Among Offenses Named Are Coward ice-Absence Without Leave.

Toledo, O., Jan. 25 .- Rules and regulations governing the alleged Black Hand organization, threatening letters to intended victims, selections from their voluminous correspondence to each other containing obscure references to their supposedly sinister relations, were presented at the trial of the 14 alleged Black Hand conspirators today. HOW BOY LEARNED OF HIS FATHER'S DEATH

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 26.—To verify his childish intuition that he was being kept in ignorance of the death of his parents, Jonnie Mahoney, 9 years old, stole from his bed at 2 o'clock yesterday morning, waited three hours on the front porch of his home until the morning paper came, and therein read the account of the automobile accident in which his father and mother were killed and his two sisters injured.

When the first news of the plunge of the Mahoney motor car over an embankment on Cliff Drive here Monday spread about, neighbors told little Johnnie the sad news. The boy became hysterical and in his grief struck his head against the walls of the house. It was feared he would injure himself, so he was told the first news was wrong, and that his father and mother had only been injured.

"But I know they were lying to me," said the lad frankly yesterday. "So I sneaked down to the porch and waited for the paper. Right on the front page was my papa's name and mama's and Mr. McGulro's and it said they had been killed."

Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 26 .-Grand Rapids, Mich., Jan. 26.—A puzzling dual personality has developed here in the case of a man who says he is Gabriel Strang, son of "King" Strang, the one-time Mormon ruler of the Beaver Islands in upper Lake Michigan. The police know the man under the alias of George Sage, who, they say, confessed to horsestealing after being seriously wounded in a running fight with officers near White Pigeon, this state, Jan. 1. Granite City, Ill., Jan. 26.—Yielding to the pleas of the mother of an 11-year-old girl who had been attacked that a lynching be prevented, Judge Edward Rigg last night ordered the release of a man held as a suspect in the case.

A mob was gathering about the jail at the time, bent on hanging the man. The girl, Grace Hendricks, was attacked as she was leaving a grocery by a white man who dragged her into a alley. Her cries frightened him

I felt as though new life had been given me, and I am recommending it to all my friends."—Mrs. W. S. Ford, 2207 W. Franklin St., Baltimore, Md. The most successful remedy in this country for the cure of all forms of female complaints is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It has stood the test of years and to-day is more widely and successfully used than any other female remedy. It has cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means had failed.

If you are suffering from any of these ailments, don't give up hope until you have given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. She has gulded thousands to health, free of charge. Mr. McMillan talked freely of the incidents during Col. Roosevelt's stay with him and told how the former president cast completely away all political cares.

"While at my ranch Col. Roosevelt did not read an American newspaper or magazine," said Mr. McMillan. "He continually refused to discuss national or international politics, aithough many residents of the neighborhood questioned him on these subjects.

"I am here for pleasure," was his answer to one and all. "When I return to the United States I will say what I think about the situation.

"Col. Roosevelt is a fair shot and not an extraordinary marksman," continued Mr. McMillan.

"Kermit is a better shot than his father, as Col. Roosevelt admits to everyone except Kermit. He is afraid the would make the young man think too much of himself to tell him so. It does not, however, take any wonderful marksmanship to hit an elephont or a rhinoceros."

HAS A MAN A RIGHT TO DISPOSE OF HIS BODY?

San Francisco, Jan. 26. San Francisco, Jan. 28.—That a man has no right to dispose of his body before his death is the contention made in a petition for the removal of the body of William A. Hoag filed today by a brother who is contesting the will in which Hoag specified that his body should rest in a $6,000 mausoleum, to be erected in a local cemetery. His brother filed a petition praying that he be permitted to take the ashes to Baltimore, Md.

was George Sage who stole horses. But both men lived in the same body. Since Strang has been imprisoned here, it has become known that he is the Charles Harris, who several years ago, presented the Grand Rapids public library with a collection of rare instorical books once the property of "King" Strang. Investigators of his past have also found that he is the same man who, moved by the ambition of a young girl who was anxious to secure an education, but whose family were unable to send her to college, himself paid her expenses through the Ypsilanti normal school and later through a college. These and many other stories of Strang's kindness have been substantiated. But in some way, George Sage got the better of Gabriel Strang and pulled him into trouble and now Gabriel Strang, capable business man, is waiting sentence as a self-confessed horse thief. They sat upon tables and ate from chairs, started a dance with the "home waltz," and ended with a grand march. Even waiters were affected. They wore false faces on the backs of their heads and re-versed their coats, buttoning them upon their backs. The invitations were written backwards to supper and the place cards were small folding mirrors with each name written back-wards and silpped inside. The menu was reversed, beginning with a demi-tasse of the blackest coffee and end-ing with grape fruit.

EXPECT WORLD TO COME TO AN END

South Northwalk, Conn., Jan. 26.—
Members of a religious body here are prepared to see the end of the world within a few days. They regard the falling of a meteor which dropped at Broad River yesterday as a sign from heaven, and have remained at prayer continuously since the phenomenon took place.

The aerolite landed with tremendous force in a truck garden, burning a hole several feet deep through the frozen ground. At the bottom of the hole nothing but dust was found.

Scots Celebrate Anniversary Of Birth of Robert Burns

The Thistle club of Salt Lake City held one of the largest and best gatherings of Scottish people and their friends last night in the Jennings hall that has ever been brought together on this oc casion in the city. An elaborate program of songs, recitations, step danc ing, bagpipe playing, whiled away the happy hours. President William Serv-ice of the Thistle club presided at the entertainment and made the introductory address. Nichol Hood acted as ductory address. Nichol Hood acted as master of ceremonies and called off the program. Thistle David Henderson, in a happy selection of prose and poetry, toasted "The Thistle Club," which was ably responded to by William Crawford Anderson. Mr. Anderson reviewed the poet's life and recited the composition of Robert G. Ingersoll on visiting and standing within the humble cot in which Burns was born. He also recited Burns' "Highland Mary" in a most feeling manner. Songs were rendered by Mrs. Nellie Haddow and Miss Claribel Gardiner, John Donaldson, J. R. Gilroy and Wm. Cook. Mr. Gilroy is a comparative stranger in Salt Lake and possesses a charming tenor voice. His rendition of "The Lea Rig" was much appreciated. Prof. Charles Kent rendered in his well known manner "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton." He was recalled twice and gave "Loch Lomond" and "Ye Banks and Braes o Bonnie Doon" as encores. Miss Bessie Craig was as dainty as ever in her Kiltle dancing. She was assisted by the Misses Service in their step dancing. Mrs. Lillian Hunter Coles was quite happy in "The Twa Courtins."

On this occasion the Thistle club had the services of Pipers McPhie, Hamilton and Craig, and to their inspiring airs the grand march was led off, followed by dancing.

The following poem, inscribed to the Thistle club, Salt Lake City, Jan. 25, 1910, was composed and read by David L. Murdoch and was much appreciated: Three bonnie pipers in a raw
