

DECEPTION IS THE OBJECT.

Daily Effort to That End Made by Anti-Mormon Agitators.

HOW ROBERTS WAS CHOSEN

A correspondent of the Daily Scran- ton, (Pa.) Republican of a recent date contained the following straight from the shoulder statement of the so-called Roberts case, the writer being a correspondent of the paper:

A daily effort is being made to deceive the public concerning the position of the "Mormon" Church relative to the Roberts election. Statement after statement, unwarranted by fact, is being made to convince the public that the "Mormon" Church put forward and elected B. H. Roberts to the Congress of the United States, and the in- habitants in their enthusiasm to cry down an innocent people, exclaim that it was done for the purpose of legalizing plural marriage.

After a careful consideration of the subject, we wonder what motive the agitators of these wilful statements can have in view, if it is not for the purpose of unjustly falsifying and in- juring an already much maligned peo- ple. If it is possible that these authori- tative writers, so called, are ignorant of the facts connected with the election of B. H. Roberts of Utah to Congress, let a different conclusion can be ar- rived at, but such would be unworthy of consideration.

For the benefit of those willing to ac- cept the plain, simple truth, let us look up a little history and facts in regard to this matter. In the Democratic State convention of 1898, at which B. H. Roberts was nominated, the delegates that made up the convention were both "Mormons" and non-"Mormons." They were from different parts of the State and they represented in that conven- tion the Democratic party, not the "Mormon" Church. Among the impor- tant duties imposed upon this delega- tion of men by the people they repre- sented, was the sacred one of nominat- ing a man to represent them in the United States Congress.

They wanted a man eminently quali- fied for the position and in their wisdom B. H. Roberts possessed the qualifica- tions. He accordingly received their unanimous support.

On the other hand the Republican State convention convened, this time was made up of non-"Mormons" as well as "Mormon" delegates, and in their wis- dom they nominated the Hon Alma Briggs, as representative to Congress. The two tickets were now placed before the people.

The Democratic nominee and some of his able supporters entered the field and worked hard to secure votes for his election, likewise the Republican nominee and his main pillars entered the race in his behalf. Both parties worked hard until election was over, the day, but said, only one could be successful, and that one was B. H. Roberts, the choice of the Democratic party and of the majority of the people of Utah, who were both non-Mormon as well as Mormon Democrats.

Our evangelical workers have said the "Mormon" Church alone is respon- sible for the election of B. H. Roberts, Democratic victory, but such a state- ment can only be prompted by a desire to circulate falsehoods and demon- strate a case of closing eyes to simple facts.

B. H. Roberts' main support came from the Mormon strongholds, Salt Lake City was carried by nearly 3,000 votes, Ogden by 1,000 and the mining camps, the population of which is al- most entirely non-Mormon, gave him majorities, and still the Christian ex- pansionists and social service leaders who cry the "Mormon Church into the position, they invent something of a national nature and then say it was a mistake that the Church had in view. We wonder if people will still listen to false statements made by enemies of the other side. A proper weighing of both sides of a question, one of which is asked and if this is done in the case at issue all fair-minded people will understand that the Mormon Church had no more to do with the election of B. H. Roberts than the Lutheran Church. If any church is concerned it is the Utah Presbyterian, who, by its malice, drove non-Mormon Republi- cans as well as Democrats into the Roberts ranks. Well may the non- Mormons and the thousands who voted for him and the polls, laugh at the notion that the Church had anything to do with his nomination and election.

As to the charge made, that the Church desired Roberts elected, in order to legalize plural marriage, is simply ridiculous and is too inconsistent to here receive attention were it not that so many statements are daily being made promulgating it.

Every honest person who has in- vestigated all known, (notwithstanding statements to the contrary), that Roberts is a dead issue with the Latter-day Saints. Every honest per- son who is willing to accept, (until President Lorenzo Snow, who pro- claimed under the world that on Sept. 24, 1890, not one plural mar- riage was taken place nor will take place under his administration. (None should be performed without his con- sent). Even when it was practiced by the Latter-day Saints the entrance into such sacred portals, in fact, the con- vention parties had to first prove their worthiness by a most chaste and honorable life before they were deemed worthy of its acceptance and practice, and then guided by the highest aspira- tions to do God's will they entered into it, realizing what the condemnation meted out by a just God would be if they went into it unworthily.

