Denis J. Egan of the election board, who agreed to question the canvassers.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

E. W. Stewart will address International New Thought Fellowship in Hall 210, Masonic Temple, Sunday, 11 a. m. Subject, "Wishing and Willing." Music in charge of H. A. Tolman.

H. Percy Ward lectures Sun., 11 a. m., Corinthian hall, Masonic Temple, on "The Catholic Church and World Politics."

Universalist Church of the Redeemer, Robey and Warren av. Fred A. Monroe, minister. Subject, "The Christian Temperament." 10:45 a. m.

Northwest Side Y. P. S. L. to hold Bunco party and dance at 2725 Division, 8 p. m. tonight. Refreshments.

Garden party and rebel gathering at Liberty hall, 2941 Indiana av., Sun., Sept. 17, 2 p. m. Prominent speakers. All kinds of entertainment.

Chi. Co-operative ass'n meets Sun., 10:30 a. m., at 162 N. Dearborn, Room 310. Everybody invited.

MICHNIUK SURRENDERS

Michael Michniuk, head of the private bank of Michniuk & Son, 1361 S. Union st., which closed its doors Thursday owing $45,000, gave himself up to State's Att'y Hoyne today. He said he had been hiding on a farm near Chicago.

Hoyne last night issued notice that if Michniuk did not show up at his office today, detectives would be put on his trail.

NEW YORK STOCKS.—Steel in a new high. Market active and strong.

WEATHER FORECAST

Showers and warmer tonight; Sunday mostly cloudy with cooler by afternoon or night; fresh southwest winds tonight, shifting to northwest Sunday. Temperature Friday: High, 55; low, 40