

MAN LIFTED HIS VOICE IN PRAISE.

Almost Complete Observance of This Thanksgiving Day.

THE ANNUAL SQUARE MEAL

Also Comes to Some of the Unfortunates Who Bump Against the World's Hard Places.

There was a general observance of this Thanksgiving day among the churches of Salt Lake. In most instances members of several congregations met in one church building and were addressed by one of the pastors. In all cases the services were much enjoyed, being very appropriate and instructive.

A one-hour Thanksgiving service was held at the East Side Baptist church, northwest corner of Second South and Seventh East streets, the Rev. Joel A. Smith conducting. The building was very comfortably filled with religious worshippers from the Baptist, Methodist, Third Presbyterian, Phillips Baptist, Congregational and East Side Baptist churches, who listened to an appropriate sermon from the pastor. The speaker admonished his hearers to raise their voices in praise to God for His goodness to them during the past year, and to so order their lives and thoughts as to in the end receive the reward which comes to all doers of good, and to make themselves deserving of their Maker's welcome. "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter into the joy of thy Lord." There was some excellent singing during the service.

AT ST. PAUL'S.

Rev. Daunt Scott Conducts a Very Impressive Service and Gave Good Advice.

Special Thanksgiving services were held at St. Paul's this morning at 11 o'clock, Rev. Daunt Scott conducting them. The service opened with prayer and hymn, after which Rev. Scott delivered a brief sermon, choosing for his text the passage commencing "Every good and perfect gift cometh from God." The text, Rev. Scott said, was especially fitted for the foundation of Thanksgiving, for it is, indeed, that we have to give thanks for comes from that source—our government, home, joys, gifts, great or small. Thanksgiving does not mean a big gift given, or a big dinner. Men made excuses for not attending church service that they work hard on week days and must rest on the Sabbath and holidays. Should they not rather rejoice to go into God's sanctuary and give thanks that they have work? There are many without that they should thank for. Mothers say that their family of little ones keep them from attending service. When they see rosy cheeks children playing about them in health and joy should they not go into church and give thanks for that blessing? The true thanksgiving is shown in the daily lives rather than in prayer and praise. We may attend service and be uplifted by sermon and song, yet go out into the world and come into contact with the jar and fret, immediately give our thanks to others, and the declaration "God is love" should not be looked upon as a mere platitude. The thought of its reality should perpetually perfume our paths. We should rest constantly in the thought that the "everlasting arms" are always about us and that gracious presence surrounds and protects us. The service ended with an exhortation to each to offer up his life to God.

AT CENTRAL CHRISTIANS.

Four Congregations Represented at Services Conducted by Rev. W. H. Bagley.

The southeastern part of town was formed into one district for today's services. This section included the First Congregational, First Methodist, First Presbyterian and Central Christian churches. The services were conducted at the Central Christian church, corner of Fourth South and Third East streets, commencing at 11 a. m. The Rev. W. H. Bagley of the Central church conducted the services, which were very impressive and interesting. Several beautiful hymns of praise were sung by the choir and congregation and the opening prayer was offered by the Rev. Alfred H. Henry of the Methodist church.

Rev. Clarence T. Brown of the First Congregational church, was introduced and spoke very eloquently. He termed thankfulness a virtue from God which is continually increasing. His remarks were divided into three divisions, viz.: First, is the World Brighter? Second, is the World Better? Third, Both are true, because God has blessed us in them. As this is the last Thanksgiving day of the present century, he took his congregation back one hundred years and in very beautiful and impressive language compared our present surroundings with those of the people of the world during the last century. The modern inventions have added immensely to the pleasures of humanity, he said. The tallow candle was compared with the lights which we now have generated by electricity, and the pony express with the latest conveyance, the telephone and wireless telegraphy. The medical world has also added many improvements, for example, the X-rays and many other modern inventions, by which the average length of life is increased one-sixth over the last century. Under the second division he showed that the world was better now than it was years ago. Torture has gone and solitary confinement is fast becoming a thing of the past. The world is becoming aware of the fact that it is cheaper to raise men up than to hold them down. Prison and jail reform is the order of the day. His reference to the last unpleasantness with Spain and its happy ending was very impressive. He urged those present to be more thankful for God's blessings than heretofore.