Now, then, how utterly impossible it would be for a member of the Church to enter into this sacred covenant (since 1890), when he knew full well that he would receive not only the discipline of the Church, but under State prohibition he would be liable to a heavy fine and imprisonment for years. The courts of Utah are noted for their equity and justice, and they would speedily punish of- fenders of the law.

A moment's thought will convince all intelligent people that the Mormon Church did not elect Mr. Roberts, nor has it taken upon itself the business of defending him, but let it be under- stood that the Democratic party of Utah is responsible for his nomination and election and he himself, at the proper time and place, will make his own defense.

INDUSTRIAL MONOPOLIES.

A Good Way to Use Them as Well as to Solve a Problem of Today.

Tax the "trusts" to pay old-age pensions, suggests Hon. John C. Chase, mayor of Haverhill, Massachusetts, in an article on the subject in the Novem- ber "New Lippincott."

Land monopoly is not what we are suffering under so much as industrial monopolies. We do not suffer from a system of land monopoly so much as we do through the gigantic combina- tions of capital in industrial enter- prises. These combinations are con- stantly growing more powerful. They are in a position to levy a tax on the people at will and force them to pay. My method would be to levy a tax on them for the support of the aged and helpless. Whenever a combination is perfected and organized into a trust or monopoly for the purpose of con- trolling any industrial enterprise, a large number of persons are thrown out of employment, and, secondly, the profits of the enterprise, which formerly went to many persons, are concentrated in the hands of a few individuals, and I say that these two facts alone are enough to convince us that the trusts should provide for those whom they rob of employment. The most feasible plan, therefore, that I could suggest, would be this: Each State to create an "Old-Age Pension Commission," whose duty it would be to ascertain the number of laborers above the age of say fifty-five, and disburse among them the amount due them each month or each quarter, as a pension in part payment for services rendered, the State to raise the funds by assessing a tax on all corporations and industrial combinations. This is a crude outline of a plan which, of course, could be improved upon, but one which will serve as a means of showing the lines along which the plan could be carried out.

CONQUEST OF MELACCA.

The conquest of Malacca, in the Gold- en Chersonese, by the Portuguese in 1511, gave knowledge of islands of spices which Antonio de Abreu sailed to see. After finding the Moluccas he returned and told Captain Fernan Andrad, who visited the Spice Islands and fought the pirates. All of which coming to the ears of Magellan led to his discovery. After that King Philip, being advised by the viceroy of New Spain and the friar Andres de Urdaneta that the voyage to the Spice Islands and Ma- gellan's important discovery might be more easily than elsewhere made from the west side of New Spain, ordered equipped a fleet for the South Sea, in the port of Navid, the command of which was given to Miguel Lopez de Legazpi, a resident of New Spain, and native of Guipuzco. Sailing in 1544 with five ships and 500 men, Legazpi crossed the ocean and anchored at Cebu. After subduing this island for Spain, the Spaniards turned to Luzon, and entering Manila bay saw a town on the shore by a river, which was built and defended by a chief named Morat. Across the river was another town, whose chief was Matanda, also fortified by stockades and defended with bronze cannon. Taking possession May 9, 1571, Legazpi founded the town of Manila. The chiefs of these towns had been prior to the Indian invasion of which they were a mark. The Chinese were masters, and they still sent every year their ships to Manila bay with iron, copper and gunpowder, sulphur, quicksilver and food, besides cotton, silk and precious. The Spaniards being then more arrogant and less enlightened than now, they haughtily demanded for their emperor's suzerainty over those isles; but the governor, Perez Gomez, having in 1580 fortified the town, casting cannon and erecting a battery on the point, building also a cathedral and other stone edifices, paid no attention to the high-flying demands of the Japanese.—Bancroft, The New Pacific.

SPRING ONIONS.

Onions, unless they have been prop- erly prepared, are difficult to keep, but properly ripened off, dug at the right season and dried, as they should be, they will keep well. The tempera- ture must be low and the air dry, as in a warm moist atmosphere they soon grow and are spoiled. If I had onions to store, not knowing how they had been dried, I should subject them to 100 degrees heat for several days, which would drive the effect of kiln drying. Then place in shallow, slatted boxes, piled one above another, in a cellar well ventilated and kept just above freezing. If this way is not practicable they can be kept in a building away from fire, stored in a bin which has a thick lin- ing and covering of chaff and fine hay. They may freeze solid and thick cover- ing will keep them so until almost spring; they can be used as needed, thawing them out in cold water. Freez- ing does not injure them as long as they do not freeze and then repeatedly. —Vick's Magazine for November.

