MAJOR CHANGES IN THE FRANCHISE

Knight Ordinance as Amended By Council Committee Looks Unlike Itself.

TERMINUS AT THIRD SOUTH

Use of Any Part of Line by Transcontinental System Restricted in Altered Provisions—Compensation Provided.

After the special committee, appointed to consider applications for franchise, finished amending the petition made by Jesse Knight of Provo for an interurban franchise from South Temple and First West street south to the city limits last night at its first meeting, it could not be recognized. The terminus was changed from South Temple street to Third South street on First West street. It is believed that the Knight people will figure on some arrangement with the Bamberger road to use the latter's loop east on Fourth South street to Main and then north to Postoffice street and then west on that street to West Temple street and then back to Fourth South street, then to First West and then south to the city limits. If that arrangement is made the Knight extra will only have to run up to Fourth South and First West streets.

The compensation to the city for the franchise was settled, but the question of handling freight on the line was not decided. This will be settled by the council after the amended application for a franchise is submitted to the promoters. An amendment was also made providing that the line or no part of it should be used for ingress or egress of a transcontinental road. The other amendments made were as follows:

"For in years this Knight company shall pay no revenue to Salt Lake, but for the remaining 40 years of the franchise the city shall receive a fee of 25 cents on every car entering and re-entering the city limits, statements to be made monthly to the city auditor, and payments to the treasurer annually."

"The of the interurban line to be set on a concrete base in the streets where there is asphalt pavement. And where the streets are not paved, the gravel to be kept flush with the rails and not an inch and a half below the rails."

"That the company file a bond of $50,000 with the city to guarantee the faithful performance of the terms of the agreement, this bond to be declared forfeited to the city when the terms are not followed."

"That the northern limit of the line be at Third South street, instead of Pierpont street, thus cutting off a half block."

"That no milk, butter and some other articles of freight be carried north of Ninth South street, and that heavy freight be not carried north of that point on First West street."

"That more definite information be given the city in regard to the proposed switches and eyes of the line."

"That all poles used be of steel with in the city limits, and all work be of span construction."

The Salt Lake franchise was taken up and read out. The committee met at 2 o'clock this afternoon after going over the route of the franchise.

WESTERN CATTLE SCARCE.
Well Known Buyer Says Famine Is Not Imminent, However.

"Cattle throughout the intermountain country are scarce just now, but I do not anticipate a meat famine," said J. W. Lindsay of Sterling, Colo., one of the cattle buyers who has been covering some of the western states the past six years. He is at the Kenyon. "Prices are high and continue to climb. Compared with a year ago, the cattle-growers ask us not less than $1.50 a hundred more on the hoof. On a 100-pound steer that means an advance of $15 five weeks ago, when investigations and strikes threatened the packing houses, I was in Kansas City and prices were $1.45 for a certain grade of beefers. Last week I was there and they were getting $1.65 for the same beefers. Fifteen years ago corn for fattening cattle could be had in the Mississippi valley for 12 cents a bushel, now it costs 70 cents—nearly three times as much."

"I have just returned from a trip through Kansas valley, in eastern Utah. Considering the condition of their stock, they are holding their own high, and made no purchases. I am now on my way to Ogden, and may go as far north as St. Anthony. I understand there have been some severe losses in Idaho, Nevada and some of the other surrounding states. Everything is covered for the moment. This will shorten up the supply from those states."

"What many Utah people consider beefers we term feeders, that is, if we purchase such stock as figure on feeding them. From 6 to 8 days before putting them on the market as prime steers. With corn at 10 cents, this costs about 45 cents a day, or per head or about $5 a month each, which soon eats into the profits. A thousand pound beef should take on 200 to 250 pounds in 10 days, which is about 25 pounds a day. Last fall I rounded up two trainloads in southern Utah, and shipped them to Montana and a fairly good bunch it was, too. At Kansas the stockmen asked $5 a hundred on foot. I offered them $4.75, a difference of 25 cents only, but the cattle out there generally would require considerable corn feeding, and I had to figure on that in my price."

NEW BLOCK FOR STATE STREET
A $25,000 modern, three-story structure will presently be erected by J. J. Snell at 223 South State, on the present site of the La Vista theater. The lower floors will be for stores; the upper for a rooming house. The building will be 25 by 50 feet. The work of renovating the rear of part of the structure now occupying the ground will begin at once, but a permit will be taken out for the erection of a modern building on the ground.

OGDEN BUYS COAL AT A LOWER RATE

Letter and Company's Statement Offered to Show the Difference Happens to Exist.

A correspondent draws attention to the fact that coal which is hauled through Salt Lake to Ogden is being sold in the latter city 25 cents cheaper by the ton than it is in this city, or, in reality, when the cost of the haul is taken into consideration, 65 cents a ton less. The writer says:

"I understand that the Bamberger Coal company of this city is charging its $3.75 per ton for Utah coal, Castle Gate and Clear Creek, and at the same time hauls the same kinds of coal from Salt Lake to Ogden over its own road, at his own expense, and sells for 25 cents per ton less."

"Are the people of Ogden more favored than we? If not, why the preference?"

The foregoing self-explanatory letter was shown to Manager Midgley of the Bamberger Coal company, who answered as follows:

"Yes, that is so as far as the prices are concerned. We get 40 cents a ton haulage from Salt Lake to Ogden. And in starting up a new company we found it necessary to forego the profits to get the thing running. We do not pretend to make money on it here, we are now simply working up the business."

"I was up there some time ago, and found some of the coal dealers charging but $5.50 a ton, and then, under the circumstances, we met this price, and are giving everybody the benefit. Of course this letter is dictated by someone in the coal business who hopes to injure us in some way."

WANT TO BUILD BOULEVARD.
Real Estate Association Asks Council To Stop War Secretary.

At the luncheon of the Salt Lake Real Estate association at the Commercial club the fact was brought up that an action had been taken by the secretary of war relative to permission granted by Congress to the city of Salt Lake to extend the boulevard through the military reservation to Fort Douglas. A resolution was adopted calling attention to the fact that in January 1907 the mayor and city council of Salt Lake City memorialized Congress to grant the authority to construct a boulevard through the military reservation of Fort Douglas, Utah, from Popper Point, now known as Newhouse park, to a point just north of Ninth South street. In response thereto, Congress by an act approved Feb. 25, 1907, granted such authority.

The commanding officer at Fort Douglas has received no communication disclosing any action of the secretary of war in the premises. The mayor and city council are requested by the association to request the secretary of war to authorize the city council to construct and maintain the boulevard referred to.