WESTMINSTER CHURCH.

Rev. Bigelow Talked on Physical, Mental and Spiritual Progress.

A Thanksgiving service was held this morning at the West Presbyterian church, on Fourth West between First and Second South streets. The Rev. F. E. Bigelow addressed a large congregation and spiritual prosperity of the country was listened to with rapid attention. Among other things the reverend gentleman said that the benefits from education in America during the past year was more than double than that of any other country in the world. He further stated that there were unnumbered reasons for thinking in private life from the younger people to the adults, and from the middle aged to those farther advanced.

The other part of the program was a Scripture reading by the Rev. Mr. Wilkes, of the Second M. E. church;

AMONG THE CATHOLICS.

Regular Thanksgiving Mass Held in Observance of the Day.

Adherents of the Catholic faith observed the day in Thanksgiving mass, the services being well attended and much appreciated. As in all the other churches special reference to the object of the day's selection and distinction from other days marked the services.

prayer by Rev. E. G. Hunt, of the Heath M. E. church, by the choir, "A Song of Thanksgiving," composed by Prof. Park of York, Nebraska. The singers were led by Prof. Quay, assisted by Prof. Wetzel, and their work was exceptionally well done. Miss Catherine Wells presided at the organ.

The services were closed by the choir and congregation singing the American anthem, "My Country 'Tis of Thee."

Makes Matters Worse—May Resign.

New York, Nov. 30.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from London says: Lord Mayor Newton's attempt to vindicate himself in court on charges of misrepresentation in a company promotion resulted in placing himself in such an unfavorable light that the general impression is that he will resign from the office which he only assumed two weeks ago.

Newton, with several others, attempted to float a year ago, a company called the Industrial Control Corporation, vendors. It had bought property for £17,000 and proposed to sell it to a new company for £43,000. The promoters figured, after paying all expenses, on making $19,000 net profit on the deal.

The specific charge against Newton is that he was both a vendor and a director in the new company. In plain words, by concealing the fact that he was a promoter, he deceived the men he induced to go into the new company with him and thus sold his own property to his own company, which is illegal.

When the lord mayor was installed in office the lord chief justice, in administering the oath, declared it devolved upon him to clear himself of these charges. The present action was a friendly one brought by the mayor to do this. Wm. Mendell, who was interested with Newton, testified to large payments to the press for favorable notices. This is what Holey did. The papers named are the Whitehall Review, the Saturday Review, the Financial Times, the Financial News, the Drapers' Record, the St. James Gazette, Today, the Rialto, the Observer, the Sunday Times and Truth.

The naming of the latter paper in this connection created considerable surprise, as Labouchere has always been a vigorous exposé of fraud. The lord mayor testified that he knew nothing of these payments. His testimony did not serve to clear himself much. The case will be continued next week.

AMERICA WOULD NOT GIVE AWAY ANYTHING.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 30.—Sir Louis Davies, Canadian minister of marine and fisheries, speaking at New Glasgow, referred to the Alaskan boundary dispute. He said he had been willing to settle the difference with the United States by a compromise, then by arbitration. Both were rejected by the Americans. Then he offered Dyea and Skagway, Canada, to keep Pyramid harbor. This also was declined. Further efforts would still be made for an amicable settlement. Sir Louis said Canada's position had been straightforward and statesmanlike.

NEW ORLEANS AT COLOMBO.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The cruiser New Orleans has arrived at Colombo on her way to Manila. This brings her up to the cruiser Brooklyn for the first time since their ocean race to the Philippines began. The Brooklyn arrived at Colombo yesterday and will sail probably in time to get away ahead of the New Orleans. The latter has been gaining of late, and has bettered her position by two days against the Brooklyn since leaving Aden. The indications are that the New Orleans will be the first to arrive at Manila.

STRIKE SETTLED.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 30.—A settlement satisfactory to both parties has been reached in the strike of the New York Central machinists at the Depew Locomotive works. The concessions granted by the company to the men are in substance: Recognition of the union, recognition of the shop committee, in the settlement of all disputes that may hereafter arise, and the liberty of the shop to the business agent of the union. The men will return to work tomorrow.