A METHODIST ON THE METHODISTS

Speaks Out in a Manner that Will Shock His Fellow Religionists.

He is Unable to See Why Roberts Should Not be Seated—His Com- pliments to Dr. Hiff.

The "News" is in receipt of the fol- lowing letter from A. C. Reeves of Bozeman, Montana, who says he has been a Methodist for twenty years, but who disagrees materially with his fellow religionists on the Roberts' case as well as upon other matters of vital interest:

I have just read the resolutions passed by the Utah conference of the Methodist church at their late session, published in the Northwestern Christian Advocate, asking Congress to prohibit Mr. Roberts from taking his seat in that body, to which he has no doubt been justly and honorably elected. I must confess that I am very sorry to see that one Brother Hiff, who used to preach for us here in Bozeman, seems to be at the head of the move- ment. I also copy from the "News" of the same paper the following items. In the reports of the Upper Iowa conference it is said: "Rev. Dr. Hiff, of Utah, made a strong speech on Mor- monism. He greatly stirred the con- ference. Every reference to the de- molition of Cousinman-elect, Roberts, was received with tumultuous ap- plause."

In the report of the Central Illinois conference, it is said: "The conference was delighted with the visit of Dr. T. H. Hiff, and passed resolutions demand- ing the expulsion of Brigham H. Rob- erts from Congress. In the report of the Northern Minnesota conference, I read: "The cyclonic Dr. Hiff of Utah made his voice heard against the threatening abominations of polygamy in our national Congress." I also read in the St. Louis Republic a few days ago that the Illinois conference, a body of over three hundred ministers, at the instigation of this same cyclonic Dr. Hiff of Utah, had passed a resolu- tion asking Congress to prohibit Brigh- am H. Roberts from taking his seat in that august body.

We always thought a great deal of Brother Hiff, here in Bozeman, and never dreamed for a moment that he would ever so far lose his head, as to go off on such a wild as this. If it were possible, when he gets back, I would like to introduce him to Abra- ham, the friend of Cousinman-elect, that mighty wrestler in prayer, and to "David, the man after God's own heart." I am of the opinion that they would give him a terrible ginning up. I am certain that the same time spent in careful and prayerful searching of the Scriptures, would have con- vinced him that there is not only nothing against Roberts' conduct in the Bible, but much in favor of it.

I saw that plainly twenty years ago, and came right out on it. It has caused me to have to undergo some persecu- tion, but we may expect that if we do not raise the funds by assessing a tax on years' search, I have failed to find in the Scriptures, where God ever found any fault with any one for having more than one wife. Not very long ago I heard a Methodist preacher preach on the subject of sanctification or entire consecration. He said that in order to receive that blessing, one had to give up every sinful thing and entirely renounce the world, the flesh and the devil. He contended that Jacob, un- doubtedly received that blessing, when he wrestled with the angel. When Jacob asked the angel to bless him, he said, "Who are these with thee?" and he said, the children which God had graciously given thy servant." The children of the handmaids, as well as the children of Leah and Rachel. When Leah's sixth son was born, she said, "Now God hath given me a hire, because I have vowed unto my husband." That is, God had rewarded her for that very act. I am very sure that it would be very hard to prove that Jacob ever gave up his wives, in order to receive the blessing of entire sanc- tification, whether it was sinful or not.

[The writer here enters into an elaborate argument, showing by numerous quotations from the Bible that poly- gamous marriages were regulated at least by divine laws, and their off- spring admitted into holy orders and the sanctuary, while "a bastard" was not permitted to do so. We expunge that part of the letter lest the gentle- man's reasoning and quotations might be attributed to this paper. Continu- ing, the correspondent says:]

I firmly believe that the devil has more to fear from a plural system of marriage than from any other one thing that could possibly be introduced amongst us at the present time. You "Mormons," perhaps, have a very fair idea of the condition of things as they exist amongst us today. Some of our churches and Sunday schools are almost destitute of children. I know one Methodist church that was composed almost wholly of married people with a membership of between forty and fifty persons, that did not have one child dedicated at its altar in ten years. And of the children that we gather into the Sunday schools at least 75 per cent of them never hear the name of God mentioned in their homes, except in the way of profanity. We have a church in the Sunday school one hour out of the week, while they are under the devil's influence at home six days, and twenty-three hours. It seems to me that his Santia majesty couldn't ask a better thing than that.

So you can see, the devil and Tom Walker are mixing the children from which we have to recruit the church from. And the devil is, no doubt, having his own fun over it. After look- ing over the last United States cen- sus report, one cannot help but won- der how long it will take the Woman's Christian Temperance Union to put down the drink traffic while their own nurseries are locked up and the keys thrown in the well.

