FRIENDS OF 8-HOUR LAW PUT ON BOARD BY WILSON

Omaha, Sept. 6.—Pres. Wilson announced here that he has appointed Major General Goethals, the man who built the Panama canal, as chairman of the board which will investigate the workings of the eight-hour railroad law passed by congress to avert a railroad strike.

The other two members of the board named by Pres. Wilson are Geo. Rublee, federal trade commissioner, a Progressive; and Interstate Commissioner Clark, who before his appointment to the interstate commission was a representative of the conductors' brotherhood.

Mr. Wilson spoke here last night. His audience was so wild in its greeting and in its approval of his words that periods of cheering minutes long were frequent.

He declared that America is as ready to fight as any other nation, but that the cause must be just. He suggested a peace league of nations and told his hearers he "did not care a peppercorn about the verdict of 1918 as compared with the verdict of the next 25 years."

For minutes the crowd, which overflowed the big Omaha auditorium and was banked for blocks around the building, would call: "Who kept us out of war—Wilson." "Who prevented the strike—Wilson." "Who saved the nation—Wilson."

MY ONE BEST REASON FOR VOTING FOR WILSON

By Ray Stannard Baker
(Author of "Adventures in Contentment")

My chief reason for voting for Wilson is because I believe him to be a thorough-going progressive, because he has made an unequalled record in the last three years in securing the passage of legislation embodying ideas for which earnest progressives have long been working, because in no administration since I can remember have the old special and privileged interests been so utterly without influence at Washington as they have been since Mr. Wilson occupied the white house; because, as Thomas A. Edison says, if Mr. Wilson blunders, he always blunders forward; because, in short, he is a clear-headed, steady-handed leader who can be trusted to take the broadly human and democratic attitude toward public questions. I trust him beyond any other leader to meet the stormy events that are before us with the true American spirit.
