

ONE CENT -- LAST EDITION -- ONE CENT

PROBE INTO "DEATH BRIDGE" STARTS
THE DAY BOOK

An Adless Newspaper, Daily Except Sunday

VOL. 6, NO. 23

Chicago, Tuesday, October 24, 1916

398

VICE TRAIL LEADS TO
'HIGHER UPS'—GRAND
JURY PLANS MOVE

Powerful City Hall Men Involved in Corruption—
Hoyne Probes "Driving" of Saloon-keepers—
Judge Olson Dismisses Healey Case—
Charley Essig Surrenders.

The Thompson-Lundin political machine was quietly tipped off today that others more powerful than Chief Healey, Billy Luthardt and Charley Essig are to be hit in State's Att'y Hoyne's war on graft, crime and corruption. The top was to the effect that two Thompson-Lundin politicians, both of whom are men of wealth and power are to be walloped next.

Judge Olson today yielded to

State's Att'y Hoyne's request for a withdrawal of his application for warrants for Healey and others. The action of the grand jury made the warrants unnecessary. But Olson in dismissing the case did a favor to his old boss, Att'y John J. Healey, counsel for Chief Healey, by remarking that in his opinion the evidence so far presented did not justify the issuance of warrants.

Hoyne's new action before the