On the 1st of June, 1890, there were 1,566,734 children in the United States one year old. Of that number the foreign and negro population are credited with pretty nearly one-half or 625,077.

There were 295 counties in the dif- ferent States that reported a less popu- lation in 1890 than in 1880, and I have no doubt the next census will disclose a worse state of things than did the last.

I have been a Methodist all my life and it is my firm belief that if the great Methodist church, with her six millions of members, was half as pure as she ought to be, she would have furnished pretty nearly one-half of all the natu- ral increase that was reported for the whole country in 1890. In some sections of our country one-half of our best men are doing childless and the other half are coming just as near to it as the little boy came to being a twin. Brother Hiff, amongst the rest, unless the cli- mate of Utah has done more for him than the climate of Montana could ever do.

Yes, Brother Hiff; I believe as firmly as you do, that it would be a great out- rage to seat Brigham H. Roberts in the United States Congress. I think it would be a great outrage on Mr. Roberts, a man who has honor enough about him to acknowledge that he has more than one wife, and takes care of them, and supports them de- cently, to seat him amongst a body of six or seven hundred men, so many of whom have a woman wherever they go. And when they are worn out turn them over to the county or State to take care of.

The enemies of Mr. Roberts could not do anything that is better calculated to show up the rottenness of our own mar- riage system than the course they are now taking.

My advice to the people of Utah, pro- viding Congress refuses to give him his seat, to which he has been justly and honorably elected, would be, to call a convention, renominat him, and re-elect him and send him right back. It will keep the subject before the people. The people are considering that subject whether the preachers are or not. And if the seating of Roberts could be left to a vote of the people, even Brother Hiff would be astonished at the number of votes that would be cast in the af- firmative.

FITZSIMMONS IS AFTER JEFFRIES

Martin Julian Anxious to Have His Man Meet the Champion.

TO FIGHT WITHIN A MONTH

The Cornishman's Backer Says He Will Bet Jeffries $5,000 He Can Not Defeat Fitz.

A New York dispatch today says: Martin Julian last night said that Bob Fitzsimmons would come on from Chi- cago this week to attempt to get on a match with Jeffries.

"Bob is willing to agree that the win- ner takes all," he said. "Fitzsimmons is entitled to first consideration, and we mean business."

"If Jeffries is so sure he can defeat Fitzsimmons when the latter is in good shape, we will let the winner take everything. I am sure Bob can de- feat Jeffries. If he fails we don't want a cent."

"In addition I will bet Jeffries $5,000 that he cannot defeat Fitzsimmons. I will post the money with the New York Journal and Tribune. After the fight the same. I don't want any individual to hold my money."

"I mean business, and just as soon as Jeffries or Mr. Brady is prepared we will sign articles. It makes little dif- ference to me when the contest is de- cided, but I would rather have it come off within four weeks."

REFINE FIRST, JULIUS SECOND.

The Forty-Eight-Hour Bicycle Race is Finished.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 27.—Bert Re- pine of Nashville, Tenn., won the forty- eight hour bicycle race that began in Convention hall on Tuesday afternoon of last week and in winning the race established a new record for forty- eight hours. The distance covered, 961 1-3 miles, is 57 1-4 miles better than the previous record for a similar contest. Charles W. Miller, of Chicago, the heret- ofore unbeaten champion of endurance races, made a determined effort to maintain his supremacy, but a series of accidents on the track, a punctured tire, broken crank, and another mis- hap, caused him to lose ground that he could not recover from the lucky Re- pine and the equally lucky Swede, Oscar Julius, who rode without slip or mishap.

Julius finished second to Repine, a lap behind, and Miller finished a lap behind the Swede. Young Jim Lawson, of Chicago, the 18-year-old boy, who rode for forty hours with the leaders, withered under the hot pace of the last day and finished six laps behind the leader. Boston's "Flying Dutchman," Frank Waller, was a bad fish, finishing three quarters of a mile behind Repine. Repine will realize $400 and several prizes for his work. Julius gets $250, Miller $150, Lawson $100, Waller $75, Lingenfelder $50, and Neiderhofer $25.

The final score was:

Repine, 961 miles, 4 laps; Julius, 961

ARMSTRONG WINS.

Jeffords Claims that the Colored Man Fouled Him.

