

BRIDGE GIVES WAY, CARRYING DOWN TWO CARLOADS OF PEOPLE

Two persons were killed and 60 injured when a runaway street car, dashing down a hill, crashed into another car on a Cleveland bridge, causing the bridge to collapse. The accident occurred during the evening rush hour and the cars carried several hundred men, women and children. The cars, loaded with human freight, crashed onto railroad tracks under the bridge. Miraculous escapes were numerous. It is charged the city was warned three years ago that the bridge was unsafe. The bridge was bought, second hand when another bridge was washed away in a flood in 1912.