New York, Nov. 28.—The prize fight between Bob Armstrong, the colored heavyweight boxer of Chicago, and Jim Jeffords, of California, which was slated to go twenty-five rounds before the Hercules Athletic club, ended abruptly in the third round. Both men went headforemost from a clinch over the ropes into a box at the ringside in the second round, and in the third Jeffords took another header from the effects of a right swing on the jaw. This took all the steam out of the big fellow, and when he regained his feet he was sent sprawling from a right swinging uppercut in the vicinity of the belt. Jeffords rolled over in agony and his seconds claimed a foul on the ground that he was hit below the belt. The referee de- cided that the blow landed fairly and gave his verdict in favor of Armstrong, after Jeffords had been counted out and carried to his corner by the seconds.

FOOTBALL CONDEMNED.

Preachers Protest Against Putting the Pigskin on Thanksgiving.

A Chicago dispatch of Nov. 27 says: Pastoral Thanksgiving pastime was strongly condemned at a meeting of Congregational ministers today. Res- olutions were adopted in which the practice of playing football on Thank- giving day was characterized as a dis- loyal contravention of the President's proclamation, and contrary to the spirit and purpose of the day.

The resolutions say that such con- duct is especially deplored in organiza- tions connected with Christian insti- tutions—injures the best interests of college athletics and must be pronounced a desecration of the spiritual tradition of our national life by the very persons and institutions which privileges and character require them to be the first to uphold and honor the same.

Copies of the resolutions will be sent to President McKinley and to the uni- versities named in the resolutions, Chi- cago, Michigan and Brown, whose teams play in Chicago Thanksgiving.

FOUGHT A DRAW.

Casper Leon Broke His Arm in the Third Round.

Memphis, Tenn., Nov. 27.—The fight tonight at the Auditorium between Casper Leon of New York and Johnnie Ritchie of St. Louis resulted in a draw after the fourth round had been fought. Leon broke his arm in the third round, and upon the advice of a physician at- tending the fight was stopped and the referee declared the contest a draw.

SPORTING NOTES.

Yesterday afternoon McKenna and Tallon were practicing with the All Hallows team.

The second teams of the High school and All Hallows will play a week from next Friday instead of one week from Saturday.

The game of football between the University eleven and the B. Y. College team, of Logan, on Thanksgiving day has been called off.

It is within the vale of possibilities that the Mercer team will have another game with the Y. M. C. A. in the near future. The former is anxious for it.

The Y. M. C. A. held a rattling good practice yesterday afternoon at the rear of Ford's hotel, preparatory to meet- ing the lads from the Junction City on Thanksgiving. At yesterday's "drill" the regular system of plays were gone through with, and almost as much vigor was displayed as in a game for "keeps."

The "Varsity boys are going to make a complete change. The manner in which defeat was laded out to them by the High school team is the in- centive for several new moves. At a meeting of the former, the captain of Captain Hyde was accepted, and Gatehouse was selected to fill the position. Captain Gatehouse proposes to get a coach who will put the team in a proper condition by hard and earnest work, so that the next time they ap- pear on the gridiron they will play forty ball for keeps. They recognize the fact that the High school team is an excel- lent one and do not feel disgraced in being defeated by it.

SMUGGLING DOGS.

Taught to Evade the Customs Author- ities by a Simple Process.

As long as customs laws exist so long will the training of animals to break them go on for a large number of years. The smuggling cases brought to light today have quadrupled and bipeds in connection with them.

Many people residing on the French and Italian frontiers make a living solely by training dogs to carry contrab- and merchandise across the border. The training is carried out on very much the same lines as that which the war dogs now employed in many of the continental armies have to under- go; that is to say, the canine pupil is taught to defraud the customs through being beaten by men dressed in the garb of a revenue officer. From all places and corners the faked official emerges upon the dog, and thrashes it brutally until it learns to dodge any one in the uniform with all the ability of a human being.

When properly trained the dog, which is generally a terrier, collie, bull terrier, or a heavy prize, and considering the amount of illegitimate money it will eventually be instrumental in put- ting into its employer's pocket, this is only natural. Lace and silk are the chief articles carried, and are concealed in little pouches fastened below the beast's stomach by means of a strap during its journey across the frontier.

If the dog falls into the hands of the custom officials there is no clemency to whom it belongs, so that the real of- fenders often go unpunished. That no amount of revenue officers' dogs in this way is proved by the fact that last year several million francs' worth of articles upon which duty should have been paid found their way into the market untaxed, and over 500 smug- gling dogs were caught by the officials.
